Col. Nasser To Be Egypt's New Military Ruler

CAIRO, Egypt, Sun., April 18 (AP)—Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser emerged in the powerful role of premier and military governor of revolutionary Egypt today. He assigned a new Cabinet minister of "presidential affairs" to look after Egypt's President Mohamed Naguib.

A Revolution Council announcement after an overnight meeting broke up today said the ill and faltering Naguib has resigned as premier but would remain as president of the republic. It said Naguib asked Nasser to take over as premier.

The presidency without control over the Cabinet or the all-powerful eleven young officers on the Revolution Council, becomes largely a figurehead post.

The new Cabinet is substantially the same as Naguib's with two significant exceptions:

Wing Cmdr. Hassan Ibrahim becomes minister of state in charge of presidential affairs;

Lt. Col. Hussein El Shafei becomes minister of war in place of Wing Cmdr. Abdel Latif Baghdadi, who has been shifted to the Rural Affairs Ministry.

Nasser, a strong silent type in contrast to the gregarious Naguib, had served as vice premier, but he actually has been the big power throughout the Egyptian revolution.

The decisive meeting raising Nasser to premier was held in the home of a powerful Council member, Wing Cmdr. Gamal Salem. His brother, Maj. Salah Salem, national guidance minister and firebrand opponent of Naguib, made the announcement of the outcome.

Salah Salem announced the first Cabinet meeting under Nasser as premier would be held Sunday evening. This is expected to name Nasser military governor of Egypt, a job that goes automatically with the premiership.

Naguib has been reported ailing

McCarthy Still Insists On Right To Cross-Examine

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was reported today to be determined to appeal to the Senate any move to bump him off the Senate Investigations subcommittee while it probes his row with top Army officials.

A source close to McCarthy, unwilling to be quoted by name, said that "if they try to put him off the committee, he will take it to the Senate floor."

McCarthy is expected to return from a Texas vacation in time to meet with subcommittee members Monday for a discussion of his role in the probe.

Although McCarthy has turned over the chairmanship of the subcommittee to Sen. Mundt (R-SD) and has announced he will not vote, he has insisted he should have the right to cross-examine witnesses. He also has urged that the Army be accorded the same privilege.

Mundt said yesterday, however, that he hoped McCarthy would agree to step aside and let the questioning of witnesses be done by the other members of the subcommittee and their special counsel, Ray H. Jenkins.

Some members of the subcommittee have indicated privately that if McCarthy is unwilling to withdraw entirely as a member for the duration of the probe, they feel the issue should be taken to the Senate itself for a decision.

Should either McCarthy or another member appeal to the Senate, it seemed almost certain that the subcommittee would be forced to delay the start of its televised, public hearings. They are scheduled to begin Thursday.

Mundt was still hopeful, however, that agreement on procedure could be reached and that no delay in getting the hearings underway would be encountered.

He suggested that both McCarthy and Army officials should follow the subcommittee's regular rules under which witnesses may submit written questions for cross-examination but may not themselves participate in cross-examination.

M'Keithen To Run For Public Service Board

JOHN J. M'KEITHEN

COLUMBIA, April 17 (Special)—John J. McKeithen, Columbia attorney and former state legislator, today announced as a candidate for commissioner of the third public service commission district in the forthcoming July primary.

In making his announcement, McKeithen said:

"Six years ago, when the present public service commissioner ran for office, his platform contained the following proposals:

1. To reduce telephone rates.
2. To reduce the price of butane gas.
3. To retain mail and passenger service, and
4. To work for the interests of the citizens of this district.

This was a good platform and met a favorable reception from the electorate. Notwithstanding this platform, however, he has consistently voted to increase telephone rates, has failed to effect any reduction of butane gas prices, and has allowed our mail and passenger service to be discontinued in many areas.

I feel that the people of this district are entitled to a different type of representation on the Louisiana public service commission.

If elected your public service commissioner, I promise to commence an energetic campaign (1) to secure a reduction in the telephone rates of this state, (2) to obtain relief from the high butane gas prices, (3) to restore mail and passenger service in every possible area, and (4) to vigorously work for the extension of rural telephone service. I intend to establish a public service commission office staffed by employes of the commission located within the district, who will be available to you personally."

LONDON, Ont., April 17—UP—Officials at Huron College, a school which trains students for the Anglican ministry, disclosed Saturday that 26 students had been fined $50 each for a panty raid on a girl's dormitory last Wednesday.

2 New Atomic Rockets Now In Hands Of Army

Guided Missile Is Believed To Carry 100 Miles

WASHINGTON, April 17—UP— The Army disclosed Saturday that it has multiplied its battlefield atomic firepower with two rocket weapons including a long-range guided missile possessing "several times the speed of sound."

Both are superior to the Army's 280-mm atomic cannon and both are being delivered to troops for tactical support of ground fighting. Both, the Army said, can carry atomic or conventional warheads. They are:

1. The Corporal, an electronically directed missile capable of striking "selected targets deep in the enemy rear areas." It is believed to have a range of at least 100 miles — compared to the atomic cannon's 20 miles — and a speed upwards of 2,000 miles an hour. The Army said its range was "far beyond" the atomic cannon's and that it plunges "through space at several times the speed of sound."

2. The "Honest John" artillery rocket. The Army said it is a free flight rocket with no electrical control, has a range comparable to that of medium to heavy artillery, is simple to operate, and "has considerably more battlefield mobility" than conventional cannon. Its caliber is so great that, using ordinary explosives, it "can deliver on target the demolition effect of hundreds of artillery shells."

The Army said the Corporal and Honest John are the latest additions to "the fast-growing list of new weapons to be used in support of ground combat operations."

The Atomic Energy Commission is understood to be manufacturing warheads for these weapons as well as for the 280-mm cannon and such other atomic weapons as the Air Force's radio - controlled pilotless bomber, the Matados.

Both the Matador and the atomic cannon are now doing defense duty in Europe. Other remotely controlled atomic weapons in or nearing production include the Navy's Regulus, a pilotless jet plane capable of being "fired" from submarines and ships, and the Air Force Rascal, designed for launching from big bombers. The Rascal is understood to be capable of hitting a target 100 miles from the other plane. It may be susceptible to modification as an H-bomb carrier.

Monroe Man Is Accused In Clinic $1,346 Burglary

George O. Dyer, 28-year-old Monroe man, was arrested by city detectives here Saturday morning and charged with the $1,346 burglary of an office at the Wright - Bendel Clinic.

Detective Capt. H. M. Johnson reported Dyer as picked up in a vacant house on Polk Street after officers receive information he was living in the house, and Dyer admitted the burglary.

Johnson said part of the money was recovered.

The burglary occurred sometime Thursday night at the Wright- Bendel Clinic. The burglar entered the building, broke into an office and made off with a metal box containing the cash and checks.

Searchers Find Body Of 4-Year-Old Boy In Woods

CROCKETT, Tex., April 17—UP—Four-year-old Joe Davis, who vanished in a 1,000 acre forest Friday after his mother spanked him, was found dead Saturday, lying face down in the cold mud of Elkhart Creek.

Searchers believed that Joe, who ran off barefooted, wearing only a T-shirt and boxer shorts, died of exposure in the fog and bitter cold. His T-shirt had been torn off and he had tried to wrap it around him.

There were signs that he had fallen down the creek bank into the softmud and had gotten up and tried to struggle on, only to fall down and finally die.

There was no sign he had been in the water. The creek is about six miles north of where the Davis family lives, in the community of Wesley Chapel.

The discovery of his body ended a search by 200 persons — half of them National Guardsmen, highway patrolmen, Forest Service men and Liquor Control Board agents, ordered out by Gov. Allan Shivers.

The searchers had walked all around him during Friday night, when they were shivering in blanket-lined coats. His mother, Mrs. Phineas Davis, who had been in the woods since he was missing,

10 Nations To Discuss Asian Pact

WASHINGTON, April 17—UP—The 10 nations of the proposed southeast Asia defense pact will begin secret meetings here next week in an effort to weld a united front against Communist aggression before the Geneva Far East conference opens on April 26.

Diplomatic informants said U. S. officials plan to begin talks Tuesday with representatives of Britain, France, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, and the three associated states of Indo-China, Laos, Cambodia, and Viet Nam.

These informants emphasized there is no thought of actually signing a southeast Asia alliance in advance of the Geneva conference. But U. S. officials want the prospective Allies to agree now on an "emergency plan" of joint action in case Red China provokes a crisis in Indo-China or elsewhere in the Far East before the pact is signed.

They also hope that the meetings will make it possible for the free nations to put up a "solid front" in the Geneva negotiations with Russia and Red China on Indo-China and Korea.

A high administration source said the United States will oppose any move at the Geneva meeting to "give up an inch" of soil in Korea or Indo-China as the price for a "peace" agreement with the Reds.

He said the firm American stand against territorial grants has been approved by the National Security Council, the top-level body that shapes U. S. foreign policy under the guidance of President Eisenhower.

Word of the U. S. attitude has been communicated already to Britain, France, and other Allied countries by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and his top aides.

French Launch Bayonet Attack Against Rebels

HANOI, Indochina, April 17 (AP)—French foot troops lunged out of Dien Bien Phu today in a desperate attempt to bayonet Red - led Vietminh from their entrenchments 800 yards from the heart of the embattled bastion.

On the heels of the bayonet attacks, Union infantry peppered the encircled Rebels with grenades and machine gun fire, killing at least 20. But a French command spokesman said the Vietminh still clung to the trenches they dug along the vital air strip two days ago.

While hand to hand fighting raged along the fringes of the bastion's barbed wire defenses, waves of Dakotas and Flying Box Cars ranged overhead parachuting men and equipment to the harried garrison braced for a long awaited mass rebel assault.

The high command said "volunteer paratroopers" had been dropped into the fortress. He said this was not because the French lacked regular paratroopers, but to help conserve their reserves.

Easter Celebration To Be World-Wide

Millions Plan Attendance At Joyful Rites

Many To Gather In Outdoors For Devotionals

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—In song, prayer and pageant the glory of Easter will be celebrated around the world today.

And while Christians rejoice in the risen Christ, those of the Jewish faith—by rare coincidence—will be celebrating the escape of the Israelites from Egypt in an even earlier era.

But once again, as in centuries gone by, the joy of the occasions is clouded by the age-old question: Will man ever learn to live in peace with his fellows?

With the dawn of the H-bomb age—an epoch in which mankind may have devised a means of destroying itself—the Christian world now more than ever turns to the message of the Saviour for peace as well as salvation.

High leaders and ordinary citizens alike join in tomorrow's prayer and meditation.

President Eisenhower, a key political figure in the world's hope for peace, will attend services at Augusta, Ga. Pope Pius XII, one of the world's foremost spiritual leaders, will impart a benedicition to the world in Rome.

In old Jerusalem, the site of the crucifixion and resurrection, church bells as usual will call worshippers to the Easter services.

In many another country, the faithful will gather, some in the familiar, comforting confines of their own churches and many in the awesome splendor of great outdoor amphitheaters.

At sundown today began the Jewish celebration of the escape from Egypt with the traditional first night Seder, or Passover feast.

Some Jewish groups celebrate for eight days, with two Seders. Others continue the observance for seven days, with one Seder.

Dates of the Christian feast of Easter and the Jewish Feast of Passover last coincided in 1923 and 1927. This will not occur again until 1981.

Many impressive services have been arranged throughout the United States for Easter Sunday observances, and millions of worshippers will attend. The grandeur of mountain ranges and wonders of nature will form backdrops for some of the sunrise outdoor rites.

Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona will conduct one such service at the shrine of ages on the south rim of the Grand Canyon.

The service will be broadcast through facilities of the National Broadcasting Co., the Voice of America and the Canadian Broadcasting System.

With clear and sunny weather predicted for most of the nation, throngs are expected to gather for many other outdoor observances.

Some of these will be on the summit of Hot Springs Mountain in Arkansas, at Virginia's Natural Bridge near Roanoke, the Garden of the Gods near Colorado Springs, the summit of Mt. Davidson at San Francisco, and Death Valley National Monument.

At Lawton, Okla., 50,000 to 100,000 persons are expected for the

Ike To Speak At Editors' Meeting

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 17—UP—President Eisenhower will make a new appeal next week for international understanding and co-operative peace to replace the present "atomic hysteria and horror."

The President will direct this appeal to members of the American Newspaper Publishers association in a speech in New York next Thursday night.

Earlier Saturday the White House disclosed that the President has sent a personal salute to the French defenders of Dien Bien Phu for showing the type of bravery "on which the free world depends for survival."

Deficit Financing Seen As Possible Way To Avoid Boosts In State Taxes

BATON ROUGE, (AP)—A possible deficit financing approach by employing part of an expected 27-to-30 million dollar general fund surplus may ease legislative anxiety over how to find enough money to meet increased budgets without raising taxes.

Weeks ago, preliminary state budget demands towered some 65 million dollars above anticipated revenues for the next two fiscal years.

The amount was enough to cause the hair of some fiscal lawmakers to stand straight up in shock.

Informed sources now report the state budgets have been whittled for the moment to where they total about 20-to-25 million dollars above anticipated revenues.

Thus, the 1954-56 state budget could be balanced with help of the available funds that will be in the general fund surplus next June 30.

But finance officers want 15 million dollars to remain in the general fund surplus as a fiscal cushion. To manage this 15 million, further cuts may have to be made in budgets before the general appropriations bill finally goes to press for the Legislature.

Until the Legislature convenes, the state budget office will be over its ears in figures, constantly reviewing estimates of anticipated revenues and reviewing budgets.

Nobody, apparently, has come to a definite determination at this time about what should be done. The entire problem of meeting budget demands is still in the budget office and the Joint Fiscal Committee.

When you dip into surplus funds for operating expenses, that's deficit financing.

Most state agencies are financed from the general fund, into which state revenues flow.

It usually is not considered sound financial practice to make use of surplus funds to meet operating expenses.

For one reason, this tends to build up the level of state spending to the day when the state might no longer find surplus revenues handy like apples on trees.

Gov. Robert Kennon this week reminded that state revenues, climbing merrily for years, are leveling off now. He said the state must expect to live during the coming two years on about the income level of the past fiscal year.

4 Persons Hurt, 1 Seriously, In Auto Crash Here

Four persons were injured, one of them seriously, about 4:30 p.m. yesterday, when two cars collided in the 2300 block of Louisville Avenue.

According to Sgt. Sidney Martin, Monroe Traffic Department, who investigated the accident, Mrs. Vada Bryan, 81, of 300 McKinley Street, was traveling west on Louisville Avenue, when she attempted to turn off the highway into a service station, and collided with a west bound car driven by O. B. Thompson, 35, of 205 Pine Street.

Mrs. Bryan, Thompson, Thompson's wife, and four-year-old Suzzanne Phelps, 1403 McGuire Ave., a passenger in the Thompson car, were taken to St. Francis Sanitarium.

Mrs. Thompson was reported in a serious condition due to a severe neck cut received when her head went through the windshield. She also suffered right leg and head injuries.

Mrs. Bryan was treated for injuries of both legs and her right arm. Thompson suffered facial cuts. Suzzanne Phelps suffered a cut right hand and bruises. All three were released after treatment.

Damage was estimated at $500 to each car.

New Orleans Stable Boy Admits He Burned Barn

BOSTON, April 17 (AP) —Police said a 16-year-old stable boy from New Orleans confessed today he set a fire which destroyed a large barn and four race horses at Suffolk Downs race track last night.

A stablehand and a firefighter were injured fighting the blaze.

The stable boy, who identified himself as Samuel White Jr., was booked on a charge of arson and held for arraignment in Chelsea District Court.

Lt. Jeremiah Sullivan of the Massachusetts State Fire Marshal's office said White told him he threw straw in a corner of the barn and tossed a lighted match into it. He said he meant to burn down the barn but did not intend to harm the horses.

White helped to rescue a number of horses and in doing so lost all his clothes in the blaze except those he had on.

William Ressequet of New Orleans, who owned three of the horses lost in the fire, told police he discharged White for mistreating a mount.

Meanwhile a check at Suffolk Downs, which opens its spring meeting Monday, showed that one horse, the Revel Stable's 5-year-old Shell Diver, was missing. In the rush to get horses out of the burning stalls he evidently slipped out the gate.

The horses that perished were the Revel Stable's Gray Cotton, valued by owner Russell Gruber of New Orleans, at $10,000, and Ressequet's Hopeful Sue, Unkie B., a Baby's Bid, valued by their owner at $5,000 each.

Plans Drawn For Evacuation By July, 1955

Army, Air Force Behind Move To Shift Soldiers

WASHINGTON, April 17—UP—The Army and Air Force have drawn up plans to withdraw virtually all combat units from Korea in the year beginning July 1, it was learned Saturday.

The plans are still tentative. Whether they will be carried out depends upon the outcome of the forthcoming Geneva Conference on Korea and Indo-China.

Withdrawal of Army and Air Force units would be in line with the administration's policy of disengaging U. S. forces from such areas as Korea so they could be in a more mobile position to meet Communist aggression anywhere in the world.

The Army, which faces a cut in strength from 20 to 17 divisions, already has announced a decision to pull two National Guard divisions out of Korea and return them to state control. The return of the 45th Division is nearly completed, and the 40th Division is due to leave the Far East shortly.

The Army now has seven divisions in the Far East, of which five are stationed in Korea. In addition there are two Marine Corps divisions in the Far East.

One plan advanced by the Army is understood to call for leaving only one Army division in Korea by June, 1955. In addition there would be one Marine corps division, one United Nations division and 20 South Korean divisions.

Other Army plans which have been outlined to the joint chiefs of staff call for even less U. S. military strength in Korea by next summer and some for slightly more.

Military leaders, however, are said to be postponing any decision on the plans until there is some indication from the Geneva Conference as to the future in Korea.

Military and diplomatic officials are frankly pessmistic that any agreement can be reached at Geneva which will end the partition of Korea or allow withdrawal of foreign troops.

Even if Korea remains divided, however, there is some feeling in the Pentagon that a gradual withdrawal of U. S. troops will be possible, though perhaps not to the extent outlined in the present tentative army plans. This view is based on the growing strength of the South Korean army which shortly will have 20 combat-ready divisions.

The Air Force withdrawal plan was tipped off in an obscure passage in almost 1,000 pages of congressional testimony on the proposed $11.2 billion Air Force budget for the 1955 fiscal year starting July 1. It was confirmed in more detail by Pentagon sources, who also disclosed the Army plans.

Diplomatic informants said U. S. officials plan to begin talks Tuesday with representatives of Britain, France, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, and the three associated states of Indo-China, Laos, Cambodia, and Viet Nam.

These informants emphasized there is no thought of actually signing a southeast Asia alliance in advance of the Geneva conference. But U. S. officials want the prospective Allies to agree now on an "emergency plan" of joint action in case Red China provokes a crisis in Indo-China or elsewhere in the Far East before the pact is signed.

They also hope that the meetings will make it possible for the free nations to put up a "solid front" in the Geneva negotiations with Russia and Red China on Indo-China and Korea.

A high administration source said the United States will oppose any move at the Geneva meeting to "give up an inch" of soil in Korea or Indo-China as the price for a "peace" agreement with the Reds.

He said the firm American stand against territorial grants has been approved by the National Security Council, the top-level body that shapes U. S. foreign policy under the guidance of President Eisenhower.

Word of the U. S. attitude has been communicated already to Britain, France, and other Allied countries by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and his top aides.

French Launch Bayonet Attack Against Rebels

HANOI, Indochina, April 17 (AP)—French foot troops lunged out of Dien Bien Phu today in a desperate attempt to bayonet Red - led Vietminh from their entrenchments 800 yards from the heart of the embattled bastion.

On the heels of the bayonet attacks, Union infantry peppered the encircled Rebels with grenades and machine gun fire, killing at least 20. But a French command spokesman said the Vietminh still clung to the trenches they dug along the vital air strip two days ago.

While hand to hand fighting raged along the fringes of the bastion's barbed wire defenses, waves of Dakotas and Flying Box Cars ranged overhead parachuting men and equipment to the harried garrison braced for a long awaited mass rebel assault.

The high command said "volunteer paratroopers" had been dropped into the fortress. He said this was not because the French lacked regular paratroopers, but to help conserve their reserves.

Easter Celebration To Be World-Wide

Many To Gather In Outdoors For Devotionals

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—In song, prayer and pageant the glory of Easter will be celebrated around the world today.

And while Christians rejoice in the risen Christ, those of the Jewish faith—by rare coincidence—will be celebrating the escape of the Israelites from Egypt in an even earlier era.

But once again, as in centuries gone by, the joy of the occasions is clouded by the age-old question: Will man ever learn to live in peace with his fellows?

With the dawn of the H-bomb age—an epoch in which mankind may have devised a means of destroying itself—the Christian world now more than ever turns to the message of the Saviour for peace as well as salvation.

High leaders and ordinary citizens alike join in tomorrow's prayer and meditation.

President Eisenhower, a key political figure in the world's hope for peace, will attend services at Augusta, Ga. Pope Pius XII, one of the world's foremost spiritual leaders, will impart a benedicition to the world in Rome.

In old Jerusalem, the site of the crucifixion and resurrection, church bells as usual will call worshippers to the Easter services.

In many another country, the faithful will gather, some in the familiar, comforting confines of their own churches and many in the awesome splendor of great outdoor amphitheaters.

At sundown today began the Jewish celebration of the escape from Egypt with the traditional first night Seder, or Passover feast.

Some Jewish groups celebrate for eight days, with two Seders. Others continue the observance for seven days, with one Seder.

Dates of the Christian feast of Easter and the Jewish Feast of Passover last coincided in 1923 and 1927. This will not occur again until 1981.

Many impressive services have been arranged throughout the United States for Easter Sunday observances, and millions of worshippers will attend. The grandeur of mountain ranges and wonders of nature will form backdrops for some of the sunrise outdoor rites.

Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona will conduct one such service at the shrine of ages on the south rim of the Grand Canyon.

The service will be broadcast through facilities of the National Broadcasting Co., the Voice of America and the Canadian Broadcasting System.

With clear and sunny weather predicted for most of the nation, throngs are expected to gather for many other outdoor observances.

Some of these will be on the summit of Hot Springs Mountain in Arkansas, at Virginia's Natural Bridge near Roanoke, the Garden of the Gods near Colorado Springs, the summit of Mt. Davidson at San Francisco, and Death Valley National Monument.

At Lawton, Okla., 50,000 to 100,000 persons are expected for the

Ike To Speak At Editors' Meeting

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 17—UP—President Eisenhower will make a new appeal next week for international understanding and co-operative peace to replace the present "atomic hysteria and horror."

The President will direct this appeal to members of the American Newspaper Publishers association in a speech in New York next Thursday night.

Earlier Saturday the White House disclosed that the President has sent a personal salute to the French defenders of Dien Bien Phu for showing the type of bravery "on which the free world depends for survival."

Deficit Financing Seen As Possible Way To Avoid Boosts In State Taxes

BATON ROUGE, (AP)—A possible deficit financing approach by employing part of an expected 27-to-30 million dollar general fund surplus may ease legislative anxiety over how to find enough money to meet increased budgets without raising taxes.

Weeks ago, preliminary state budget demands towered some 65 million dollars above anticipated revenues for the next two fiscal years.

The amount was enough to cause the hair of some fiscal lawmakers to stand straight up in shock.

Informed sources now report the state budgets have been whittled for the moment to where they total about 20-to-25 million dollars above anticipated revenues.

Thus, the 1954-56 state budget could be balanced with help of the available funds that will be in the general fund surplus next June 30.

But finance officers want 15 million dollars to remain in the general fund surplus as a fiscal cushion. To manage this 15 million, further cuts may have to be made in budgets before the general appropriations bill finally goes to press for the Legislature.

Until the Legislature convenes, the state budget office will be over its ears in figures, constantly reviewing estimates of anticipated revenues and reviewing budgets.

Nobody, apparently, has come to a definite determination at this time about what should be done. The entire problem of meeting budget demands is still in the groping-around stage in both the budget office and the Joint Fiscal Committee.

When you dip into surplus funds for operating expenses, that's deficit financing.

Most state agencies are financed from the general fund, into which state revenues flow.

It usually is not considered sound financial practice to make use of surplus funds to meet operating expenses.

For one reason, this tends to build up the level of state spending to the day when the state might no longer find surplus revenues handy like apples on trees.

Gov. Robert Kennon this week reminded that state revenues, climbing merrily for years, are leveling off now. He said the state must expect to live during the coming two years on about the income level of the past fiscal year.

4 Persons Hurt, 1 Seriously, In Auto Crash Here

Four persons were injured, one of them seriously, about 4:30 p.m. yesterday, when two cars collided in the 2300 block of Louisville Avenue.

According to Sgt. Sidney Martin, Monroe Traffic Department, who investigated the accident, Mrs. Vada Bryan, 81, of 300 McKinley Street, was traveling west on Louisville Avenue, when she attempted to turn off the highway into a service station, and collided with a west bound car driven by O. B. Thompson, 35, of 205 Pine Street.

Mrs. Bryan, Thompson, Thompson's wife, and four-year-old Suzzanne Phelps, 1403 McGuire Ave., a passenger in the Thompson car, were taken to St. Francis Sanitarium.

Mrs. Thompson was reported in a serious condition due to a severe neck cut received when her head went through the windshield. She also suffered right leg and head injuries.

Mrs. Bryan was treated for injuries of both legs and her right arm. Thompson suffered facial cuts. Suzzanne Phelps suffered a cut right hand and bruises. All three were released after treatment.

Damage was estimated at $500 to each car.

4 Race Horses Destroyed In Fire

New Orleans Stable Boy Admits He Burned Barn

BOSTON, April 17 (AP) —Police said a 16-year-old stable boy from New Orleans confessed today he set a fire which destroyed a large barn and four race horses at Suffolk Downs race track last night.

A stablehand and a firefighter were injured fighting the blaze.

The stable boy, who identified himself as Samuel White Jr., was booked on a charge of arson and held for arraignment in Chelsea District Court.

Lt. Jeremiah Sullivan of the Massachusetts State Fire Marshal's office said White told him he threw straw in a corner of the barn and tossed a lighted match into it. He said he meant to burn down the barn but did not intend to harm the horses.

White helped to rescue a number of horses and in doing so lost all his clothes in the blaze except those he had on.

William Ressequet of New Orleans, who owned three of the horses lost in the fire, told police he discharged White for mistreating a mount.

Meanwhile a check at Suffolk Downs, which opens its spring meeting Monday, showed that one horse, the Revel Stable's 5-year-old Shell Diver, was missing. In the rush to get horses out of the burning stalls he evidently slipped out the gate.

The horses that perished were the Revel Stable's Gray Cotton, valued by owner Russell Gruber of New Orleans, at $10,000, and Ressequet's Hopeful Sue, Unkie B., a Baby's Bid, valued by their owner at $5,000 each.

Plans Drawn For Evacuation By July, 1955

Army, Air Force Behind Move To Shift Soldiers

WASHINGTON, April 17—UP—The Army and Air Force have drawn up plans to withdraw virtually all combat units from Korea in the year beginning July 1, it was learned Saturday.

The plans are still tentative. Whether they will be carried out depends upon the outcome of the forthcoming Geneva Conference on Korea and Indo-China.

Withdrawal of Army and Air Force units would be in line with the administration's policy of disengaging U. S. forces from such areas as Korea so they could be in a more mobile position to meet Communist aggression anywhere in the world.

The Army, which faces a cut in strength from 20 to 17 divisions, already has announced a decision to pull two National Guard divisions out of Korea and return them to state control. The return of the 45th Division is nearly completed, and the 40th Division is due to leave the Far East shortly.

The Army now has seven divisions in the Far East, of which five are stationed in Korea. In addition there are two Marine Corps divisions in the Far East.

One plan advanced by the Army is understood to call for leaving only one Army division in Korea by June, 1955. In addition there would be one Marine corps division, one United Nations division and 20 South Korean divisions.

Other Army plans which have been outlined to the joint chiefs of staff call for even less U. S. military strength in Korea by next summer and some for slightly more.

Military leaders, however, are said to be postponing any decision on the plans until there is some indication from the Geneva Conference as to the future in Korea.

Military and diplomatic officials are frankly pessmistic that any agreement can be reached at Geneva which will end the partition of Korea or allow withdrawal of foreign troops.

Even if Korea remains divided, however, there is some feeling in the Pentagon that a gradual withdrawal of U. S. troops will be possible, though perhaps not to the extent outlined in the present tentative army plans. This view is based on the growing strength of the South Korean army which shortly will have 20 combat-ready divisions.

The Air Force withdrawal plan was tipped off in an obscure passage in almost 1,000 pages of congressional testimony on the proposed $11.2 billion Air Force budget for the 1955 fiscal year starting July 1. It was confirmed in more detail by Pentagon sources, who also disclosed the Army plans.

This is the immortal season when all the verities of life become deified by reality. Those things which seemed dead slowly emerge from their long sleep and smile up to a caressing sun.

Across the nation, in every tiny hamlet and in every city park and through the still tranquility of virgin forests, there is a miraculous awakening. Fields that have been shadowed by the cycle of time breathe again as green things spread across each fertile breast.

Look Magazine Safety Man On Visit To Monroe

Jim Williams, executive secretary of the Monroe - West Monroe Chamber of Commerce, and members of the traffic planning committee played host to Woody Kingman, "Operation Safety" coordinator for Look magazine, Friday when the magazine official visited Monroe on a flying trip to investigate the program of the local committee on the "Operation Safety' campaign.

"Your city of Monroe - West Monroe," Kingman said, "was among the last of the 25 invited throughout the United States, who accepted our invitation to participate in this project."

It as brought out by Kingman that usually a 90 - day planning period was engaged in by cities that were sponsoring the project. However, the Look official was "impressed" with the terrific amount of know - how and planning that had been accomplished by the Chamber of Commerce traffic committee during their initial 3 weeks of preparations.

"I certainly want to commend," Kingman said, "the fine work of H. M. James and O. N. McNeil on the check lane work; and also recognize the far ranging plans that have been set up by the special events, display and publicity sub-committees in conjunction with this project."

Chairman Harry Frazer, who is coordinating the May operation safety project, stated that the immediate objective of the safety lane check project was to "induce the driver to act upon one specific phase of the traffic problem. That is, to have 10 major safety features of his car checked — and, to accept the moral responsibilities of having his car passed in good condition if mechanical repair is needed.

"These 10 major safety features," Frazer said, "brakes, horn, head lights, tires, steering, exhaust, glass, rear view mirror, wipers and rear lights."

Chamber authorities voiced the opinion that the long range objective of the project would instill in every driver a greater appreciation and acceptance of his own responsibility for the safety of everyone in traffic.

"We are in the process of establishing 3 major check lane sites in Monroe and West Monroe," Check Lane Chairman H. M. James stated, "and it will be our aim to check as many vehicles as possible during the May 3-7 operation safety project."

At a special report meeting held late Friday it was brought out that actual on the spot 10 point checks had been conducted by the safety lane committee in "mock - exercises" and that the interval of time required was an amazing three minutes flat.

This means that with three check lanes we will be aiming at approximately 3,000 - 4,000 automobiles to utilize our safety check program.

Bond Issues Explained By School Board

WINNSBORO, April 17 (Special) —W. B. Glover, superintendent of Franklin parish schools; Bailey Martin, school board president, and school board members A. J. Ensminger, Rufus Ezell, T. L. Reeves, R. R. Marshall, Guy McLain, Dennis Williams, Buie Scriber, R. F. Kincaid and H. B. Wiggers have listed the following reasons why every taxpaying voter should go to the polls on Tuesday, April 20, and vote for the $1,220,000 in bond issues. $950,000 is a parish wide bond issue to be used mostly for Negro schools and $270,000 is divided into four district bond issues for white schools.

"The Negro schools in Franklin parish are not adequate and the new buildings are needed to bring them up to standard.

"Our Negro population desires that segregation be maintained. The one way to maintain segregation is to equalize school facilities in the parish.

"Some of our white schools need repairs and new equipment. The taxpayers in Ward 1, Ward 4, Ward 6, and Ward 7 should support the bond election in their respective wards to make the needed repairs.

"This school program can be financed without harming the economy of our parish.

"Good schools with efficient facilities bring industries and good citizens to our parish.

"When the educational level of the people is lifted, the purchasing power increases.

"When the Negro schools are built, they will be equipped with agricultural work shops where pupils and adults can be taught farm mechanics and tractor mechanics.

"At the present time the bonded indebtedness for Franklin Parish Schools is a little over seven per cent of the assessed valuation of our property. The law allows up to twenty per cent.

"With the proposed parish wide issue and the district issues, the per cent of bonded indebtedness will be much less than the constitutional limit."

Stipulation Asked On Constitution Adoption

In a statement issued here Saturday, the League of Women Voters stated that "the call for a constitutional convention should stipulate definite means of adoption. The statement follows:

"The call for a constitutional convention should state whether the new constitution should be adopted by the convention, or by ratification by the people, the League of Women Voters contends. The method should not be left to the convention to decide as provided in the call drawn up by the Louisiana Bar Association for introduction in the 1954 legislature. To leave this unsettled in the call will result in the convention members wasting time debating the matter, and if left to the end of the convention will give a degree of uncertainty throughout the convention as to how to write various parts of the new draft. Furthermore, the referendum on the call is much more likely to be defeated by the many confused voters who will vote against it simply because they cannot decide on unknown conditions, especially since the delegates will not be known until after their vote on the call.

"The provisions of the bar association bill for calling a constitutional convention agree closely with league recommendations, with the important exception that it does not stipulate the definite means of adoption. The league also questions the short convention period of three and a half months; and it differs with the lack of a ceiling on delegates' travel expenses.

"The bill provides for submitting the question of a convention to the voters in the general election, November 2, 1954, and a run-off December 7, if necessary; for convening in the capital January 4, 1955, the draft to be completed not later than April 15, 1955; and for the convention to fix the time the new constitution would go into effect.

"Under the bar association proposal, after a Supreme Court justice opens the convention and gives the oath of office, a president and four vice - presidents would be elected and seven working committees would be set up, with every delegate to be a member of at least one committee. Any research agencies and experts may be made available to the convention as it sees fit.

"There would be 120 delegates, all elected in the same election as the call, apportioned on the basis of one delegate for every 25,000 population but each parish would have at least one delegate. Candidates for election as delegates would run on a non-partisan basis by filing statements with the secretary of state by September 10. They must be qualified electors having resided five years in the state and two years in their parish. Public officials would be considered eligible and not as dual office holders. The delegates would receive $30,00 per day and 10 cents per mile for travel in connection with the work of the convention.

"No limitations and no mandates on revision are written into the bar association call. The convention is given the power to frame a new constitution for the State of Louisiana which will establish a framework of government."

Minstrel Parade Plans Completed

Vernon McCoy, general chairman for the 16th annual Kiwanis Minstrel, said yesterday that plans are virtually complete for a downtown parade to be held at noon Thursday.

At least four bands and two marching teams will follow the colors carried by the R. O. T. C. from N. L. S. C. Local new car dealers will supply cars to carry members of the cast.

Huge spotlights will light up the sky on both Thursday and Friday nights when this minstrel show will be held at Neville Auditorium.

McCoy further stated that advertising in the minstrel program has defrayed all production costs and that all money raised by ticket sales will be used for youth activities. For many years the Monroe Kiwanis Club has aided boy and girl scouts and cared for underprivileged children through the gifts of glasses, shoes and so on. The outfitting of the junior police who protect children at school crossings has been a project of the Kiwanis Club for over 15 years.

According to McCoy, the cast of over 100 local amateurs, directed by a professional, Dick Spitler of the John B. Rogers Co., has promised to give Monroe a show they will remember for years to come.

Fire Department Issues Thanks For Fund For Crippled

Members of the Monroe fire department Saturday morning issued a "public thanks" to all persons who had donated to the Crippled Children's Fund, while firemen solicited on the downtown streets. The workers, who annually cooperate with the Ouachita Parish Society for Crippled Children in raising funds, reported yesterday this season was "one of the best we ever had - from the streets' solicitation standpoint."

Members who have worked actively with the solicitation during the past week included Chief Tom Dupree, Captains H. N. Jones, R. L. Frantom, H. O. Hampton and Bob White and V. S. Carr, LaVerne Gardner, C. O. Tatum, Thomas Duffey, and Benny White.

Earlier this week, R. L. Ross, chairman of the crippled children's society commended the Monroe fire department for the work it was giving in the fund drive.

CONVENTION BOUND

Mrs. Mae Lucky, Ouachita Parish registrar of voters, will leave tonight for New Orleans, where she will attend the annual convention of the state registrar of voters. The meeting will be held Monday.

Mrs. Lucky will return to Monroe Tuesday, she said.

Puerto Rico is 1,750 miles from New York City.

Rites Sunday For A. B. Hobson, 73

Funeral services for A. B. Hopson, 73, will be held at the Mulhearn Funeral Chapel at 4:30 p.m. Sunday with Rev. Lloyd O'Neal, Presbyterian minister of Ruston, officiating. Burial will be in Hasley Cemetery.

Hopson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lucille Rinehart Hopson of Monroe and by one son John Hopson of Roswell, New Mexico; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Seybold of Lubbock, Tex.; Mrs. Martha Alexander, Batavia, New York; seven grand children and two great grand children.

Hopson was born at Kingland, Ark., on Oct. 22, 1880. He formerly operated the Ouachita Feed and Seed Store in Monroe and also the Clarence Saunders Grocery Stores.

Pallbearers will be Barlow Inabinet, Donald Simmons, Herbert Rinehart, Louis Rinehart, Frank Jones, and Linton Cook.

100th Anniversary Celebrated By Ruston Lodge 106, F. & A. M.

By ANNABEL PANKEY
(Ruston Correspondent)

RUSTON, April 17, (Special)—Last week members, distinguished guests and other friends of Ruston Lodge 106 Free and Accepted Masons, gathered in the Ruston High School auditorium to celebrate the hundredth anniversary of the lodge.

Presiding at this historical event was L. G. Huey, Worshipful Master of the local group. He accepted on behalf of the lodge from Clarence Beasley, of Logansport, grand master of the State of Louisiana, the centennial award, an engraved plaque, with the following words: "I accept this beautiful plaque and I assure you that this is a day that will long be remembered by members present here today."

The lodge, which has 312 members, is a descendant of the old Vienna Lodge 106, granted a dispensation to organize in January, 1852. And, according to R. H. Brooks, past grand master of the Ruston lodge, who gave a brief history of the fraternity, the Vienna unit probably moved its domicile to Ruston in 1887. (It was a few years earlier that there was a rather general exodus from the then thriving village of Vienna to the newly founded town of Ruston).

The centennial observance, which included a principle address by J. Luther Jordan, Mansfield, past grand master of the state, was opened by an invocation by the Rev. Mr. J. C. Murphy, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church and a trio of Boy Scouts who marched to the rostrum and presented the flag. Distinguished guests on the rostrum, which included D. P. Laguens, grand secretary of the grand lodge and Louri A. Legett, deputy grand master, New Orleans. The large audience joined in the oath of allegiance.

Following an introduction of honored visitors by Robert W. Cretney, of Monroe, past grand master and a welcoming address by Col. W. E. McBride, of Iouisiana, a solo as sung by Mrs. Voncille Allison, music director of the Temple Baptist Church, accompanied by Mrs. B. T. Hays, the Temple Church pianist.

The Rev. R. R. Branton, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, gave the response to the welcoming address and his speech was followed by a piano solo by Roger Lawson, a Ruston High School student.

During his talk, Jordan, emphasizing the long life of Masonry said, "Things are true because they are eternally so . . . it is only the discovery of truth that is old and new."

Speaking of the history of the fraternity, Jordan noted that Masonry is today practically in the same form it was in during the early 18th century, and he talked of the spiritual qualities of Masonry in reference to the endurance of Masonry, that "nothing great has ever been achievel except under strong sanction."

The observance was closed by a benediction by the Rev. Mr. Murphy.

Intricate Rhythm Display Planned

A unique and beautiful performance of intricate rhythm will be presented at The Plum Street school Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Second graders in colorful costumes of characters evolved from music will enact "The Magic Dream." The production is a demonstration of rhythmic activities, an integral part of the physical education program prescribed for primary grades. Few schools employ and develop the program to the extent to be demonstrated and the public will be interested to observe the children actually at work while exhibiting the entertainment.

Stipulation Asked On Constitution Adoption

In a statement issued here Saturday, the League of Women Voters stated that "the call for a constitutional convention should stipulate definite means of adoption. The statement follows:

"The call for a constitutional convention should state whether the new constitution should be adopted by the convention, or by ratification by the people, the League of Women Voters contends. The method should not be left to the convention to decide as provided in the call drawn up by the Louisiana Bar Association for introduction in the 1954 legislature. To leave this unsettled in the call will result in the convention members wasting time debating the matter, and if left to the end of the convention will give a degree of uncertainty throughout the convention as to how to write various parts of the new draft. Furthermore, the referendum on the call is much more likely to be defeated by the many confused voters who will vote against it simply because they cannot decide on unknown conditions, especially since the delegates will not be known until after their vote on the call.

"The provisions of the bar association bill for calling a constitutional convention agree closely with league recommendations, with the important exception that it does not stipulate the definite means of adoption. The league also questions the short convention period of three and a half months; and it differs with the lack of a ceiling on delegates' travel expenses.

"The bill provides for submitting the question of a convention to the voters in the general election, November 2, 1954, and a run-off December 7, if necessary; for convening in the capital January 4, 1955, the draft to be completed not later than April 15, 1955; and for the convention to fix the time the new constitution would go into effect.

"Under the bar association proposal, after a Supreme Court justice opens the convention and gives the oath of office, a president and four vice - presidents would be elected and seven working committees would be set up, with every delegate to be a member of at least one committee. Any research agencies and experts may be made available to the convention as it sees fit.

"There would be 120 delegates, all elected in the same election as the call, apportioned on the basis of one delegate for every 25,000 population but each parish would have at least one delegate. Candidates for election as delegates would run on a non-partisan basis by filing statements with the secretary of state by September 10. They must be qualified electors having resided five years in the state and two years in their parish. Public officials would be considered eligible and not as dual office holders. The delegates would receive $30.00 per day and 10 cents per mile for travel in connection with the work of the convention.

Christ Is Risen Today!

Christian peoples all over the world today celebrate the resurrection of their Savior and Lord, Jesus Christ. The humble teacher of peace who died on a cross so that there might be peace in the world, lives forever. His prayers and His teachings form the basis for the Christian religion, a religion which has withstood the years and years of danger and turmoil.

Easter Sunday, the celebration of Christ's resurrection, falls this year on a troubled world. People in the United States who should be following the teachings of Christ and the laws of God, are instead following the edicts of three men who decreed that there is no Christ and the religion is an opium of the people. They follow the pattern set for them by the early Romans and Greeks who through their own moral and spiritual decline, fell before the attacks of the lesser tribesmen.

This year, churches all over the nation are sponsoring religious revivals. Some laugh at these evidences of salvation and others, realizing that there is danger, are flocking to the altars to include their names on the lists both in church and perhaps in the heavenly kingdom. The resurrection celebration this year, as in certain other years, once again beholds the God of Armageddon strolling the face of the Earth. This year he is armed with dreadful fiery swords and weapons. Never before in the history of the human race have the people of the Earth been so near their own destruction. Never before have the people needed the inner comfort and faith of their religion.

In Christ, there is an answer. It is written in bold letters so that everyone shall be able to read it. "The meek shall inherit the Earth." The teachings of the simple Nazareth carpenter have spanned two thousand years.

Dictators, kings and despots may come and go, but the teachings of Jesus Christ will always remain.

Unfortunately, far too few people study these teachings and some of those who study them do not follow the instructions. The American nation, the mores of which are built around these teachings, has strayed far, far away.

The great Patrick Henry, who was a patriot of the first order, and a great orator of the American revolution, known and loved for his "Give Me Liberty Or Give Me Death" speech, said one time, "Bad men cannot make good citizens. It is impossible that a nation of infidels or idolators should be a nation of free men. It is when a people forget God, that tyrants forge their chains. A vitiated state of morals, a corrupted public conscience is incompatible with freedom."

Today, the words of this patriot are apparently forgotten. The public reads, hears and sees corruption on many sides. In the high places of government, there is corruption. Men and women run for public office boasting that their corruption shall be vindicated at the polls. That cannot be. The United States on this Easter day, the day when all people must realize that there is indeed a living Christ, faces one of two alternatives. The highways in either direction are before you and the nation. One beckons with flowery descriptions of the easy path ahead, the comforts of the road and the roadhouses along the way.

The other highway offers no such descriptions stating that the road is sometimes hard and difficult and that there is no relief from danger. It seeks to fool no one. It offers something not offered by the alternative and that is salvation. Many Christian peoples who go to church today (some for the very first time in a year) must understand that they are among the privileged few. They can rise in the morning, they can eat a leisurely breakfast and go to church.

They take all of this for granted.

They forget that there are countless millions of people whose hearts and whose minds are in the church today, but who cannot go because there is no church. They cannot attend because the attending of church means death. Some defy the laws of the states in point and openly show their beliefs wherein they happily but suddenly meet their fate.

The Easter celebration is supposed to be one of peace. It is one of forgiveness. Did Jesus not forgive the disciple Judas who betrayed Him? Did He not set an example to be followed by the Earth's millions? This year, for Christians and believers in God wherever they may be, there cannot be peace. An evil creed which denies the Savior and denies God stalks the highways and the byways of the Earth. It seeks to stamp out the individual and make of all humans nothing better than robots. It seeks to stamp out the spirit of morality in all nations and in this endeavor, it is attaining great success.

As in the days of old, the days long gone by, Christian peoples wherever they are, must again don the swords of the crusaders. They must again crusade for Christ and God. Again, a new and fiery ideology is sweeping the Earth. It threatens the American people and the religion of God with complete and exhaustive extinction. It threatens the people with inner and outer destruction and it must be repulsed.

The meek must for awhile assert their beliefs and fight for what they believe. In this conflict, there can be no conscientious objectors. One cannot object to fight for his basic beliefs.

Easter Sunday, the day in 1954 when all Christians again realize that there is a living Christ must be a turning point in the minds of millions of people. They must think of their present position, worship Christ in the church of their choice and go forth out of God's house prepared as individual disciples, or ministers, to spread the Truth and the Light. In these days and times, all believers in God must be ambassadors and generals in His army. They must be teachers and instructors, guides who can lead the world's millions to the safe harbor of peace through salvation.

. . . . Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them. And when they saw Him, they worshipped Him, but some doubted.

And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in Heaven and in Earth. Go ye, therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.

Concordia—
Richness Of The Earth

A deep delta parish in Northeast Louisiana, with the richness of the Earth as her heritage is Concordia. Encompassing within her history the details of a romantic era of yesterday, Concordia has kept some of her relics, but the present "relic" which time will measure, is the progressiveness of the parish and her citizenship.

Today, even though the traditions and customs of the days before the war for states' rights (sometimes erroneously termed the "civil war") can still be seen as existent. Concordia is taking her rightful place in the sisterhood of parishes, 14 in number which compose the fifth congressional district. Through the richness of her soil which agriculturists state is actually some of the best to be found anywhere in the nation, Concordia has made a definite and stable economy for her citizens assuring them of progressive growth and prosperity.

Thanks to an active and progressive police jury, school board and other elected public officials, Concordia has good drainage systems, excellent school facilities for both white and negro children, flood protection and many other necessities and conveniences to provide an above average living scale. Vidalia, parish seat of Concordia is classified as a "town of miracles."

The "miracle" was the moving of Vidalia from the banks of the Mississippi river to its present location. Noted for cleanliness and well kept stores, the old river town is the connecting link on the banks of the Louisiana side of the river with the state of Mississippi. Ferriday, a noted "hub" of the parish, is a somewhat younger, but also progressive community.

Using her heritage of fertile land Concordia parish will in the future extend her potentialities, but her leading men ..... that never will the history of the parish be forgotten, it shall be used as a foundation on which to grow and thrive.

The Swords Are Placed

The gauge is thrown.

The Army has officially charged Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, one of the greatest patriots of these times, with attempting to seek favors for his former committee investigator, G. David Schine. Even as the Army charges were submitted, the Army fired one of the very men who helped write the charges, a lawyer in the Pro-Communist "Lawyer's Guild."

Senator McCarthy has denied the charges declaring that there is no truth to them and stating that the army is itself guilty of blackmail and of holding Schine over his head as a club. It is indeed conceivable that this is the truth as did the Army not draft Schine while he was in the middle of an investigation of the Army at Fort Monmouth New Jersey?

The entire issue has become cloudy and confused. That was deliberate and well planned. Even though the Army denied McCarthy's charges, it has already followed some of his suggestions and has begun to tighten its security regulations.

Few remember the Communist dentist over which this affair started. Irving Peress must indeed be chuckling to himself. He never dreamed that his meager efforts in behalf of the party would cause such a commotion. He never realized that there were so many loyal Americans ready to protect his worthless hide even up to a General and the Secretary of the Army itself.

He never thought that he could, by his efforts at doing practically nothing, split the nation and cause a terrible rift between the congress and the administration. Peress probably never thought that his case would shackle and bind the McCarthy committee at a time when the efforts of that committee are needed in a terrible urgency.

How happy he must be to see so many Americans following the edicts of his own party news organ, "The Daily Worker." How happy he must be to hear many news "commentators" parroting the Communist party line of "witch hunter," "headhunter," and "headline seeker". How joyful he must be to behold the effects of the party's propaganda efforts which have curiously allied some members of the ministry of the Christian and Jewish Churches with Karl Marx, an alignment which was never intended and certainly is not compatible with the dogmas of the Churches in question.

The Bronx dentist must be overjoyed to realize that no matter who wins the case, the only real winners are his party members and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

It is certain that either McCarthy or the Army will be discredited.

Either way, American morale will be severely shaken, confused and demoralized. How gleeful this Communist dentist, an agent of a foreign nation, who was protected, then promoted and then given an honorable discharge by the United States Army, must be to know that he has forced a decision of some sort between the Eisenhower administration and the McCarthy wing of the Republican party.

He knows, or must know that the thing the Communist party has for years been attempting to do, has been done. The Republican party is split, torn and the most hated, Senator McCarthy, is unable to continue the operations of his valuable committee.

Thus, another great victory has been scored for the Communists in this battle which demonstrates at every turn that the American people are incapable of dealing with what is at hand, that which even now prepares to destroy them. Indeed, the Communists have won a clear decision before the case is even started. For the victory, the Communists must pay due respect to their left wing cohorts in the press, on the radio and on television and even in the government. The old adage, "heads I win, tails you lose" seems to have gone into effect in this case.

In any case, the fight is on between the Army and McCarthy.

It is a fight which in all probability, neither desires and certainly one that should not be conducted. The work is done, the gage has been thrown.

There is no turning back.

The President And Golf

President Dwight Eisenhower has a heavy load on his shoulders. As the temporal head of the free world, a world which is divided and torn in the face of certain disaster, the pressure on him is almost indescribable. One of the best reliefs is a game of golf every now and then.

Some people believe that he plays too much golf. Many think that if he was to return to the White House and work on the problems of the present days, more could be accomplished.

The record indicates that the President conducts a Spartan day. He is up before the average businessman winks an eye. He is at his desk in the White House before that businessman sleepily grabs for his first cup of coffee and the newspaper. He has conducted a near full day before that businessman gets to the office.

He worries more about world affairs in one hour than the average man thinks about them in a week.

Is he not entitled to a round of golf at least twice a week? Is he not allowed to receive relaxation?

Why does the Washington press clique stress the golf played by the President? Are the members jealous of his game? Is golf not a better game than the weekly round of poker played by his immediate predecessor?

If the President can get relaxation from his golf, the same game played at least once, most times, twice weekly by the average businessman, more power to him and more power to the game which can afford a tired man some enjoyment from his dreadful and backbreaking load in the world of today.

Justice Calling

The Wire Tapping Bill

There is much confusion concerning the controversial wire tapping bill. Many fear that the ability in the hands of the Federal Government to tap the wires of telephones and to use that evidence in the courts would be giving too much power to the government. Others say that the wire tapping power makes a secret police out of many government organizations.

Consider carefully the situation. In the United States today, there are few phones which are not "tapped" in some manner or other. The telephone company even rents a gadget which connected with the phone, can be then connected with a tape machine and the telephone conversations are then recorded. This is supposed to be legal and the person on the other end of the line knows that his statements are being recorded because there is a five or six second "beep" included into the conversation by the connection.

Unfortunately, this is not the only type device available. There are others which connected with the phone cannot be detected. Some fit over the receiving end and are very sensitive, even to the least whisper. Then, there are the regular wire taps which are not detected by any means. There are microphones in many offices carefully placed to receive the slightest whisper and there are gadgets which, when sealed to the wall, can catch even whispers in the room on the other side of the wall.

Legally, none of this is admissible in the courts.

The Federal Bureau Of Investigation has reams of files on hand gathered by wire tap which it could use if the bill was passed. The argument seems not to be over the necessity of the bill, but who is to be in charge of the evidence once compiled and who is to give the order to tap someone's phone lines. The Constitution prohibits seizure or entry without a court order. There must be a warrant to enter someone's home. Could this not apply to the wire taps?

Those who would leave the control of this to the Attorney General are perhaps not following the Constitution. This newspaper supports the wire tapping bill as much of the evidence presently compiled would be of great assistance to the government, but it believes that the courts should be in charge of issuing the order which would enable the telephone of a citizen of this republic to be tapped.

These times are difficult and the fight against the Communists is a difficult one. The Federal Government and the Congress needs the evidence which has been compiled against the Communists and the subversives.

The wiretapping bill should be written to give the courts control, or it should not be passed.

Rep. Passman Explains Vote On Revised Tax Bill

Washington, D. C.

Editor, Morning World:

I am enclosing a copy of my letter to Mr. V. O. Wilson, Route 1, Box 73, West Monroe, relative to my vote on the recent revised tax bill.

I have never abused the privilege of your public forum but inasmuch as several of my constituents are not familiar with my vote on the recent revised tax bill, I would appreciate having you run the attached copy in your public forum.

Dear Mr. Wilson:

This will acknowledge your letter of April 6, 1954, relative to the recent revised tax bill that passed the house, for which I thank you very kindly.

You are absolutely in error with respect to my vote. I did vote to increase the personal exemption from $600.00 to $700.00. May I explain as follows.

All tax legislation is reported to the floor under a closed rule, commonly referred to as a gag rule. Under such a rule no amendments can be offered by members from the floor, so a member must either vote for or against a bill. The only amendment in order comes with a motion to recommit with instructions covering the amendment. Now, after all the debate had been concluded on this bill, a great majority of the Democratic members were in accord that the bill should be recommitted to the committee with instructions to report the bill back to the house with the personal exemption increased. Our motion to recommit did not prevail so the amendment lost.

I was not in accord with all the provisions within the revised tax bill but there were some 25 or 30 provisions that benefitted the farmer, the pensioner and the laboring people. For instance, there was a $1,200.00 exemption tax free on certain pensions and annuities, there was additional medical allowances provided and certain farm improvement expenditures allowed for tax exemption purposes.

I am indeed sorry that you were under the wrong impression with respect to my vote because I have been working untiringly to get the ways and means committee to consider my bill, H. R. 2131, to increase the personal exemption to $800.00, but my wishes did not prevail so most of the minority members voted for the revised tax bill with certain reservations, believing that the senate and conferees would adopt my bill or a similar one raising personal exemptions.

I trust that the above explains my position on the tax bill and if you are not yet clear on my position, I will be very pleased to send you a copy of the Congressional Record so that you may see for yourself how I am recorded on Roll Call No. 28.

Glad to have heard from you and I again invite you to request of me any congressional service which, in your wisdom, would be of benefit to your community and to our district.

Chiropractors Treat M.D.'s

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I wish to state that I am for the chiropractors one-hundred per cent I know they do wonderful work and cure many people of nervousness, colds and many other ailments. Especially one class of people, office workers, such as executives, who work over their desks day after day and bear so much responsibility that they often get in plain words, "nervous tension" and also stenographers and typists and other kinds of clerical work. The muscles in the neck and back just get "knotted up" so to speak. By the adjustment of the spine and massage, these nerves are exercised and therefore circulation of the blood becomes more active, and through these treatments, headaches, backaches and many, many more ailments are relieved.

I have gone to a chiropractor for a number of years and I have sent many people to him. I have in mind, two men, who had practically lost the use of one of their arms, and they could find no relief from any other source than this chiropractor.

Why shouldn't chiropractors be licensed in Louisiana? Is it through greed and selfishness of those who are fighting against licensing the chiropractors? I am sure, if the truth was known that some of our M. D.'s are going to chiropractors, but they won't come out in the open and say they were helped by them.

I feel we have as fine and educated chiropractors in Louisiana as there are in the fourty-four states who have licensed chiropractors. Also, the chiropractors in our Twin Cities are and have relieved hundreds of people of their ailments.

If all the people in our Twin Cities and surrounding towns would come out in the open, I feel we would find hundreds of people who would say "I received relief only through a chiropractor, so if you are a believer of chiropractors and have been relieved by any one of them, help fight to get them licensed.

Flower Lover's Lament

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Our neighbors to the North, Canada, has passed laws making parents responsible for damages done by their children, so why not by the same token make dog and cat owners responsible for damage done by their dogs and cats?

Valuable lilies and iris are torn out of the ground by pets. Some of these plants were valued at $6 to $10 and were totally destroyed. Cats walk all over freshly washed and polished cars blurring windshields. Monroe is large enough to demand that owners of dogs and cats keep them within their own houses or premises or on leash.

Can't you try to convince our city officials and pet owners that rare plants and flowers are not to be so ruthlessly destroyed?

Christ Is Risen Today!

Christian peoples all over the world today celebrate the resurrection of their Savior and Lord, Jesus Christ. The humble teacher of peace who died on a cross so that there might be peace in the world, lives forever. His prayers and His teachings form the basis for the Christian religion, a religion which has withstood the years and years of danger and turmoil.

Easter Sunday, the celebration of Christ's resurrection, falls this year on a troubled world. People in the United States who should be following the teachings of Christ and the laws of God, are instead following the edicts of three men who decreed that there is no Christ and the religion is an opium of the people. They follow the pattern set for them by the early Romans and Greeks who through their own moral and spiritual decline, fell before the attacks of the lesser tribesmen.

This year, churches all over the nation are sponsoring religious revivals. Some laugh at these evidences of salvation and others, realizing that there is danger, are flocking to the altars to include their names on the lists both in church and perhaps in the heavenly kingdom. The resurrection celebration this year, as in certain other years, once again beholds the God of Armageddon strolling the face of the Earth. This year he is armed with dreadful fiery swords and weapons. Never before in the history of the human race have the people of the Earth been so near their own destruction. Never before have the people needed the inner comfort and faith of their religion.

In Christ, there is an answer. It is written in bold letters so that everyone shall be able to read it. "The meek shall inherit the Earth." The teachings of the simple Nazareth carpenter have spanned two thousand years.

Dictators, kings and despots may come and go, but the teachings of Jesus Christ will always remain.

Unfortunately, far too few people study these teachings and some of those who study them do not follow the instructions. The American nation, the mores of which are built around these teachings, has strayed far, far away.

The great Patrick Henry, who was a patriot of the first order, and a great orator of the American revolution, known and loved for his "Give Me Liberty Or Give Me Death" speech, said one time, "Bad men cannot make good citizens. It is impossible that a nation of infidels or idolators should be a nation of free men. It is when a people forget God, that tyrants forge their chains. A vitiated state of morals, a corrupted public conscience is incompatible with freedom."

Today, the words of this patriot are apparently forgotten. The public reads, hears and sees corruption on many sides. In the high places of government, there is corruption. Men and women run for public office boasting that their corruption shall be vindicated at the polls. That cannot be. The United States on this Easter day, the day when all people must realize that there is indeed a living Christ, faces one of two alternatives. The highways in either direction are before you and the nation. One beckons with flowery descriptions of the easy path ahead, the comforts of the road and the roadhouses along the way.

The other highway offers no such descriptions stating that the road is sometimes hard and difficult and that there is no relief from danger. It seeks to fool no one. It offers something not offered by the alternative and that is salvation. Many Christian peoples who go to church today (some for the very first time in a year) must understand that they are among the privileged few. They can rise in the morning, they can eat a leisurely breakfast and go to church.

They take all of this for granted.

They forget that there are countless millions of people whose hearts and whose minds are in the church today, but who cannot go because there is no church. They cannot attend because the attending of church means death. Some defy the laws of the states in point and openly show their beliefs wherein they happily but suddenly meet their fate.

The Easter celebration is supposed to be one of peace. It is one of forgiveness. Did Jesus not forgive the disciple Judas who betrayed Him? Did He not set an example to be followed by the Earth's millions? This year, for Christians and believers in God wherever they may be, there cannot be peace. An evil creed which denies the Savior and denies God stalks the highways and the byways of the Earth. It seeks to stamp out the individual and make of all humans nothing better than robots. It seeks to stamp out the spirit of morality in all nations and in this endeavor, it is attaining great success.

As in the days of old, the days long gone by, Christian peoples wherever they are, must again don the swords of the crusaders. They must again crusade for Christ and God. Again, a new and fiery ideology is sweeping the Earth. It threatens the American people and the religion of God with complete and exhaustive extinction. It threatens the people with inner and outer destruction and it must be repulsed.

The meek must for awhile assert their beliefs and fight for what they believe. In this conflict, there can be no conscientious objectors. One cannot object to fight for his basic beliefs.

Easter Sunday, the day in 1954 when all Christians again realize that there is a living Christ must be a turning point in the minds of millions of people. They must think of their present position, worship Christ in the church of their choice and go forth out of God's house prepared as individual disciples, or ministers, to spread the Truth and the Light. In these days and times, all believers in God must be ambassadors and generals in His army. They must be teachers and instructors, guides who can lead the world's millions to the safe harbor of peace through salvation.

. . . . Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them. And when they saw Him, they worshipped Him, but some doubted.

And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in Heaven and in Earth. Go ye, therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.

Concordia—
Richness Of The Earth

A deep delta parish in Northeast Louisiana, with the richness of the Earth as her heritage is Concordia. Encompassing within her history the details of a romantic era of yesterday, Concordia has kept some of her relics, but the present "relic" which time will measure, is the progressiveness of the parish and her citizenship.

Today, even though the traditions and customs of the days before the war for states' rights (sometimes erroneously termed the "civil war") can still be seen as existent. Concordia is taking her rightful place in the sisterhood of parishes, 14 in number which compose the fifth congressional district. Through the richness of her soil which agriculturists state is actually some of the best to be found anywhere in the nation, Concordia has made a definite and stable economy for her citizens assuring them of progressive growth and prosperity.

Thanks to an active and progressive police jury, school board and other elected public officials, Concordia has good drainage systems, excellent school facilities for both white and negro children, flood protection and many other necessities and conveniences to provide an above average living scale. Vidalia, parish seat of Concordia is classified as a "town of miracles."

The "miracle" was the moving of Vidalia from the banks of the Mississippi river to its present location. Noted for cleanliness and well kept stores, the old river town is the connecting link on the banks of the Louisiana side of the river with the state of Mississippi. Ferriday, a noted "hub" of the parish, is a somewhat younger, but also progressive community.

Using her heritage of fertile land Concordia parish will in the future extend her potentialities, but her leading men [illegible] that never will the history of the parish be forgotten, it shall be used as a foundation on which to grow and thrive.

The Swords Are Placed

The gauge is thrown.

The Army has officially charged Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, one of the greatest patriots of these times, with attempting to seek favors for his former committee investigator, G. David Schine. Even as the Army charges were submitted, the Army fired one of the very men who helped write the charges, a lawyer in the Pro-Communist "Lawyer's Guild."

Senator McCarthy has denied the charges declaring that there is no truth to them and stating that the army is itself guilty of blackmail and of holding Schine over his head as a club. It is indeed conceivable that this is the truth as did the Army not draft Schine while he was in the middle of an investigation of the Army at Fort Monmouth New Jersey?

The entire issue has become cloudy and confused. That was deliberate and well planned. Even though the Army denied McCarthy's charges, it has already followed some of his suggestions and has begun to tighten its security regulations.

Few remember the Communist dentist over which this affair started. Irving Peress must indeed be chuckling to himself. He never dreamed that his meager efforts in behalf of the party would cause such a commotion. He never realized that there were so many loyal Americans ready to protect his worthless hide even up to a General and the Secretary of the Army itself.

He never thought that he could, by his efforts at doing practically nothing, split the nation and cause a terrible rift between the congress and the administration. Peress probably never thought that his case would shackle and bind the McCarthy committee at a time when the efforts of that committee are needed in a terrible urgency.

How happy he must be to see so many Americans following the edicts of his own party news organ, "The Daily Worker." How happy he must be to hear many news "commentators" parroting the Communist party line of "witch hunter," "headhunter," and "headline seeker". How joyful he must be to behold the effects of the party's propaganda efforts which have curiously allied some members of the ministry of the Christian and Jewish Churches with Karl Marx, an alignment which was never intended and certainly is not compatible with the dogmas of the Churches in question.

The Bronx dentist must be overjoyed to realize that no matter who wins the case, the only real winners are his party members and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

It is certain that either McCarthy or the Army will be discredited.

Either way, American morale will be severely shaken, confused and demoralized. How gleeful this Communist dentist, an agent of a foreign nation, who was protected, then promoted and then given an honorable discharge by the United States Army, must be to know that he has forced a decision of some sort between the Eisenhower administration and the McCarthy wing of the Republican party.

He knows, or must know that the thing the Communist party has for years been attempting to do, has been done. The Republican party is split, torn and the most hated, Senator McCarthy, is unable to continue the operations of his valuable committee.

Thus, another great victory has been scored for the Communists in this battle which demonstrates at every turn that the American people are incapable of dealing with what is at hand, that which even now prepares to destroy them. Indeed, the Communists have won a clear decision before the case is even started. For the victory, the Communists must pay due respect to their left wing cohorts in the press, on the radio and on television and even in the government. The old adage, "heads I win, tails you lose" seems to have gone into effect in this case.

In any case, the fight is on between the Army and McCarthy.

It is a fight which in all probability, neither desires and certainly one that should not be conducted. The work is done, the gage has been thrown.

Editor, Morning World:

I could not help but note the very flattering headline you gave to Gerald L. K. Smith. "Smith Rightest Group Okays Bricker for President."

This man is recognized as an anti-Semite and a purveyor of hate. Your bread line was an insult to the many good American Rightists who would have no part of men of this stripe.

How about an apology to them?

Flower Lover's Lament

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Our neighbors to the North, Canada, has passed laws making parents responsible for damages done by their children, so why not by the same token make dog and cat owners responsible for damage done by their dogs and cats?

Valuable lilies and iris are torn out of the ground by pets. Some of these plants were valued at $6 to $10 and were totally destroyed. Cats walk all over freshly washed and polished cars blurring windshields. Monroe is large enough to demand that owners of dogs and cats keep them within their own houses or premises or on leash.

Can't you try to convince our city officials and pet owners that rare plants and flowers are not to be so ruthlessly destroyed?

MRS. B. A. TROUSDALE.

BARBS

Regardless of what they say on TV, the most popular brand of cigarets is the one on the desk of the other guy in the office.

A man in Oregon had his wife arrested after she threw a pumpkin pie at him. Personally, we'd prefer cherry.

To the romantic girl, those sweet nothings are really something.

We'll bet there are nowhere near as many men taking up law as there are women laying it down.

Most people measure distance by miles, but a lot of hoboes still go by rods.

Louisiana Police Jury Group Will Meet Here

Delegates to the 30th annual convention of the Police Jury Association of Louisiana will begin converging on Monroe today for the three-day meet with headquarters in the Frances Hotel. Registration begins at 2 p.m. in the hotel lobby and will continue until 10 p.m. and then reopen at 8 a.m. Monday

Highlights of the meeting Monday will be addresses by Governor Robert F. Kennon, Lieutenant Governor C. E. Barham, former Governor Sam H. Jones, and Judge George W. Hardy, Jr. Principal speaker at the annual banquet Monday night will be Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant and lecturer of the General Motors Corporation, Topeka, Kan.

Tuesday the group will hear talks by Graydon L. Kitchens, chairman of the Louisiana Tax Commission; Pete Dutton, superintendent of the water hyacinth control program for the state; Robert W. Berry of the Tobin Aerial Survey Co.; and James D. Sparks, state senator and chairman of the highway committee of the Louisiana legislative council.

At 5 p.m. today the resolutions committee will hold a meeting in Room 208 of the Frances, while at the same time a meeting of the secretary-treasurer's board of directors will be conducted in Room D.

From 7 until 9:30 p.m. a fellowship hour will be held at the Redwood Lounge on Louisville Avenue.

The convention will begin Monday at 7:30 a.m. when secretaries, treasurers and clerks of the organization will meet for breakfast. Registration will reopen at 8 a.m. and continue through the day on the mezzanine of Hotel Frances.

President H. A. Rougon of Oscar, La., will call the general meeting to order at 9 a.m. on the roof of the Virginia Hotel for the first business session. Msgr. John C. Marsh, pastor of St. Matthews Catholic Church, will give the invocation after which Mayor John E. Coon will welcome the delegates.

J. J. Holtgreve, president of the Jefferson Parish police jury, will give the response to the welcome address.

W. A. Breedlove, secretary of the Police Jury Association, will hold a roll call of delegates after which members of the legislature will be recognized.

The first principal address of the meeting will be by Lt. Gov. C. E. "Cap" Barham, followed by Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, registrar of state land office.

Sam H. Jones, former governor of the state, and member of the Federal Commission of Intergovernmental Relations, will discuss "Intergovernmental Relations and the Position of the Parish with Reference thereto."

Next on the program will be an address on the "Proposed Constitutional Convention" by Judge George W. Hardy, Jr., of the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals.

The final address of the morning session will be by F. G. Hudson, attorney and member of the committee for a new constitution.

Following the noon recess, at which time a barbecue courtesy of nine companies will be held at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, the reconvening of the business session will be held at 1:30 p.m. The invocation will be held by Rev. H. L. Johns, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Slated to be brought up at this time will be action on resolutions, reports of the president, secretary and treasurer, the election of officers and the selection of the 1955 convention city. Adjournment is slated for 5 p.m.

The annual banquet of the convention will begin at 6:30 p.m. with an invocation by Rev. John M. Allin, rector of Grace Episcopal Church. Claude Harrison will act as master of ceremonies.

Slated to make addresses at this session are Gov. Kennon and Dr. McFarland.

James A. Noe will make the presentation of awards.

CELEBRATE CENTENNIAL—Mrs. Elmer Slagle, Sr., and her son, Elmer Slagle, Jr., of Monroe, La., are shown here with President Albert W. Reported Cut In Insurance Rates Won't Aid Some

A recent press release by T. H. Scheidau, chairman of the fire division of the Louisiana insurance rating commission, announced that, effective April 15, 1954, a reduction of approximately 10 per cent in windstorm and extended coverage rates would save the people of Louisiana over one million dollars.

This rate reduction was explained today in an interview with W. E. Leigh, president of the Ouachita Association of Insurance Agents, an organization consisting of all of the fire and allied insurance agents in Ouachita parish representing only capital stock companies.

Leigh quoted from an explanation made by Parker Wiggins, manager of the Louisiana rating and fire prevention bureau, in the Times - Picayune under date of April 15, as follows:

"Studies revealed that these items, (wooden fences, cloth awnings and their frames, green houses, trellises and cabanas and radio and TV antennas and towers and property over water) were those on which losses most frequently occurred and that in order for the reduction to be put into effect, they had to be excluded from coverage." Mr. Wiggins stated further, "An additional charge will have to be levied for them, which will keep those who do not possess such property from having a portion of their premiums go for their coverage." These same exclusions, he added, "are already in effect in surrounding states."

Leigh pointed out that he and the other members of the association, welcomed any and all rate reductions, whenever they were in order, but stated that in this instance, while a rate reduction was granted, that in some cases the reduction would produce a net increase in premium to the home owner, if he secured the same coverage under the new rates as he had under the old.

Leigh pointed out that prior to April 15, the date the rate reduction was effective, that policies covering extended coverage or windstorm on dwellings included coverage on wooden fences, cloth awnings and their frames, green houses, trellises, radio and TV aerials and antennas, and property partially built overwater. However, under the newly announced rates, policies on dwellings do not cover on these items unless specific insurance is placed on such of these items as the owner wishes to insure, and then at a much higher rate. As an example, Leigh pointed out that prior to the rate decrease, a home owner with a home insured for $10,000 would have paid for his extended coverage for one year a premium of $20, and would have had full protection against all losses from windstorm or hail, including, losses occuring to cloth awnings and radio and TV antennae. Under the new rates, the same home owner would pay a premium of $18 for one year, but would not have any coverage on the items mentioned above that are excluded from coverage. Supposing that this home owner had a wooden fence that cost $450, a TV aerial that cost $50, cloth awnings that cost $200 and had a pier built over the water that cost $300 or a total of $1000. Under the old rates there would have been included with the insurance on the dwelling at a cost of $20. Under the new rates, to insure these items would cost $23.08 in addition to the $18 premium on the house or a net increase of $21.08 per year.

Leigh further pointed out that while there had been a reduction in extended coverage rates on mercantile properties, that the radio and TV antennae exclusion also applies to mercantile buildings, as does the exclusion on wood fences, blower systems and conveyor pipes outside of buildings, cooling towers, wharfs, piers, walkways, boathouses, bulkheads or other structures located over, or partially over water and the property therein or thereon. All of the property newly excluded can be insured, but only by specific mention in the policy and at a much higher rate.

Leigh stated that their organization was desirous of bringing to the public the proper explanation of the rate reduction, and suggested that all persons who own such property should check carefully with their agent regarding policies issued on and after April 15, 1954 in order that there may be no omission of coverage that is desired to be afforded.

State Department Supports Nixon's Indochina Stand

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — The State Department declared tonight it is "highly unlikely" that American troops will have to replace French forces in Indochina, but supported Vice President Nixon's stand that Southeast Asia must be saved from Communist aggression.

The department issued a statement amid a hornet's nest of congressional controversy stirred by remarks of Vice President Nixon yesterday. The Vice President, answering a hypothetical question at a session of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, said that in the unlikely event that the French withdrew from Indochina, American troops might be sent in.

This produced hot discussions on Capitol Hill, with some legislators opposing any such use of American troops, and others demanding a clarification of administration policy.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, said it was "conceivable" but "improbable" that the United States might eventually hvae to dispatch military forces.

But he expressed confidence that President Eisenhower would ask prior approval of Congress before taking any such step. And Knowland like other administration leaders, stressed that the responsibility for safeguarding Southeast Asia is an international one, not a task for the United States alone.

The State Department statement, which was carefully worded, did not "pull the rug" from under Nixon. In fact the statement was understood on high authority to have received the Vice President's approval before it was issued.

since he collapsed March 29 during a crisis in his losing struggle for power with Nasser.

The President was absent from the Council meeting that accepted his resignation from the prime ministry.

The disclosure of his resignation was further evidence that Naguib is becoming little more than a figurehead in the military government.

Popular acclaim returned Naguib to power after his first defeat in the struggle with Nasser and his young officer group nearly two months ago.

Nasser, a 36-year-old lieutenant colonel, long has been regarded as the real strong man in the revolution that forced King Farouk to abdicate July 26, 1952.

Naguib, a major general in his early fifties, was brought into the revolt against the monarchy after it had been plotted and had acted as the front man.

Then Naguib became a popular idol and Egypt's first president in the decree proclaiming the republic last June 18.

Nasser's predominant young officer group in the Council failed in its first efforts to unhorse Naguib.

The young officers announced on Feb. 25 that Naguib had resigned as president, premier and head of the Council and was under house arrest.

But popular demonstrations and pressures brought him back within a week to all his offices. Nasser in the interim had become premier and council chairman but had left the presidency vacant.

A new crisis developed late last month when Naguib announced elections for a new Parliament and constitution - drafting convention would be held in July. Others in the Council opposed elections this year and the decision was reversed. It was then that Nasser asserted his control over the Council and Naguib had his breakdown.

The President emerged from his sickbed this week for a convalescent stroll around the pyramids at suburban Giza, where he signed his name for tourists seeking autographs.

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Vice President Nixon has expressed the opinion that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer "is a loyal American" and should not be barred from government work if he is not a security risk.

These remarks about the atomic scientist previously had been attributed to a high administration official who talked to newsmen with the stipulation that his name not be used.

Jewelry Store Shows $300,000 In Merchandise

An outstanding new jewelry store —carrying an estimated $300,000 in merchandise—is scheduled within the next few weeks to open for business in Monroe.

The store, Morey's Jewelers, is now undergoing construction at the intersection of DeSiard and St. John streets and, according to Gordon Gibson, who will be the manager, "no expense is being spared to make it the South's finest jewelry store."

Morey's was planned after many months of careful study, in order to bring to the people of Monroe every convenience that could be accorded while shopping for jewelry items.

The store front has a foyer entrance that extends back 30 feet and is flanked on the left side by four beautiful picture windows which will display the finest lines in sterling silver and fine china in America. As one enters the building, he will note on the right, a massive display of diamonds and watches that will extend some 15 feet. The remaining section of display area will be devoted to luggage, electrical appliances, and radios. Also of interest are the two individual suspended show cases which will be devoted to the display of men's and ladies jewelry. All displays, in the careful planning, have been arranged at eye level for convenience in viewing them.

The interior of the store will be completely air-conditioned and will provide 2,750 square feet of sales area and will be fitted throughout with custom built fixtures of walnut trimmed in bleached birch. Many of the fixtures will be self service units that will give the customer the privilege of leisurely selecting gift items.

Of particular interest as announced by Mr. Gibson, will be the diamond room which will enable the prospective diamond purchaser to have the utmost of privacy and comfort in selecting his diamond. This room has been customed decorated throughout and will also carry out the fixture theme of walnut with matching lounge chairs. It is further stated that to our knowledge, this will be the first and only such room in the state.

The office has also been carefully planned to handle a great number of customers at once by the addition of a window posting machine which also was custom built in keeping with the other fixtures. The entire color scheme of Morey's will be pink orchard and a contrast of silver-grey throughout the interior.

Mr. Gibson, who will manage Morey's has had many years of experience and extensive training in the jewelry field. He was formerly connected with another local jewelry firm for the past seven years.

was nearly four miles away when the body was found.

Three dogs disappeared with him. Two, which belonged to the Davis family, returned last night. The third dog, which belonged to a neighbor, appeared, cold and hungary Friday at a National Guard field kitchen miles from Wesley Chapel.

The woods in which he disappeared are of ash and hackebrry and so entangled with vines and undergrown with brush that they are like a jungle. They are infested with bobcats and wolves.

He wanted to go see his grandmother Friday. His mother told him not to, but he slipped away and when he returned his mother spanked him. Joe said he was going back.

His mother assigned an older brother — Joe was the youngest of six boys in the family — to watch him. But Joe got away while the brother was reading a comic book. It was about 9 a. m.

Searchers found his tiny footprints along a little creek near bigger and deeper Elkhart creek last night. His tracks and the tracks of a dog crossed and recrossed the creekbed.

"It looked like he was trying to follow the dog and the dog was trying to follow him," a searcher said.

It was only a little way from where the tracks were found to Elkhart Creek, where he died.

Cobalt Seized

MILAN, Italy, April 17—UP—Italian police seized nine tons of high-grade strategic cobalt at the Swiss border Saturday. It was concealed under a cargo of bricks in a truck leaving Italy for Switzerland. The smugglers apparently intended to transship the valuable material to Iron Curtain countries, the police said.

The store, Morey's Jewelers, is now undergoing construction at the intersection of DeSiard and St. John streets and, according to Gordon Gibson, who will be the manager, "no expense is being spared to make it the South's finest jewelry store."

Morey's was planned after many months of careful study, in order to bring to the people of Monroe every convenience that could be accorded while shopping for jewelry items.

The store front has a foyer entrance that extends back 30 feet and is flanked on the left side by four beautiful picture windows which will display the finest lines in sterling silver and fine china in America. As one enters the building, he will note on the right, a massive display of diamonds and watches that will extend some 15 feet. The remaining section of display area will be devoted to luggage, electrical appliances, and radios. Also of interest are the two individual suspended show cases which will be devoted to the display of men's and ladies jewelry. All displays, in the careful planning, have been arranged at eye level for convenience in viewing them.

The interior of the store will be completely air-conditioned and will provide 2,750 square feet of sales area and will be fitted throughout with custom built fixtures of walnut trimmed in bleached birch. Many of the fixtures will be self service units that will give the customer the privilege of leisurely selecting gift items.

Of particular interest as announced by Mr. Gibson, will be the diamond room which will enable the prospective diamond purchaser to have the utmost of privacy and comfort in selecting his diamond. This room has been customed decorated throughout and will also carry out the fixture theme of walnut with matching lounge chairs. It is further stated that to our knowledge, this will be the first and only such room in the state.

The office has also been carefully planned to handle a great number of customers at once by the addition of a window posting machine which also was custom built in keeping with the other fixtures. The entire color scheme of Morey's will be pink orchard and a contrast of silver-grey throughout the interior.

Mr. Gibson, who will manage Morey's has had many years of experience and extensive training in the jewelry field. He was formerly connected with another local jewelry firm for the past seven years.

Searchers Find

was nearly four miles away when the body was found.

Three dogs disappeared with him. Two, which belonged to the Davis family, returned last night. The third dog, which belonged to a neighbor, appeared, cold and hungary Friday at a National Guard field kitchen miles from Wesley Chapel.

The woods in which he disappeared are of ash and hackebrry and so entangled with vines and undergrown with brush that they are like a jungle. They are infested with bobcats and wolves.

He wanted to go see his grandmother Friday. His mother told him not to, but he slipped away and when he returned his mother spanked him. Joe said he was going back.

His mother assigned an older brother — Joe was the youngest of six boys in the family — to watch him. But Joe got away while the brother was reading a comic book. It was about 9 a. m.

Searchers found his tiny footprints along a little creek near bigger and deeper Elkhart creek last night. His tracks and the tracks of a dog crossed and recrossed the creekbed.

"It looked like he was trying to follow the dog and the dog was trying to follow him," a searcher said.

It was only a little way from where the tracks were found to Elkhart Creek, where he died.

Cobalt Seized

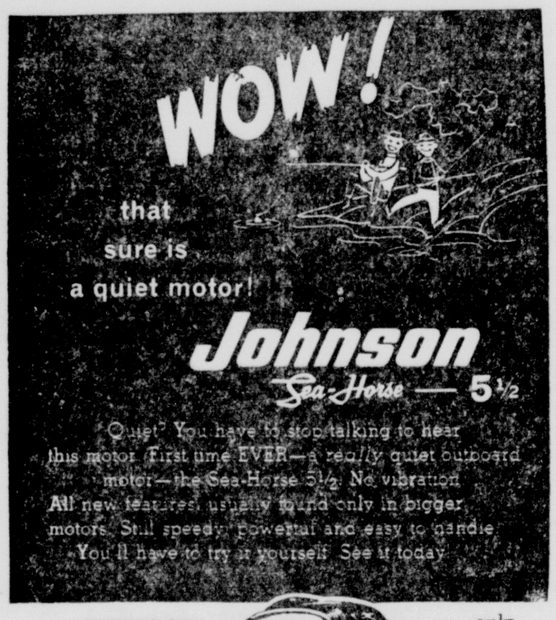

MILAN, Italy, April 17—UP—Italian police seized nine tons of high-grade strategic cobalt at the Swiss border Saturday. It was concealed under a cargo of bricks in a truck leaving Italy for Switzerland. The smugglers apparently intended to transship the valuable material to Iron Curtain countries, the police said.

PAR Says State Ranks Second In School Lunches

BATON ROUGE, April 17 (AP)—Louisiana is second only to New York in public support of the school lunch program, the Public Affairs Research Council noted today.

In its monthly news analysis, PAR said Louisiana public contributions last year were 11.2 million dollars, compared with 19.3 for New York, five times more populous.

PAR, a private, non-profit research agency, said Louisiana's public contributions consisted of 8.8 million local and state money, 1.7 million appropriated by the federal government, and an estimated $697,000 in surplus commodities distributed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Nude Stunt Wins Movie Contract

LONDON, April 17 —UP— Red-haired Simone Silva, the girl who posed naked from the waist up to win Hollywood's notice, has succeeded.

The shapely British starlet flys to the United States Sunday with a movie and television contract. And she vowed Saturday that she still would do anything to be a Hollywood success—even to peeling.

"If I though it really would help me I'd go on, I want to feel America is with me," she said.

If the letters she has received since she posed stripped to the waist at Cannes with Actor Robert Mitchum, are any indication, she will be well supported.

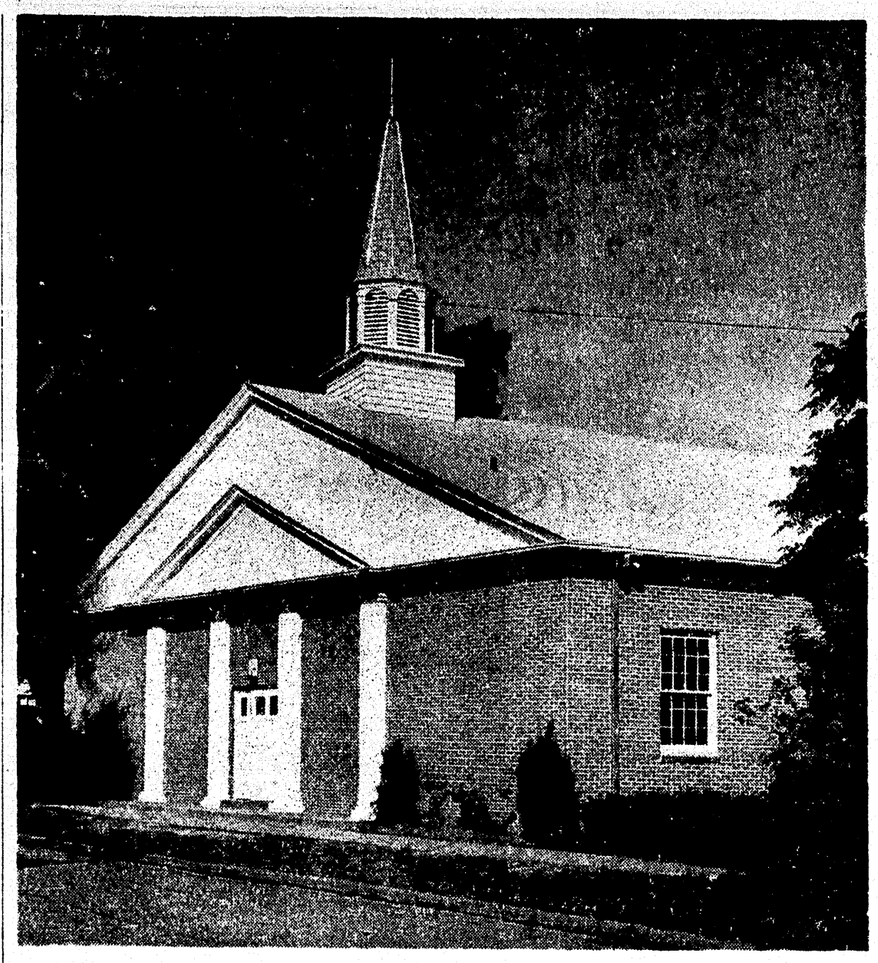

"I did that to make Hollywood notice me," the busty starlet said of the Cannes incident. "But from now on I'm going to concentrate on acting."

That is if her success does not depend on stripping again.

Her last strip act made front pages and won the attention of Al Petker, president of Bor-Petker.

Petker offered Simone a contract and role in an American film he is making at the former United Artists Studios.

There were only 42,181 franchised new car dealers in the United States in 1954 compared to 47,336 before World War II.

HANDSOME EXPANDED CHURCH EDIFICE—Shown herewith is the reconditioned Assembly of God Church, Hall and Calypso Sts., It has seating capacity of 700 which has become needed because of the rapid growth of the church and its activities.

Newly Expanded Assembly Of God Church Opening

Easter Sunday will be a great day for the Central Assembly of God Church at Hall and Calypso streets, for it will mark the throwing open of the new brick, air-conditioned auditorium. The pastor of this church is Rev. G. E. Chambers, who anticipates a large and enthusiastic attendance.

This church had its beginning ten years ago under the leadership of Rev. L. O. Waldon who pastored the church eight years. Under Rev. Waldon's leadership the people were able to build a 32 by 40 foot building. Then a few years later they were able to add to the back of church a Sunday school building.

Rev. Waldon two years ago accepted the church in Malvern, Ark., and Rev. G. E. Chambers of Hot Springs, Ark., was called by the congregation as pastor. Since Rev. Chambers coming, the church has had a phenomenal growth, making it necessary for a much larger building.

In 1953 the old church was moved to the rear of the lot, and a new building started one hundred and six feet long and fifty eight wide with a seating capacity of 700.

This building has been equipped with the latest furniture and fixtures.

There will be a big attendance it is expected to all services and the pastor and his friends extend sincere thanks to those who made possible this greatly expanded church edifice.

There will be an old - fashioned dinner on the grounds at the noon hour.

Two Local Firms Are Incoporated

Wade O. Martin, Jr., Louisiana secretary of state, Saturday announced that two local firms are forming corporations and that one is increasing capital.

The firms which are incorporating are:

Independent Construction Corporation, 1107 Alexander street, Monroe, general contracting, with $25,000 capital.

Frazer Ice Company, Inc., 3000 Lee Avenue, Monroe, manufacturing ice, with $20,000 capital.

Greater Monroe Homes, Inc., has increased its capital to $50,000.

Gospel Singing Meeting Apr. 25 In Shreveport

Singers, and those who enjoy listening to inspirational gospel singing, will assemble in Shreveport, several thousand strong, on April 24 and 25 for the 20th annual tri-state singing convention. This year's meeting marks 20 years of growth and progress. The first tri-state singing convention was held in Shreveport in 1933, and, with the exception of two war years, has been held here each spring since that time.

Sessions of the convention will be held in the municipal auditorium, corner Grand avenue and Milam, beginning at 2 p. m. Saturday, followed by a night session from 7 to 10:30 p. m. Sunday the singing will start at 9:30 a. m. and continue until 4:30 p. m.

The scope of this convention is much broader than its name indicates, as last year singers from eight different states were registered, and this year an equally representative crowd is anticipated. There will be quartets, trios, duets and solos, and, of course, lots of resounding group singing. Several nationally known professional quartets will sing, and there will be numerous non - professional quartets and other singing groups.

The conventions committee of the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the tri - state singing convention, and arrangements have been made to include as part of the program Sunday morning welcoming the singers to Shreveport by city officials and Chamber of Commerce officials. William W. Holeman of Shreveport is president of the tri-state singing convention this year, and he is most enthusiastic. "I expect this to be the finest and best attended tri-state singing convention held so far," he predicts. President Holeman states the public is invited to attend all convention sessions.

Editor Praises Impartiality Of Press Services

WASHINGTON, April 17 —UP— Norman E. Isaacs, managing editor of the Louisville Times, said Saturday American wire services and newspapers have been notably free of bias in reporting the news.

He conceded that a few newspapers permit "slanting" of the news, but "the vast majority report the news as fairly as they can and as honestly as they can."

He spoke at a workshop session of the annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors devoted to self-examination of the press and its problems.

The three-day convention ended Saturday night with a banquet meeting at which former President Herbert Hoover called for "a period of self denial in government spending" and "no further tax cuts" until the federal budget is balanced.

James S. Pope, executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, was elected president of the society for the coming year.

Isaacs told the editors they can be proud of the overall record of the American press in presenting the news fairly.

"There is some slanting," he said, "but it is precious little when put up against the whole broad framework of our performance."

He said he could not agree with the complaints of some editors that wire service copy is sometimes slanted.

"They may be able to point to some errors. But I don't believe they would be able to substantiate a charge of bias. . .the record of the press services has been a sound one."

Traffic Safety Award Offered By K. P. Lodge

W. T. White, chancellor commander of the Stonewall Lodge No. 8 of the Knights of Pythias, announced here Saturday that the Knights of Pythias are conducting a continent-wide contest seeking the best suggestion for solving the traffic safety problem on the local community level.

Winner of the first prize in the contest will receive an all expenses paid trip to Washington, D. C., and Ottawa, anada, and will be presented with the flags which have flown over the capitols of both countries while they are in the cities.

The contest is open to individuals or organizations and suggestions for plans for community action in solving the traffic safety problem should be sent to Dale Stump, Columbus 15, Ohio. Stump is directing the Knights of Pythias continent-wide highway courtesy campaign.

GIVEN POSITION —Cecil W. Hutto, formerly associated with the Rountree Oldsmobile-Cadillac dealership in Shreveport, has been named service manager of the Twin City Motor Company here. Hutto is married, and the father of a seven-year-old daughter and a seven-month-old son. He is a veteran of World War II and a member of the Baptist Church.

Y. W. C. A. Plans Open House In 'Y' Week

The Monroe Young Women's Christian Association, now 24 years old, joins heartily with the national organization which in another year will celebrate its centennial. Next year it plans a huge celebration.

The "Y" will conduct an open house at 1515 Jackson street, Thursday, April 22 from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. All friends of the "Y" and prospective friends are urged to call and become better acquainted, states the executive secretary, Miss Bess Sharp. Largely due to her indefatigable efforts and life fully consecrated to the upbringing of girls and young woman, much of the local success here is attributed.

Some fact about the "Y" nationwide are of interest. They disclosed a great and needed organization at work, and which is to observe "Y" week from April 19-25.

The following statement was issued:

"More than 3,000,000 girls and women in the United States and uncounted others in 66 countries around the world are engaged in the YWCA's extensive program of education, recreation and spiritual development — a program rooted in a unifying Christian purpose.

"The Y. W. C. A., looking to new frontiers in this its 99th year, stands on the threshold of celebrating its Centennial — 100 years of service during which it has seen needs of women and girls in relation to contemporary society and has done something about them.

"Today, as the YWCA continues to help women gain the understanding, experience and a sense of responsibility which makes it possible for them to make their fullest contribution as citizens, the association provides classes in a wide variety of subjects depending on the interest of its members. It has branched out from large metropolitan areas into smaller cities and towns, and more recently into rural districts. New associations are springing up everywhere. Population shifts, many brought on by the nation's continued defense efforts, have resulted in the formation of YWCA service centers to provide the home away from home, or to help the moving Americans to adjust more easily to their new patterns of living.

"The more than 1,300 organizations in the United States are located in cities, towns and villages and on university and college campuses. Through the national board with headquarters at 600 Lexington Avenue, New York 22, New York, the YWCA of the U. S. A. unites with other national associations to form the world's YWCA.

"While the YWCA earlier showed particular concern for the employed women, its activities have broadened to include teen-agers—both boys and girls—and also the young wives and mothers as well as those older "young women" who look to the YWCA as an agency through which they can continue to develop physically, mentally and spiritually, and through which they can give service to others."

Farmers Reject Offered Damages For Crop Losses

NEW ORLEANS —UP— Representatives of farmers from three parishes, who claim that a weed-killing chemical sprayed by U. S. engineers ruined their cotton crops, said here that compensation offered them was $1,000,000 below that of actual damage.

LSU and state agricultural department officials, representing the farmers, met with a group of agricultural consultants engaged by the engineers in the United States district engineer's office here.

The cotton farmers said that the chemical, 2-4-D, spread from the Morganza Spillway area where it was sprayed by engineers, to their fields in Pointe Coupee, St. Landry and Avoyelles parishes.

The farmers said they were offered compensation of from $200,000 to $300,000, but that actual damage was a million dollars more than that.

Briefs on the case will be presented to the Mississippi River Commission and a final decision will be made by its president, Brig. Gen. John R. Hardin.

Many Are Running Near Deadline On Home Exemptions

Approximately 80 per cent of the homeowners in Ouachita parish have signed homestead tax exemption forms, Bert Coverdale, parish tax assessor, said Saturday. This is an increase from 65 per cent last week, he pointed out.

However, there still are a number of persons eligible for the tax reductions if the forms are signed by the May 15 deadline, which is less than one month off. In the event the applications are not signed by that time, Coverdale stated, the state law requires that the reduction not be given.

In making the announcement, Coverdale again reminded all persons who have not signed the forms to do so as soon as possible, and "to avoid the rush which always accompanies the deadline period." Only a few minutes are required for the forms to be signed, when the homeowners come by the office, he said.

"Our office is being kept open during the noon hour so that persons working in offices may be able to take advantage of the lower taxes. In addition, the office is open on Saturday mornings for those who cannot come at any other time. Coverdale pointed out that his office is located on the first floor of the court house.

W. T. White, chancellor commander of the Stonewall Lodge No. 8 of the Knights of Pythias, announced here Saturday that the Knights of Pythias are conducting a continent-wide contest seeking the best suggestion for solving the traffic safety problem on the local community level.

Winner of the first prize in the contest will receive an all expenses paid trip to Washington, D. C., and Ottawa, anada, and will be presented with the flags which have flown over the capitols of both countries while they are in the cities.

The contest is open to individuals or organizations and suggestions for plans for community action in solving the traffic safety problem should be sent to Dale Stump, Columbus 15, Ohio. Stump is directing the Knights of Pythias continent-wide highway courtesy campaign.

GIVEN POSITION —Cecil W. Hutto, formerly associated with the Rountree Oldsmobile-Cadillac dealership in Shreveport, has been named service manager of the Twin City Motor Company here. Hutto is married, and the father of a seven-year-old daughter and a seven-month-old son. He is a veteran of World War II and a member of the Baptist Church.

Y. W. C. A. Plans Open House In 'Y' Week

The Monroe Young Women's Christian Association, now 24 years old, joins heartily with the national organization which in another year will celebrate its centennial. Next year it plans a huge celebration.

The "Y" will conduct an open house at 1515 Jackson street, Thursday, April 22 from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. All friends of the "Y" and prospective friends are urged to call and become better acquainted, states the executive secretary, Miss Bess Sharp. Largely due to her indefatigable efforts and life fully consecrated to the upbringing of girls and young woman, much of the local success here is attributed.

Some fact about the "Y" nationwide are of interest. They disclosed a great and needed organization at work, and which is to observe "Y" week from April 19-25.

The following statement was issued:

"More than 3,000,000 girls and women in the United States and uncounted others in 66 countries around the world are engaged in the YWCA's extensive program of education, recreation and spiritual development — a program rooted in a unifying Christian purpose.

"The Y. W. C. A., looking to new frontiers in this its 99th year, stands on the threshold of celebrating its Centennial — 100 years of service during which it has seen needs of women and girls in relation to contemporary society and has done something about them.

"Today, as the YWCA continues to help women gain the understanding, experience and a sense of responsibility which makes it possible for them to make their fullest contribution as citizens, the association provides classes in a wide variety of subjects depending on the interest of its members. It has branched out from large metropolitan areas into smaller cities and towns, and more recently into rural districts. New associations are springing up everywhere. Population shifts, many brought on by the nation's continued defense efforts, have resulted in the formation of YWCA service centers to provide the home away from home, or to help the moving Americans to adjust more easily to their new patterns of living.

"The more than 1,300 organizations in the United States are located in cities, towns and villages and on university and college campuses. Through the national board with headquarters at 600 Lexington Avenue, New York 22, New York, the YWCA of the U. S. A. unites with other national associations to form the world's YWCA.

"While the YWCA earlier showed particular concern for the employed women, its activities have broadened to include teen-agers—both boys and girls—and also the young wives and mothers as well as those older "young women" who look to the YWCA as an agency through which they can continue to develop physically, mentally and spiritually, and through which they can give service to others."

Many Are Running Near Deadline On Home Exemptions

Approximately 80 per cent of the homeowners in Ouachita parish have signed homestead tax exemption forms, Bert Coverdale, parish tax assessor, said Saturday. This is an increase from 65 per cent last week, he pointed out.

However, there still are a number of persons eligible for the tax reductions if the forms are signed by the May 15 deadline, which is less than one month off. In the event the applications are not signed by that time, Coverdale stated, the state law requires that the reduction not be given.

In making the announcement, Coverdale again reminded all persons who have not signed the forms to do so as soon as possible, and "to avoid the rush which always accompanies the deadline period." Only a few minutes are required for the forms to be signed, when the homeowners come by the office, he said.

"Our office is being kept open during the noon hour so that persons working in offices may be able to take advantage of the lower taxes. In addition, the office is open on Saturday mornings for those who cannot come at any other time. Coverdale pointed out that his office is located on the first floor of the court house.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Northeast Louisiana State's baseball team may or may not have everything it takes to win the Gulf States Conference championship, but Coach "Woody" Boyles has his boys in the thick of the race and running a strong second with three consecutive league wins after a shaky start against non-conference rivals and losing the league opener to S. L. I.

After only four years as a baseball coach, and the first as tutor of American Legion Juniors at Delhi, the former Northeast football quarterback is commanding growing respect for his know-how in handling young baseball prospects. We can remember when some fans didn't agree with Woody's methods when he left Delhi to join the coaching staff at Northeast and take over the task of coaching Monroe's American Legion Juniors as well. But two successive state Junior championships, plus the Legion club that went to the national sectional last year for Monroe's first representation that high in junior competition has been convincing. Boyles' Delhi Juniors of 1950 were the first and only team from that town to reach the state district playoffs.

Boyles' "graduates" are making good too. A couple of weeks ago we mentioned Walter Bennett making the Wheaton College team as a freshman. The same holds true for Ray Rhymes, a third baseman on one of Woody's Legion teams, who is playing as a freshman on L. S. U.'s starting varsity.

Just about every boy off his Delhi team is playing college ball. Louisiana College has "Sonny" Clark and Billy Ray Snyder. Pat Patterson, Leamond Best, and Milford Andrews are at Louisiana Tech. Joe Meeks and Buck Jones got in one year at Tech before getting service calls, and Glenn Carroll and Jodie Carroll never got a chance at college, going immediately into military service. Chuck Johns, a fine baseball player, went to L. S. U. on a football scholarship, and Tiger tutors are saving him solely for the grid. Arthur Arnold was last accounted for playing pro ball in the Pony League.

In addition to Ray Rhymes at L. S. U. off his Monroe teams, Boyles has Jackie Neal, Gerald Hare, and Tommy Leos still with him as Northeast players. He had John Ensminger until service called, and military demands also took Guy Gannaway, Frank Scalia, and Ed Estep who were good college prospects.

Among some of his prime boys, still in high school, are Art Swanson, Gene Barham, Wayne Causey, Ike McMullen, Freddie Frickie, Wayne Hendrix, Billy Hardy, Jerry LaPrarie, and Dave "Chubby" Johnston, all in Neville, Ouachita, or West Monroe High. Another member of Monroe's state champion squad of last year, Bobby Joe Dunn, is pitching for little Haughton High and fanned 15 batters in his first start of the season against Byrd High "B" team.

Of course Woody doesn't claim all the credit for developing these boys. Jim Hodgins at Ouachita, Jim Coats at Neville, and now, Bobby Wilson at West Monroe, are having a big hand in bringing the talent along. Actually, the high school and Legion coaches are a help to each other. It pays off in a better brand of high school baseball for the Twin Cities as well as classy Legion clubs.

Boyles' Redskins failed to get fielding and hitting in early season games, and the Indian diamond chief elected to work his freshmen pitchers as often as possible with an eye to the future. Lately, the Tribe has shown better fielding, the hitting has improved, and the pitchers have been doing okay. Could be the Boyles treatment.

Girl Wrestlers Pair With Chief, Wolf Man

Girl wrestlers are featured in Gus Kallio's Tuesday night Arena attraction, with Suzanne Smith, in her first appearance here, pairing with Indian Chief Apache against Millie Stafford and the Alaska Wolf Man in the relay main match. The bout will be two-of-three falls to win, with a 90-minute time limit.

In the opener, also two-of-three falls to win, but with a 45-minute time limit, rugged Danny. Dusek returns to the local mat to take on Mexican Charro Aztec.

West Monroe's Bill Barney, who snapped Paddy Mack's four-week win streak last Tuesday night, is scheduled to referee both bouts, the first of which is slated for 8:15 p.m.

Miss Smith is billed as an excellent, crowd-pleasing wrestler, and has informed all promoters that she is available, seeking and waiting for the opportunity to meet champion Mildred Burke.

Taller than most girl grapplers, Suzanne Smith is reputedly a pleasing young lady, either in ring togs or street clothes.

Miss Stafford, her opponent on the "villainous" team, will be remembered for her slam-bang match with champion Mildred here some months ago. Strong, agile, and a mat veteran, Miss Stafford is one of the "name" girl combatants, and easily showed why with her ability against Miss Burke.

The Chief needs no introduction, having wrestled here for six consecutive weeks. His colorful appearance, as well as his war whoops and dances, and his unique headstanding hammerlock have made him a prime fan favorite.

The Wolfe Man is a burly, rugged husky, with a muscular build and a half-grown beard. He pounded Aztec into submission to earn a disqualification in his first appearance here, and was on the losing end of a relay match with Pat Cronin as his partner the following Tuesday. Last week, he defeated Cronin in a rough match, earning the right to pair with Miss Stafford this week.

Dusek, who fought some scientific as well as villainous matches here in the past, will need all his skill Tuesday against big Charro. The latter, conqueror of Al Massey, but loser last week to Apache, is a renowned villain, who incurs the crowd's wrath merely by his arrogant strut from the dressing room to the ring.

The senior National AAU four-wall soft ball handball championships will be held at the New York Athletic Club, April 25 through May 1.

Twin Cities Rally In 9th Shades Fliers

Sports Claim 5-4 Margin Over Lake Charles Air Base

Booming triples by Jimmy Phillips and Chuck Forbes highlighted a ninth inning uprising as the Twin Cities Sports fought from behind a 4-1 deficit to shade Lake Charles Air Force Base, 5 to 4, in the opening exhibition game of the season for manager Ed Head's Cotton States League crew.

Forbes' lick was the big blow of the four-run frame as he drove in two runs to clinch the game with only one out.

"Buddy" Martin opened the Sports' last turn at bat with a bounder to Andy Montagani at third. The throw to first was wild and Martin romped all the way to third. Herman Herzog also grounded to third where Montagani tagged Martin off base, and it looked bad for the Sports. But Phillips, rookie outfielder from Okay, Ark., slapped a triple into left field, scoring Herzog. Dave Waters singled to center, scoring Phillips and leaving the Sports just a run shy of a tie.

Jesse "Junior" Mercer, the Mangham product who worked all the way for the Fliers, walked Paul Flores to set the stage for Forbes' game-winning blow. Forbes poled his long blow into center field, sending Waters and Flores home.

Bill Halley, Farmerville, went the first three frames for the Sports, blanking the Fliers on one hit and fanning six, two per inning. Ernie Jordan toiled the next three, allowing only one hit but saw the Fliers nab a 2-1 lead. Nick Agnos was then tagged for one hit in two innings, and Sam Adkisson, who pitched only the final frame for the Sports, was reached for three hits and two runs, but he got credit for the victory.

Mercer, whose father, Jesse Mercer, once pitched semi-pro ball in this area, and who has a brother hurling for Mangham High, allowed the Sports only five hits for the first eight innings.

The Sports tallied first in the second inning when Forbes walked and scored on a Sam Chetta double. Lake Charles AFB went ahead in the sixth with two runs on a base on balls, an error, and a single. Bob Edwards, on with a free pass, scored when a Montagani drive got through Jordan and went into center field. A single by Joe Braithwaite, the Fliers' Negro second baseman, scored Montagani.

The Fliers appeared to be salting the game away when they added two more in the ninth on a double by Bill Stevens, singles by Ken Varney and Bob Edwards and an error.

The Sports play the Fliers again tomorrow night in Lake Charles after getting their usual afternoon workout today.

Loyola 9 Wins Ninth; Wheaton 14-1 Victims

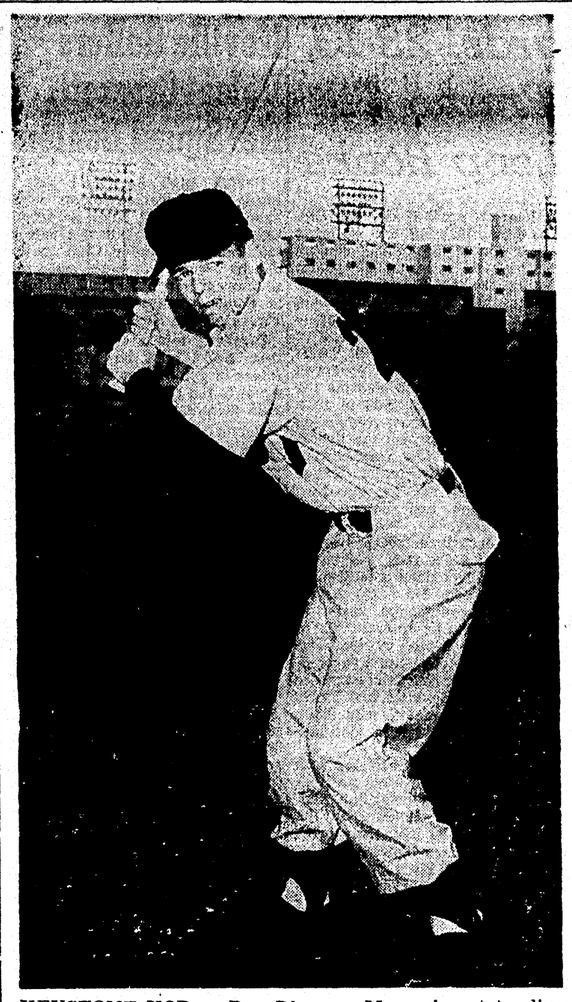

NEW ORLEANS, April 17 (AP) — Loyola won its ninth baseball game of the season today by defeating Wheaton College 14-1.

Four Wheaton pitchers gave up 10 hits and 14 walks. Loyola scored five runs in the second inning off starter Ed Davies on a walk, three singles and two doubles.

Al Belaire pitched the first six innings for Loyola and allowed two hits.

Mister Black Nips Second Avenue In Ben Ali Handicap

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 17 (AP)—Mister Black, a five-year-old speedster imported from Argentine, captured his first American victory today in handy fashion in the $10,000-added Ben Ali Handicap at Keeneland.

Theodore D. Buhl's Second Avenue, a seven-year-old son of War Jeep, was second and T. F. Devereaux's four-year-old colt, Greatest, was third.

Mister Black was timed in 1:27 to equal the track record for the beard course of seven furlongs plus 184 feet. The track was rated slow after heavy rain yesterday. Six horses started in the stakes event for three-year-olds and upward.

Mister Black gave Hasty House farms of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reuben, Toledo, its third consecutive win in the Ben Ali. Hasty House finished one-two last year with Oil Capitol and Seward and Seward won it the year before.

Jockey Johnny Adams brought Mister Black from last place to take the lead near the head of the stretch and the light brown son of Full Sail-Madama X came home 1¾ lengths ahead of Second Avenue.

Second Avenue and Sunny Blue farm's Muscles set the early pace with Second Avenue finishing three lengths ahead of Greatest.

Mister Black carried 122 pounds and had to spot his competitors nine to 20 pounds. He returned $7.-20, $3.40 and $2.80. The mutuel on Second Avenue was $2.60 and $2.20 and Greatest paid $3.60.

LSU's Net Team Easily Defeats Rebels, 9 to 0

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., April 17 (AP)—Undefeated Louisiana State easily won its seventh tennis victory today by defeating Mississippi State 9-0.

Summary:

Charley Pitts beat Bobby Collins 6-0, 6-0.

Paul Young beat Jeff Gregory 6-0, 6-2.

David Rosenbaum beat Robert Rogers 6-1, 6-4.

Ronnie Fenasci beat George Trava 10-8, 5-7, 6-4.

Otto Engleman beat Vincent Scoper 6-1, 6-4.

Buddy Tudor beat Jerry Adcock, 12-10, 6-2.

Fenasci-Engleman beat Adcock-Scoper 6-1, 6-0.

Pitts-Young beat Gregory-Collins 7-5, 6-3.

Tudor-Rosenbaum beat Trava-Rogers 6-0, 6-4.

Scoper 6-1, 6-4.

CLEVELAND, April 17 (AP) — Powered by homers off the bat of Chico Carrasquel, Jim Rivera and Ferris Fain, the Chicago White Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians 8-1 today behind the sharp pitching of righthander Bob Keegan, who allowed the Tribe only four singles. It was Chicago's first win of the season. Art Houtteman, blasted for five runs in the first inning, was the loser.

Keegan, a seven-game winner last season, went the distance for the White Sox. Of the four scattered hits he allowed, two were by Bill Glynn. A walk with the bases loaded in the third inning cost him a shutout.

Bears Get Antonello, Wojey From Dodgers

BROOKLYN, April 17 (AP)—Bill Antonello, 27-year-old outfielder who hit .163 in 40 games with Brooklyn last year, was sold outright to Mobile of the Southern Association today. Mobile is in the Dodger farm system.

At the same time Pete Wojey, 31-year old rookie right-handed pitcher, was optioned to Mobile. Wojey had a 14-9 record with Fort Worth of the Texas League last year.

SPTS—ORIOLES— DH

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles of the American League today announced they have traded outfielder Jim Dyck for Cleveland outfielder Bob Kennedy.

Both men bat and throw right handed. Manager Art Ehlers of the Orioles said it was a straight swap with no cash involved.

Dyck, who is 32, hit nine homers and drove in 27 runs for the old St. Louis Browns last year. He hit .213 in 112 games.

Monroe Will Host Keglers

The Louisiana state championship bowling tournament for men comes to Monroe for the first time next Saturday for eight days of action divided into four weekend installments of two days each.

Keith Moore, director of the Monroe Bowling Center where the action will take place, has announced entry of a total of 86 teams from Alexandria, Baton Rouge, Bogalusa, Lafayette, Lake Charles, Monroe, New Iberia, New Orleans, and Shreveport. In addition there will be 187 doubles contenders, 374 singles, and 350 individual entries in the all-events program.

Backing up the personal acclaim for high finishing keglers will be a total of $2,415 to be distributed in cash awards and a host of trophies and medals worth $291.

Teams from seven cities will be in action next Saturday.

Starting the program on the ten lanes at Monroe Bowling Center at 12:30 o'clock next Saturday morning will be Esso of Baton Rouge, The Brewster Company, Shreveport and the Monroe entries of Neon Sign Service, Longview Equipment, Monroe Sand and Gravel, Pan-Am Oilers, Slagle - Johnson Lumber News-Star—World, Nesbitt's, and F. Third Army Captures Grand National Race

BUTLER, Md., April 17 (AP)—Harry A. Love's Third Army took a command lead in the stretch and romped home eight lengths in front of the pack to capture the 52nd running of the Grand National Point-To-Point race today.

Janon Fisher's Sohrab was second and Maj. Gen R. K. Mellon's Induction finished third in the seven-horse field.

All 18 timber jumps along the rainsoaked three mile course were negotiated without any spills. Third Army's winning time was 6 minutes 18 and 2-5 second.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Northeast Louisiana State's baseball team may or may not have everything it takes to win the Gulf States Conference championship, but Coach "Woody" Boyles has his boys in the thick of the race and running a strong second with three consecutive league wins after a shaky start against non-conference rivals and losing the league opener to S. L. I.

After only four years as a baseball coach, and the first as tutor of American Legion Juniors at Delhi, the former Northeast football quarterback is commanding growing respect for his know-how in handling young baseball prospects. We can remember when some fans didn't agree with Woody's methods when he left Delhi to join the coaching staff at Northeast and take over the task of coaching Monroe's American Legion Juniors as well. But two successive state Junior championships, plus the Legion club that went to the national sectional last year for Monroe's first representation that high in junior competition has been convincing. Boyles' Delhi Juniors of 1950 were the first and only team from that town to reach the state district playoffs.

Boyles' "graduates" are making good too. A couple of weeks ago we mentioned Walter Bennett making the Wheaton College team as a freshman. The same holds true for Ray Rhymes, a third baseman on one of Woody's Legion teams, who is playing as a freshman on L. S. U.'s starting varsity.

Just about every boy off his Delhi team is playing college ball. Louisiana College has "Sonny" Clark and Billy Ray Snyder. Pat Patterson, Leamond Best, and Milford Andrews are at Louisiana Tech. Joe Meeks and Buck Jones got in one year at Tech before getting service calls, and Glenn Carroll and Jodie Carroll never got a chance at college, going immediately into military service. Chuck Johns, a fine baseball player, went to L. S. U. on a football scholarship, and Tiger tutors are saving him solely for the grid. Arthur Arnold was last accounted for playing pro ball in the Pony League.

In addition to Ray Rhymes at L. S. U. off his Monroe teams, Boyles has Jackie Neal, Gerald Hare, and Tommy Leos still with him as Northeast players. He had John Ensminger until service called, and military demands also took Guy Gannaway, Frank Scalia, and Ed Estep who were good college prospects.

Among some of his prime boys, still in high school, are Art Swanson, Gene Barham, Wayne Causey, Ike McMullen, Freddie Frickie, Wayne Hendrix, Billy Hardy, Jerry LaPrarie, and Dave "Chubby" Johnston, all in Neville, Ouachita, or West Monroe High. Another member of Monroe's state champion squad of last year, Bobby Joe Dunn, is pitching for little Haughton High and fanned 15 batters in his first start of the season against Byrd High "B" team.

Of course Woody doesn't claim all the credit for developing these boys. Jim Hodgins at Ouachita, Jim Coats at Neville, and now, Bobby Wilson at West Monroe, are having a big hand in bringing the talent along. Actually, the high school and Legion coaches are a help to each other. It pays off in a better brand of high school baseball for the Twin Cities as well as classy Legion clubs.

Boyles' Redskins failed to get fielding and hitting in early season games, and the Indian diamond chief elected to work his freshmen pitchers as often as possible with an eye to the future. Lately, the Tribe has shown better fielding, the hitting has improved, and the pitchers have been doing okay. Could be the Boyles treatment.

Girl Wrestlers Pair With Chief, Wolf Man

Girl wrestlers are featured in Gus Kallio's Tuesday night Arena attraction, with Suzanne Smith, in her first appearance here, pairing with Indian Chief Apache against Millie Stafford and the Alaska Wolf Man in the relay main match. The bout will be two-of-three falls to win, with a 90-minute time limit.

In the opener, also two-of-three falls to win, but with a 45-minute time limit, rugged Danny. Dusek returns to the local mat to take on Mexican Charro Aztec.

West Monroe's Bill Barney, who snapped Paddy Mack's four-week win streak last Tuesday night, is scheduled to referee both bouts, the first of which is slated for 8:15 p.m.

Miss Smith is billed as an excellent, crowd-pleasing wrestler, and has informed all promoters that she is available, seeking and waiting for the opportunity to meet champion Mildred Burke.

Taller than most girl grapplers, Suzanne Smith is reputedly a pleasing young lady, either in ring togs or street clothes.

Miss Stafford, her oppdnent on the "villainous" team, will be remembered for her slam-bang match with champion Mildred here some months ago. Strong, agile, and a mat veteran, Miss Stafford is one of the "name" girl combatants, and easily showed why with her ability against Miss Burke.

The Chief needs no introduction, having wrestled here for six consecutive weeks. His colorful appearance, as well as his war whoops and dances, and his unique headstanding hammerlock have made him a prime fan favorite.

The Wolfe Man is a burly, rugged husky, with a muscular build and a half-grown beard. He pounded Aztec into submission to earn a disqualification in his first appearance here, and was on the losing end of a relay match with Pat Cronin as his partner the following Tuesday. Last week, he defeated Cronin in a rough match, earning the right to pair with Miss Stafford this week.

Dusek, who fought some scientific as well as villainous matches here in the past, will need all his skill Tuesday against big Charro. The latter, conqueror of Al Massey, but loser last week to Apache, is a renowned villain, who incurs the crowd's wrath merely by his arrogant strut from the dressing room to the ring.

The senior National AAU four-wall soft ball handball championships will be held at the New York Athletic Club, April 25 through May 1.

Twin Cities Rally In 9th Shades Fliers

Sports Claim 5-4 Margin Over Lake Charles Air Base

Booming triples by Jimmy Phillips and Chuck Forbes highlighted a ninth inning uprising as the Twin Cities Sports fought from behind a 4-1 deficit to shade Lake Charles Air Force Base, 5 to 4, in the opening exhibition game of the season for manager Ed Head's Cotton States League crew.

Forbes' lick was the big blow of the four-run frame as he drove in two runs to clinch the game with only one out.

"Buddy" Martin opened the Sports' last turn at bat with a bounder to Andy Montagani at third. The throw to first was wild and Martin romped all the way to third. Herman Herzog also grounded to third where Montagani tagged Martin off base, and it looked bad for the Sports. But Phillips, rookie outfielder from Okay, Ark., slapped a triple into left field, scoring Herzog. Dave Waters singled to center, scoring Phillips and leaving the Sports just a run shy of a tie.

Jesse "Junior" Mercer, the Mangham product who worked all the way for the Fliers, walked Paul Flores to set the stage for Forbes' game-winning blow. Forbes poled his long blow into center field, sending Waters and Flores home.

Bill Halley, Farmerville, went the first three frames for the Sports, blanking the Fliers on one hit and fanning six, two per inning. Ernie Jordan toiled the next three, allowing only one hit but saw the Fliers nab a 2-1 lead. Nick Agnos was then tagged for one hit in two innings, and Sam Adkisson, who pitched only the final frame for the Sports, was reached for three hits and two runs, but he got credit for the victory.

Mercer, whose father, Jesse Mercer, once pitched semi-pro ball in this area, and who has a brother hurling for Mangham High, allowed the Sports only five hits for the first eight innings.

The Sports tallied first in the second inning when Forbes walked and scored on a Sam Chetta double. Lake Charles AFB went ahead in the sixth with two runs on a base on balls, an error, and a single. Bob Edwards, on with a free pass, scored when a Montagani drive got through Jordan and went into center field. A single by Joe Braithwaite, the Fliers' Negro second baseman, scored Montagani.

The Fliers appeared to be salting the game away when they added two more in the ninth on a double by Bill Stevens, singles by Ken Varney and Bob Edwards and an error.

The Sports play the Fliers again tomorrow night in Lake Charles after getting their usual afternoon workout today.

Loyola 9 Wins Ninth; Wheaton 14-1 Victims

NEW ORLEANS, April 17 (AP)—Loyola won its ninth baseball game of the season today by defeating Wheaton College 14-1.

Four Wheaton pitchers gave up 10 hits and 14 walks. Loyola scored five runs in the second inning off starter Ed Davies on a walk, three singles and two doubles.

Al Belaire pitched the first six innings for Loyola and allowed two hits.

Mister Black Nips Second Avenue In Ben Ali Handicap

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 17 (AP)—Mister Black, a five-year-old speedster imported from Argentine, captured his first American victory today in handy fashion in the $10,000-added Ben Ali Handicap at Keeneland.

Theodore D. Buhl's Second Avenue, a seven-year-old son of War Jeep, was second and T. F. Devereaux's four-year-old colt, Greatest, was third.

Mister Black was timed in 1:27 to equal the track record for the beard course of seven furlongs plus 184 feet. The track was rated slow after heavy rain yesterday. Six horses started in the stakes event for three-year-olds and upward.

Mister Black gave Hasty House farms of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reuben, Toledo, its third consecutive win in the Ben Ali. Hasty House finished one-two last year with Oil Capitol and Seward and Seward won it the year before.

Jockey Johnny Adams brought Mister Black from last place to take the lead near the head of the stretch and the light brown son of Full Sail-Madama X came home 1¾ lengths ahead of Second Avenue.

Second Avenue and Sunny Blue farm's Muscles set the early pace with Second Avenue finishing three lengths ahead of Greatest.

Mister Black carried 122 pounds and had to spot his competitors nine to 20 pounds. He returned $7.-20, $3.40 and $2.80. The mutuel on Second Avenue was $2.60 and $2.20 and Greatest paid $3.60.

LSU's Net Team Easily Defeats Rebels, 9 to 0

CLEVELAND, April 17 (AP)—Powered by homers off the bat of Chico Carrasquel, Jim Rivera and Ferris Fain, the Chicago White Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians 8-1 today behind the sharp pitching of righthander Bob Keegan, who allowed the Tribe only four singles. It was Chicago's first win of the season. Art Houtteman, blasted for five runs in the first inning, was the loser.

Keegan, a seven-game winner last season, went the distance for the White Sox. Of the four scattered hits he allowed, two were by Bill Glynn. A walk with the bases loaded in the third inning cost him a shutout.

BROOKLYN, April 17 (AP)—Bill Antonello, 27-year-old outfielder who hit .163 in 40 games with Brooklyn last year, was sold outright to Mobile of the Southern Association today. Mobile is in the Dodger farm system.

At the same time Pete Wojey, 31-year old rookie right-handed pitcher, was optioned to Mobile. Wojey had a 14-9 record with Fort Worth of the Texas League last year.

SPTS—ORIOLES— DH

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles of the American League today announced they have traded outfielder Jim Dyck for Cleveland outfielder Bob Kennedy.

Both men bat and throw right handed. Manager Art Ehlers of the Orioles said it was a straight swap with no cash involved.

Dyck, who is 32, hit nine homers and drove in 27 runs for the old St. Louis Browns last year. He hit .213 in 112 games.

Monroe Will Host Keglers

The Louisiana state championship bowling tournament for men comes to Monroe for the first time next Saturday for eight days of action divided into four weekend installments of two days each.

Keith Moore, director of the Monroe Bowling Center where the action will take place, has announced entry of a total of 86 teams from Alexandria, Baton Rouge, Bogalusa, Lafayette, Lake Charles, Monroe, New Iberia, New Orleans, and Shreveport. In addition there will be 187 doubles contenders, 374 singles, and 350 individual entries in the all-events program.

Backing up the personal acclaim for high finishing keglers will be a total of $2,415 to be distributed in cash awards and a host of trophies and medals worth $291.

Teams from seven cities will be in action next Saturday.

Northeast Crushes Arkansas A And M Nine, 13-5

Indians' Gerald Hare Leader Of 13-Hit Assault

By TED HECKATHORN

The Northeast State Tribesmen, with freshment Delmar Thompson and J. B. Nolan collaborating to pitch six-hit, five-run ball, unleashed a 13-hit attack to smash the Arkansas A and M Weevils here yesterday afternoon, 13-5.

Thompson started for the Indians, and gave up all six hits and a pair of runs in his six-inning stint. Nolan hurled the remaining three, and although he permitted no hits, five bases on balls led to three Green and White runs.

Second baseman Gerald Hare was the big man with the lumber for the Indians, rapping a triple, double and single in four trips, driving in four runs, and scoring two himself.

Nolan hit twice in four official trips, including a two-bagger, drove in two runs, and scored three. Clyde Thompson also tallied three times, two resulting from bases on balls.

Tommy Leos, Tribe leadoff batter, managed to get on base five of his six trips to the plate, hitting twice, walking twice, and safe on an error. The speedy leftfielder pilfered three bases, scored two runs, and made the outstanding catch of the game, an over-the-shoulder, running snag of a powerful fifth-inning drive that was labeled "homer" from the crack of the bat.

The home team tallied one in the second, on Nolan's double and pitcher Thompson's first single; and five the next inning on just two hits. Hare's triple and Delmar's second single. Two bases on balls and an infield error contributed to the Tribe rally.

A single run in the third, on a Leos single, a walk, and a fielder's choice that turned into a double play; and six "insurance" markers in the sixth closed the Northeast platter parade.

Six runs on six hits in inning six came from singles by Jackie Neal, batting for Delmar Thompson; Leos, Clyde Thompson, Camillo Detore, Nolan, and Hare's two-aacker. Bases on balls to Don Stewart and Neal in his second trip of the inning, plus Wes Jinks getting conked by a curve ball, contributed to the parade. In all, the Tribe batted around, with two men getting two chances apiece at the plate.

The Indian fielding was shoddy, with Stewart at short having probably the most miserable afternoon of his career, booting five grounders to be charged with one-half of the Indian miscues.

The visitors had only one extra base blow, a triple from the bat of Tom Godwin in the fourth.

Bengals Limited To 3 Blows, But Nip Orioles, 1-0

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers used two of their three hits in the fourth inning to score a 1-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles today.

A shivering crowd of 9,955 was treated to hot pitching as Ned Garver, once a member of the opposition when it was the St. Louis Browns, frustrated the Orioles with five singles.

Joe Coleman gave the Tigers their three hits, two of them by shortstop Harvey Kuenn, in eight innings and Howie Fox stopped them in the ninth.

Cubs Blast Cards, 23-13, In Longest 9-Frame Tilt On National Loop Books

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, blasting six opposing pitchers for 20 hits, today ran up their highest score in 32 years, crushing the St. Louis Cardinals 23-13 in the longest nine-inning game in National League history—three hours and 43 minutes.

The Cubs, who battered St. Louis 13-4 in the season opener, produced their most runs since defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 26-23 in 1922.

The previous longest regulation game was 3:38 between the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants, Sept. 6, 1952. The major league record is 3:52 set by the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox, last May.

Today's weird contest before 14,609 Wrigley Field fans, played in a brisk wind, included a total of 35 hits, 16 of them for extra bases.

The Cubs contributed seven of the 10 doubles hammered. There also was one triple, by the Cardinals' Wally Moon, and five homers. Hitting for the circuit were the Cards' Rip Repulski, Sol Yvars and rookie Tom Alston, who made his first major league a four-bagger.

The Cubs went ahead to stay with five runs in the third when Ransom Jackson and Hal Jeffcoat homered. They blasted out 10 runs in the fifth when 16 men took their turns and pounded seven blows. Eight of the runs in the big innings were earned.

2 Texarkana Boys Ruled Off Vandy Athletic Squads

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 17 (AP)—Southeastern Conference Commissioner Bernie Moore today barred two Texarkana, Ark., high school athletes from participating in athletics at Vanderbilt University.

The announcement said Paul Caver and Robert Northcutt would not be eligible for athletics at Vanderbilt: "because of an infraction of the SEC tryout rule Feb. 13-14."

Moore added that the ruling "does not preclude these young men from participating in intercollegiate athletics at any other Southeastern Conference institution.

"My investigation of the situation revealed there was no planned or directed, workout of Caver and Northcutt," the commissioner said.

"I do think the spirit of the rule was violated, however, when these boys were allowed to put on sweat clothes and go out on the playing field. This may have given a member of a coaching staff an opportunity to partially evaluate the abilities of the prospective students.

"There was no evidence Vanderbilt violated any conference transportation rule. The boys either came to Nashville on their own or were sent or taken there by an alumnus."

The Arkansas Athletic Association has ruled Caver, a fullback, and Northcutt, a lineman, ineligible for high school athletics after their visit to Vanderbilt.

L. T. I. Pels Split Two-Game Series With Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark., April 17—(Special)—Louisiana Training Institute of Monroe blasted Arkansas Boys Industrial School, 12-5, here this morning to even their two-game series here. The Arkansas team won yesterday afternoon's opener, 13-11.

While Smith was tossing a five-hitter at the Pine Bluff club today, his Pelican mates banged out nine hits, three of them by Robinson, and took advantage of seven errors to win. Hemphrey got two of the Pine Bluff hits.

Rival pitchers each gave up eleven hits in Friday's game with Collins and Vernon Jones each getting three for L.T.I., while S. Jones, Dailey and Holt got two each for the Razorbacks.

The two clubs, members of the Southeastern Conference of Boys Industrial Schools, meet in another two-game series at Monroe next Thursday and Friday.

Maroons Sweep Twin Bill From Tigers, 7-1, 2-1

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., April 17 (AP)—Mississippi State beat Louisiana State twice today 7-1 and 2-1 to get back into the Southeastern Conference baseball race with a 5-3 record.

Sophomore pitcher Charles Matthews hurled two hit ball to win the opener, his second victory over LSU. The only LSU run was Paul Zinser's first inning homer. Daryl Whitty singled in the third for the other hit off Matthews.

Mississippi State scored three runs in the first inning and three in the second to ice the game.

Bill Lee Jr. gave up only two hits in losing the nightcap while his teammates got 12 safeties off Joe Wilson who made his first start for Mississippi State.

LSU scored in the first inning when Irvin Delatte singled to bring home Tommy Virgets who had singled and moved to second on a fielder's choice.

Mississippi State ended the scoring in the bottom of the first on Braxton Nail's double which scored Doug Litton who had walked and Parker who had singled.

Call Softball Umps For Wednesday Meet

A meeting of prospective umpires for softball leagues to be sponsored by the Monroe Recreation department this summer has been called for Wednesday night, Jack Hesketh, recreation director, said yesterday.

The meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Monroe Recreation Center. "We want all men interested in umpiring our ball games to be present," Hesketh said.

Neville Golfers Defeat Crossett, Net Squad Beaten

Neville High School golfers avenged two previous losses at the hands of Crossett High School by trouncing their Arkansas rivals at the DeSiard Country Club yesterday by a count of 7½-1½, but Crossett swept seven straight matches in tennis engagements with the Tigers on the Northeast courts.

Crossett, minus the services of their No. 4 man due to a broken finger in gymnastics class, was not equal to the steadily improving Neville golfers yesterday.

Points scored were Roy Nash, Neville 3, Rand Newby, Crossett 0; Jack Rivers, Neville 2½, Mike McDaniels ½; Joe Thomas, Neville, 2, John Broswell, Crossett 1.

Neville goes to Byrd High's Invitational Tri-State Tournament next Friday, both as a team and also in individual matches, at which tournament the best high school talent of several states will participate, including teams from Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, and Oklahoma.

In the tennis matches Robert McCaughan, Crossett, beat Nat Troy 6-2, 6-3; Bobby Greenwood, Crossett, beat Bobby Johnson, Neville, 6-1, 6-1; Fred McCaughan, Crossett, beat Steve Nichols, Neville, 6-0, 6-1; Chaarles Wiggins, Crossett, beat George Varino, Neville, 6-3, 6-4; Wayne Cole, Crossett, beat Billie Allen 7-5, 6-0.

In doubles Wiggins and Fred McCaughan, Crossett, defeated Varino and Nichols, Neville, 6-0, 6-0; Robert McCaughan and Greenwood beat Troy and Johnson 6-3, 6-4.

Logan Socks Pair Over Wall; Braves Trim Reds, 5 To 1

MILWAUKEE, April 17 (AP)—Lew Burdette limited the hard-hitting Cincinnati Redlegs to seven singles and Johnny Logan bashed a pair of home runs today as the Milwaukee Braves coasted to a 5-1 victory before 20,938 fans in County Stadium.

The lanky righthander held the Redlegs hitless from the second through the fifth after yielding one run in the opening inning and then relaxed when his mates built up a substantial margin. Braves' outfielder made only four putouts as Burdette forced the powerful Cincinnati batters to hit into the ground.

The Braves clipped young Corky Valentine, making his first major league start, for all their runs in the first six innings.

Sterlington Asks $2,000 To Boost Recreation Plans

STERLINGTON, La., April 17 (Special)—The proposed Sterlington community recreation program, to depend on a drive to raise $1,000 to support the project, will get underway Friday, April 23, and continue through May 1, it was reported today by George S. Buckner, publicity chairman, following a meeting of the recreation committee.

Business establishments and all adults of the communities of Sterlington and Perryville will be asked to contribute to the recreation fund, Buckner said.

The outlined program includes Buddy League and Little League for boys; basketball, softball, and volley ball for girls; competitive teams in organized leagues; and, funds permitting, separate sports and craft programs for children from the first through the fifth grades in school.

The program will be under the direction of Gene Hardin, and it is possible an assistant will be named to handle the girls program if sufficient funds are available.

Buckner said donation checks should be sent to L. B. Gannaway, Sterlington, chairman of the committee, or handed to any members of the committee.

Helps People Pay Their Bills

J. E. WOOD

Many people here have discovered a new, happy way to get rid of old bills and high monthly payments.

They use the "Bill-Payer" Plan offered by Aetna Finance Co. Bills get paid immediately, with just one payment at one place each month.

"I'm here to help folks who need cash or want to get rid of money worries. Amounts from $50 to $1000 may be obtained on signature only. One visit does it. And everybody likes our friendly, courteous and rapid way of doing business," said the Aetna manager.

Persons here and in nearby towns wishing to use this service, see or phone the Aetna office, 204 N. 2nd Street, Phone 3-6634—Adv.

Miss Suggs Nabs Lead In Zaharias Golf Tournament

BEAUMONT, Tex., April 17 (AP)—Little Louise Suggs, pride of Atlanta, shot a two-over-par 75 today to snatch the lead at the 36-hole mark in the $3,500 Babe Zaharias Open.

Miss Suggs, the quiet miss from Georgia, rushed past Betty Hicks of Durham, N.C., the first day pace-setter, and so did Babe Zaharias the ailing links great for whom the tournament is named, and who admittedly is playing this one out mostly on nerve. Miss Suggs' total is 151.

The Babe did a 76 to make her total 152 and put her in second place.

Miss Hicks zoomed to an 80 and fell down to third at 154.

The leaders:

Louise Suggs, Atlanta, Ga., 76-75—151.

Babe Zaharias, Tampa, Fla., 76-76—152.

Betty Hicks, Durham, N.C., 74-80—154.

Betty MacKinnon, Dallas, 78-77—155.

Fay Crocker, Montevideo, Uruguay, 77-78—155.

Alice Bauer Hagge, Sarasota, Fla., 82-74—156.

Patty Berg, St. Andrews, Ill., 77-79—156.

Betty Bush, Hammond, Ind., 78-78—156

aGloria Armstrong, Oakland, Calif., 80-77—157.

Indians' Gerald Hare Leader Of 13-Hit Assault

By TED HECKATHORN

The Northeast State Tribesmen, with freshment Delmar Thompson and J. B. Nolan collaborating to pitch six-hit, five-run ball, unleashed a 13-hit attack to smash the Arkansas A and M Weevils here yesterday afternoon, 13-5.

Thompson started for the Indians, and gave up all six hits and a pair of runs in his six-inning stint. Nolan hurled the remaining three, and although he permitted no hits, five bases on balls led to three Green and White runs.

Second baseman Gerald Hare was the big man with the lumber for the Indians, rapping a triple, double and single in four trips, driving in four runs, and scoring two himself.

Nolan hit twice in four official trips, including a two-bagger, drove in two runs, and scored three. Clyde Thompson also tallied three times, two resulting from bases on balls.

Tommy Leos, Tribe leadoff batter, managed to get on base five of his six trips to the plate, hitting twice, walking twice, and safe on an error. The speedy leftfielder pilfered three bases, scored two runs, and made the outstanding catch of the game, an over-the-shoulder, running snag of a powerful fifth-inning drive that was labeled "homer" from the crack of the bat.

The home team tallied one in the second, on Nolan's double and pitcher Thompson's first single; and five the next inning on just two hits, Hare's triple and Delmar's second single. Two bases on balls and an infield error contributed to the Tribe rally.

A single run in the third, on a Leos single, a walk, and a fielder's choice that turned into a double play, and six "insurance" markers in the sixth closed the Northeast platter parade.

Six runs on six hits in inning six came from singles by Jackie Neal, batting for Delmar Thompson; Leos, Clyde Thompson, Camillo Detore, Nolan, and Hare's two-sacker. Bases on balls to Don Stewart and Neal in his second trip of the inning, plus Wes Jinks getting conked by a curve ball, contributed to the parade. In all, the Tribe batted around, with two men getting two chances apiece at the plate.

The Indian fielding was shoddy, with Stewart at short having probably the most miserable afternoon of his career, booting five grounders to be charged with one-half of the Indian miscues.

The visitors had only one extra base blow, a triple from the bat of Tom Godwin in the fourth.

The lone first round match awaiting play today pits Henry Hinkle and Frank Davis against Jerry Sugar and John Kelso Jr. First round byes went to the combinations of W. O. Webb-Lester High, and Ed Shaver-Jack Masur.

Bengals Limited To 3 Blows, But Nip Orioles, 1-0

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers used two of their three hits in the fourth inning to score a 1-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles today.

A shivering crowd of 9,955 was treated to hot pitching as Ned Garver, once a member of the opposition when it was the St. Louis Browns, frustrated the Orioles with five singles.

Joe Coleman gave the Tigers their three hits, two of them by shortstop Harvey Kuenn, in eight innings and Howie Fox stopped them in the ninth.

Cubs Blast Cards, 23-13, In Longest 9-Frame Tilt On National Loop Books

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, blasting six opposing pitchers for 20 hits, today ran up their highest score in 32 years, crushing the St. Louis Cardinals 23-13 in the longest nine-inning game in National League history—three hours and 43 minutes.

The Cubs, who battered St. Louis 13-4 in the season opener, produced their most runs since defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 26-23 in 1922.

The previous longest regulation game was 3:38 between the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants, Sept. 6, 1952. The major league record is 3:52 set by the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox, last May.

Today's weird contest before 14,609 Wrigley Field fans, played in a brisk wind, included a total of 35 hits, 16 of them for extra bases.

The Cubs contributed seven of the 10 doubles hammered. There also was one triple, by the Cardinals' Wally Moon, and five homers. Hitting for the circuit were the Cards' Rip Repulski, Sol Yvars and rookie Tom Alston, who made his first major league a four-bagger.

The Cubs went ahead to stay with five runs in the third when Ransom Jackson and Hal Jeffcoat homered. They blasted out 10 runs in the fifth when 16 men took their turns and pounded seven blows. Eight of the runs in the big innings were earned.

2 Texarkana Boys Ruled Off Vandy Athletic Squads

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 17 (AP)—Southeastern Conference Commissioner Bernie Moore today barred two Texarkana, Ark., high school athletes from participating in athletics at Vanderbilt University.

The announcement said Paul Caver and Robert Northcutt would not be eligible for athletics at Vanderbilt "because of an infraction of the SEC tryout rule Feb. 13-14."

Moore added that the ruling "does not preclude these young men from participating in intercollegiate athletics at any other Southeastern Conference institution.

"My investigation of the situation revealed there was no planned or directed, workout of Caver and Northcutt," the commissioner said.

"I do think the spirit of the rule was violated, however, when these boys were allowed to put on sweat clothes and go out on the playing field. This may have given a member of a coaching staff an opportunity to partially evaluate the abilities of the prospective students.

"There was no evidence Vanderbilt violated any conference transportation rule. The boys either came to Nashville on their own or were sent or taken there by an alumnus."

The Arkansas Athletic Association has ruled Caver, a fullback, and Northcutt, a lineman, ineligible for high school athletics after their visit to Vanderbilt.

L. T. I. Pels Split Two-Game Series With Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark., April 17—(Special)—Louisiana Training Institute of Monroe blasted Arkansas Boys Industrial School, 12-5, here this morning to even their two-game series here. The Arkansas team won yesterday afternoon's opener, 13-11.

While Smith was tossing a five-hitter at the Pine Bluff club today, his Pelican mates banged out nine hits, three of them by Robinson, and took advantage of seven errors to win. Hemphrey got two of the Pine Bluff hits.

Rival pitchers each gave up eleven hits in Friday's game with Collins and Vernon Jones each getting three for L.T.I., while S. Jones, Dailey and Holt got two each for the Razorbacks.

The two clubs, members of the Southeastern Conference of Boys Industrial Schools, meet in another two-game series at Monroe next Thursday and Friday.

Maroons Sweep Twin Bill From Tigers, 7-1, 2-1

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., April 17 (AP)—Mississippi State beat Louisiana State twice today 7-1 and 2-1 to get back into the Southeastern Conference baseball race with a 5-3 record.

Sophomore pitcher Charles Matthews hurled two hit ball to win the opener, his second victory over LSU. The only LSU run was Paul Zinser's first inning homer. Daryl Whitty singled in the third for the other hit off Matthews.

Mississippi State scored three runs in the first inning and three in the second to ice the game.

Bill Lee Jr. gave up only two hits in losing the nightcap while his teammates got 12 safeties off Joe Wilson who made his first start for Mississippi State.

LSU scored in the first inning when Irvin Delatte singled to bring home Tommy Virgets who had singled and moved to second on a fielder's choice.

Mississippi State ended the scoring in the bottom of the first on Braxton Nail's double which scored Doug Litton who had walked and Parker who had singled.

First game:

LSU	100 000 0—1 2 4
Miss State	330 001 x—7 7 1

Second game:

LSU	100 000 0—1 12 1
Miss State	200 000 x—2 2 0

Lee and Pettis; Wilson and Nail.

Grover Cleveland Alexander never pitched a no-hitter but in 1915 he hurled four one-hitters.

Neville Golfers Defeat Crossett, Net Squad Beaten

Neville High School golfers avenged two previous losses at the hands of Crossett High School by trouncing their Arkansas rivals at the DeSiard Country Club yesterday by a count of 7½-1½, but Crossett swept seven straight matches in tennis engagements with the Tigers on the Northeast courts.

Crossett, minus the services of their No. 4 man due to a broken finger in gymnastics class, was not equal to the steadily improving Neville golfers yesterday.

Points scored were Roy Nash, Neville 3, Rand Newby, Crossett 0; Jack Rivers, Neville 2½, Mike McDaniels ½; Joe Thomas, Neville, 2, John Broswell, Crossett 1.

Neville goes to Byrd High's Invitational Tri-State Tournament next Friday, both as a team and also in individual matches, at which tournament the best high school talent of several states will participate, including teams from Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, and Oklahoma.

In the tennis matches Robert McCaughan, Crossett, beat Nat Troy 6-2, 6-3; Bobby Greenwood, Crossett, beat Bobby Johnson, Neville, 6-1, 6-1; Fred McCaughan, Crossett, beat Steve Nichols, Neville, 6-0, 6-1; Charles Wiggins, Crossett, beat George Varino, Neville, 6-3, 6-4; Wayne Cole, Crossett, beat Billie Allen 7-5, 6-0.

In doubles Wiggins and Fred McCaughan, Crossett, defeated Varino and Nichols, Neville, 6-0, 6-0; Robert McCaughan and Greenwood beat Troy and Johnson 6-3, 6-4.

Logan Socks Pair Over Wall; Braves Trim Reds, 5 To 1

MILWAUKEE, April 17 (AP)—Lew Burdette limited the hard-hitting Cincinnati Redlegs to seven singles and Johnny Logan bashed a pair of home runs today as the Milwaukee Braves coasted to a 5-1 victory before 20,938 fans in County Stadium.

The lanky righthander held the Redlegs hitless from the second through the fifth after yielding one run in the opening inning and then relaxed when his mates built up a substantial margin. Braves' outfielder made only four putouts as Burdette forced the powerful Cincinnati batters to hit into the ground.

The Braves clipped young Corky Valentine, making his first major league start, for all their runs in the first six innings.

Call Softball Umps For Wednesday Meet

A meeting of prospective umpires for softball leagues to be sponsored by the Monroe Recreation department this summer has been called for Wednesday night, Jack Hesketh, recreation director, said yesterday.

The meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Monroe Recreation Center. "We want all men interested in umpiring our ball games to be present," Hesketh said.

Sterlington Asks $2,000 To Boost Recreation Plans

STERLINGTON, La., April 17 (Special)—The proposed Sterlington community recreation program, to depend on a drive to raise $1,000 to support the project, will get underway Friday, April 23, and continue through May 1, it was reported today by George S. Buckner, publicity chairman, following a meeting of the recreation committee.

Business establishments and all adults of the communities of Sterlington and Perryville will be asked to contribute to the recreation fund, Buckner said.

The outlined program includes Buddy League and Little League for boys; basketball, softball, and volley ball for girls; competitive teams in organized leagues; and, funds permitting, separate sports and craft programs for children from the first through the fifth grades in school.

The program will be under the direction of Gene Hardin, and it is possible an assistant will be named to handle the girls program if sufficient funds are available.

Buckner said donation checks should be sent to L. B. Gannaway, Sterlington, chairman of the committee, or handed to any members of the committee.

Miss Suggs Nabs Lead In Zaharias Golf Tournament

BEAUMONT, Tex., April 17 (AP)—Little Louise Suggs, pride of Atlanta, shot a two-over-par 75 today to snatch the lead at the 36-hole mark in the $3,500 Babe Zaharias Open.

Miss Suggs, the quiet miss from Georgia, rushed past Betty Hicks of Durham, N.C., the first day pace-setter, and so did Babe Zaharias the ailing links great for whom the tournament is named, and who admittedly is playing this one out mostly on nerve. Miss Suggs' total is 151.

The Babe did a 76 to make her total 152 and put her in second place.

Miss Hicks zoomed to an 80 and fell down to third at 154.

The leaders:

Louise Suggs, Atlanta, Ga., 76-75—151.

Babe Zaharias, Tampa, Fla., 76-76—152.

Betty Hicks, Durham, N.C., 74-80—154.

Betty MacKinnon, Dallas, 78-77—155.

Fay Crocker, Montevideo, Uruguay, 77-78—155.

Epps Field Rules Up For Study At L. D. C. Meeting

BATON ROUGE, April 17 (Special)—The Louisiana Department Of Conservation will hold a public hearing in Shreveport, Wednesday, April 21, to establish field rules for the operation of the presently completed gas wells in the Epps Field of West Carroll parish, a department spokesman said today.

The adoption of producing units, allocation of acreage to the units, and the allocation of monthly alloyables will be undertaken, the spokesman said.

The hearing is in connection with gas rock production found at approximately 2,300 feet, and the John Cerniglia-Delta Drilling Co. Wilcox discovery sand at approximately 1,460 feet.

In the new discovery field, John Cerniglia, of Delhi, and the Delta Drilling Co., Tyler, Tex., have five producing wells; Union Producing Co., of Monroe, two wells, and Frank Kelly, Shreveport, and Lloyd Hawkins, of New Orleans, have one producing well each, the Conservation department reports.

New Wildcat Well Spudded In Concordia

FERRIDAY, La., April 17 (Special)—Canton Oil Company and Gulmon have spudded a new wildcat in Section 30-4N-9 East in Concordia Parish. The location is one mile north of the Roseland Field.

Serio-Punches have a producer in Gulf Hunt No. 1 in Section 18-4N-7E in the Bee Brake Field which pumped 70 barrels of 45 gravity oil per day on a 12-64 inch choke in initial production. Perforations were made at 6766-69 in the well which was drilled to a total depth of 6850 feet and completed April 4.

Interstate Natural Gas Co. and Jett Drilling Company No. 2, A. B. Learned in the southwest corner of Section 42-2N-8E, Black Hawk Field, total depth 9000 feet perforated 8098-99 squeezed with 300 sacks of cement, waiting on cement.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 12, Hugh Junkin in Section 51-5N-9E, of the Esperance Point Field. Elevation 61 feet, drilling 6470 feet.

Carter Oil Company No. 1, State in Township 4-N-9E in Fairview Field, elevation 65, drilling at 6980.

6 New Locations For Gas And Oil Tests Are Filed

Six new locations and abandoned wells were listed in the weekly field report of oil and gas wells drilled and completed in the Monroe District for the period ending April 15. The report was issued by the local office of the department of conservation, minerals division.

Listed as plugged and abandoned were wells in Concordia and Grant Parish. The Concordia hole, located in Section 51-5-9E of the Esperance Point field, was the Magnolia Pet. Co.-H. Junkins No. 12 on April 11. The other hole was the F. A. Callery Inc.-Nebo Oil Co., Inc., No. 2, abandoned on April 12 in Sec. 18-8-2W, in a wild cat field of Grant Parish.

New locations listed were:

West Carroll Parish (wild cat field)—A. W. Phillips, Co.-Bruce Lbr. Co. No. 1, 330'SO330'W of the center of Sec. 34-20-9E.

Exploratory Well Will Be Drilled North Of Delhi

DELHI, La., April 17 (Special)—The Lenora Oil Company of Delhi, owned by the interests of Syl Cerniglia and Dr. R. M. Doxier, has signed a contract with A. W. Phillips, West Texas operator, for an exploratory or wildcat well to be drilled into Smackover lime formation on a block of land northeast of here. The 11,617 acre block was obtained by Cerniglia for the company.

Location of the proposed well has been staked in the NE¼ of the SW¼ of Section 14, Township 20 North, Range 9 East in West Carroll parish. The location is approximately in the center of the acreage.

W. M. Plaster, Shreveport geologist, worked the date for the Lenora Oil company.

It is understood that the test will be drilled tight with all information to remain confidential. The well will be drilled northeast of another well drilled in 1945 by the California Company, which showed oil in the Cotton Valley and Smackover formations.

Public Complains That Tax Slashes Not Passed Down

WASHINGTON, April 17 —UP— Members of Congress disclosed Saturday they are getting mail complaints that some of the federal excise tax cuts have not been passed on to consumers.

A random check of offices indicated that these complaints are not, yet at least, flowing in any significant volume. Without price control, Congress could do nothing anyway.

The office of one senator, who represents a populous state, has received about 40 complaints. These complaints mostly involved the admission tax and a failure to reduce the price of tickets for movies, college football, and professional baseball.

Other offices reported fewer complaints and these, too, dealt mostly with the admission tax. Some reported no mail on the subject.

One office received a letter objecting that a skating rink had not reduced its admission fee and another from a college official who said two fountain pen manufacturers had notified dealers there would be no price cut.

Among its many provisions, the excise tax bill enacted last month reduced the excise levies on fountain pens from 15 per cent of the manufacturers' prices to 10 per cent.

It also cut from 20 per cent to 10 per cent the tax on most entertainment tickets and repealed it completely for movie tickets selling at 60 cents or less and for regular season college athletic events.

In its long campaign for excise tax reductions, however, the movie industry never promised to reduce the price of tickets. With business shrinking because of competition from television, theater operators wanted the tax repealed so they could get more money from each customer without raising ticket prices. Otherwise, they said, many theaters would be forced to close.

Aside from the movie situation, congressional debate on the bill reducing excised about $1 billion a year reflected a belief that it would result in generally lower prices and leave consumers with more to spend.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) revealed Saturday that he may seek further excise tax reductions on the administration's tax reform bill now pending before the Senate Finance committee.

Long, a member of that committee, said he was thinking seriously of offering excise tax amendments if the Senate defeated the proposal of Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) to give general income tax relief through an increase in personal income exemptions.

Long said the proposal he is considering would call for complete repeal of the present levies on home appliances and radio and television sets and a reduction in the tax on automobiles. He said he was not ready to say what cut he might suggest for automobiles.

Ball Player In Dutch With Law; Back In Jail

NEW IBERIA, La., —UP— James Noblitt, 44-year-old former New Iberia ball player, was back in jail Saturday after having "struck out" again.

The game of Noblitt vs. the law began on Feb. 19, 1953, when he pleaded guilty to simple battery of his wife.

He was sentenced by Judge James D. Simon to two years in jail and a fine of $300.

However, between Jan. 11, 1953, and the date of his sentencing, Noblitt was in jail again on as many as seven charges. The latter grew out of his alleged beating of his wife and mother-in-law.

Judge Simon suspended the sentence and placed Noblitt on probation for five years on the condition he never return to the state. If he did return, the judge told the former ballplayer he would impose a maximum sentence of four years.

But Noblitt returned and was arrested in New Orleans on March 23, 1953. He spent a year in the Iberia parish jail and was again warned to leave town permanently.

Thursday, he came back again. City police arrested him while he was greeting old acquaintances on the street. He was charged with disturbing the peace, being under the influence of liquor and using obscene and profane language.

"I guess I struck out," Noblitt said.

Parish Jury To Build Milk Plant At Franklinton

FRANKLINTON, La., April 17 (AP) —Alcus Fornea, president of the Washington Parish police jury, today signed a contract with architect-engineers for design and construction of a milk processing plant in or near Franklinton.

The plant, first to be built under the Industries Inducement Act passed by the 1952 Legislature, will be capable of converting 200,000 pounds of raw milk a day into manufactured milk products such as non-fat dry milk, whole milk powder, condensed milk, sweet cream, butter or cheese.

The Louisiana-Mississippi Milk Producers Association will operate the plant. Revenues from the sale of products and a five cent assessment on each 100 pounds of milk marketed by association members are expected to pay for the cost of the plant.

Washington Parish undertook the building of the plant because milk production in the area was exceeding demands of the New Orleans market.

The Industries Inducement Act, similar to the Balance Agriculture with Industry program in Mississippi, provides for financing industrial ventures through use of funds received from the sale of advalorem tax bonds.

The bonds are to be retired by revenues produced by the business.

Dedication Set For Monument To Boll Weevil

ENTERPRISE, Ala. (AP) — Enterprise's new monument to the boll weevil—the devastating pest which forced farmers of this section to turn from one-crop (cotton) economy will be dedicated May 1.

Luther Fuller of Birmingham, who spoke at the first unveiling 35 years ago when main speakers Dr. George Washington Carver of Tuskegee Institute and Dr. J. F. Duggar of Alabama Polytechnic Institute failed to arrive on time, will deliver the main address.

The festivities, sponsored by the Pilots Club, will include a parade and a barbecue. Enterprise Mayor Fred Taylor will be master of ceremonies. After the barbecue, political candidates will speak.

The Chief Justice of the United States receives an annual salary of $25,500; associate justices receive $25,000 each.

2 Damage Suits Seek $12,507 For Highway Accident

To suits, filed separately for a Monroe man and wife, are asking $12,507.50 in damages from an Oklahoma City, Okla., man for an accident which occurred south of Monroe on September 11 of last year. The damage suits were filed with the Ouachita parish clerk of court and will be tried in Fourth District court.

Plaintiffs in the suits are Robert Estes Shaver and his wife, Sally Childers Shaver, who reside on the Harmon-Johnson road. O. E. Wolfe, 3107 South Walker street, Oklahoma City, Okla., has been named defendant in both suits and is charged with "gross negligence" by the couple.

The first suit, filed by Mrs. Shaver, is asking $5,000 damages for "pain and suffering." Of this amount $3,000 is for pain and suffering to date while the remainder is for "future" suffering.

The second suit, asking $8,507.50 damages, list 16 items for which the plaintiff, Robert Estes Shaver, is asking recompense.

According to the suits, Wolfe was driving a Studebaker pick-up truck north on Highway 165 at an excessive rate of speed and collided into the rear of the Ford driven by Shaver. The Shaver automobile was knocked into the ditch, injuring Mr. and Mrs. Shaver and their three children, Sylvia, Cathleen and Martha Ray.

The suit alleges that Wolfe was negligent on the following reasons: Failing to keep a proper lookout; operating his car at an excessive rate of speed in the area adjacent to the drive in movie; failing to see the petitioner's car which was in its proper lane of traffic moving at a slow speed; and failing to apply brakes or put his car under proper control in time to avoid an accident.

The petitioner denies any guilt of negligence in the accident.

In the suit by Robert Estes Shaver the following demands for damages were presented:

Loss of three weeks work, $187.50; damage to automobile (total wreck) $1,000; medical bills for self, $68; hospital bill for self, $10.50; hospital bills for wife, $90; doctors' bills for wife, $107; hospital for child (Sylvia), $10.50; pain and suffering of child (Sylvia) $500; doctor's bills (Sylvia), $8; hospital bills for child (Cathleen) $3; suffering and pain of child (Cathleen), $500; doctor's bill (Cathleen), $8; pain and suffering of child (Martha Ray), $500; doctor's bill (Martha Ray), $65; pain and suffering (petitioner) $5,000; and loss of a crop of peas $450.

The suits also ask for legal interests and judician fees.

Big Office Building For Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, —UP— Construction will begin Monday on a $2,043,868 office and commercial building in downtown Baton Rouge.

Officials of the Third and Laurel Realty Corp., apparently named for the location of the proposed building at Third and Laurel streets, said the eight-floor building will house stores on the ground level and offices above, and will be modernistic in style.

The corporation is headed by Shepard M. Latter as president and Harry Latter, vice-president, with the New Orleans firm of Latter and Blum the rental agency.

R. P. Farnsworth and Company of New Orleans is the contractor.

Dancer Attempts Suicide; Saves Rescuer's Life

BILOXI, Miss., —UP— A 24-year-old professional dancer decided to end it all by jumping into the Gulf of Mexico, police said Saturday.

James L. Jenson, stationed at Keesler Air Force Base, jumped in after the dancer, Elaine Martinez.

However, Jenson forgot that he couldn't swim.

Miss Martinez grabbed the floundering airman and hauled him back to shore.

The dancer, who was booked for disorderly conduct, told police she wanted to end her life because she was "tired of living."

Pipeline To Be Built By Shell

NEW ORLEANS —UP— The Shell Pipe Line Corporation announced Saturday that construction will begin this month on a 65-mile-long products pipe line from Shell's Norco refinery west of here to a point near Baton Rouge.

The pipeline, which will have an initial capacity of 50,000 barrels per day of kerosene, distillate fuel oil and gasoline, is expected to be completed by mid-summer, company officials said.

The products will enter the Plantation pipeline at Baton Rouge for further shipment to southeastern states. The future addition of another pump station will increase the new line's capacity to 80,000 barrels per day, officials said.

Epps Field Rules Up For Study At L. D. C. Meeting

BATON ROUGE, April 17 (Special)—The Louisiana Department Of Conservation will hold a public hearing in Shreveport, Wednesday, April 21, to establish field rules for the operation of the presently completed gas wells in the Epps Field of West Carroll parish, a department spokesman said today.

The adoption of producing units, allocation of acreage to the units, and the allocation of monthly allowables will be undertaken, the spokesman said.

The hearing is in connection with gas rock production found at approximately 2,300 feet, and the John Cerniglia-Delta Drilling Co. Wilcox discovery sand at approximately 1,460 feet.

In the new discovery field, John Cerniglia, of Delhi, and the Delta Drilling Co., Tyler, Tex., have five producing wells; Union Producing Co., of Monroe, two wells, and Frank Kelly, Shreveport, and Lloyd Hawkins, of New Orleans, have one producing well each, the Conservation department reports.

New Wildcat Well Spudded In Concordia

FERRIDAY, La., April 17 (Special)—Canton Oil Company and Gulmon have spudded a new wildcat in Section 30-4N-9 East in Concordia Parish. The location is one mile north of the Roseland Field.

Serio-Punches have a producer in Gulf Hunt No. 1 in Section 18-4N-7E in the Bee Brake Field which pumped 70 barrels of 45 gravity oil per day on a 12-64 inch choke in initial production. Perforations were made at 6766-69 in the well which was drilled to a total depth of 6850 feet and completed April 4.

Interstate Natural Gas Co. and Jett Drilling Company No. 2, A. B. Learned in the southwest corner of Section 42-2N-8E, Black Hawk Field, total depth 9000 feet perforated 8098-99 squeezed with 300 sacks of cement, waiting on cement.

Carter Oil Company No. 1, State in Township 4-N-9E in Fairview Field, elevation 65, drilling at 6980.

6 New Locations For Gas And Oil Tests Are Filed

Six new locations and abandoned wells were listed in the weekly field report of oil and gas wells drilled and completed in the Monroe District for the period ending April 15. The report was issued by the local office of the department of conservation, minerals division.

Listed as plugged and abandoned were wells in Concordia and Grant Parish. The Concordia hole, located in Section 51-5-9E of the Esperance Point field, was the Magnolia Pet. Co.-H. Junkins No. 12 on April 11. The other hole was the F. A. Callery Inc.Nebo Oil Co., Inc., No. 2, abandoned on April 12 in Sec. 18-8-2W, in a wild cat field of Grant Parish.

New locations listed were:

Exploratory Well Will Be Drilled North Of Delhi

DELHI, La., April 17 (Special)—The Lenora Oil Company of Delhi, owned by the interests of Syl Cerniglia and Dr. R. M. Doxier, has signed a contract with A. W. Phillips, West Texas operator, for an exploratory or wildcat well to be drilled into Smackover lime formation on a block of land northeast of here. The 11,617 acre block was obtained by Cerniglia for the company.

Location of the proposed well has been staked in the NE¼ of the SW¼ of Section 14, Township 20 North, Range 9 East in West Carroll parish. The location is approximately in the center of the acreage.

W. M. Plaster, Shreveport geologist, worked the date for the Lenora Oil company.

It is understood that the test will be drilled tight with all information to remain confidential. The well will be drilled northeast of another well drilled in 1945 by the California Company, which showed oil in the Cotton Valley and Smackover formations.

Public Complains That Tax Slashes Not Passed Down

WASHINGTON, April 17 —UP— Members of Congress disclosed Saturday they are getting mail complaints that some of the federal excise tax cuts have not been passed on to consumers.

A random check of offices indicated that these complaints are not, yet at least, flowing in any significant volume. Without price control, Congress could do nothing anyway.

The office of one senator, who represents a populous state, has received about 40 complaints. These complaints mostly involved the admission tax and a failure to reduce the price of tickets for movies, college football, and professional baseball.

Other offices reported fewer complaints and these, too, dealt mostly with the admission tax. Some reported no mail on the subject.

One office received a letter objecting that a skating rink had not reduced its admission fee and another from a college official who said two fountain pen manufacturers had notified dealers there would be no price cut.

Among its many provisions, the excise tax bill enacted last month reduced the excise levies on fountain pens from 15 per cent of the manufacturers' prices to 10 per cent.

It also cut from 20 per cent to 10 per cent the tax on most entertainment tickets and repealed it completely for movie tickets selling at 60 cents or less and for regular season college athletic events.

In its long campaign for excise tax reductions, however, the movie industry never promised to reduce the price of tickets. With business shrinking because of competition from television, theater operators wanted the tax repealed so they could get more money from each customer without raising ticket prices. Otherwise, they said, many theaters would be forced to close.

Aside from the movie situation, congressional debate on the bill reducing excised about $1 billion a year reflected a belief that it would result in generally lower prices and leave consumers with more to spend.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) revealed Saturday that he may seek further excise tax reductions on the administration's tax reform bill now pending before the Senate Finance committee.

Long, a member of that committee, said he was thinking seriously of offering excise tax amendments if the Senate defeated the proposal of Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) to give general income tax relief through an increase in personal income exemptions.

Long said the proposal he is considering would call for complete repeal of the present levies on home appliances and radio and television sets and a reduction in the tax on automobiles. He said he was not ready to say what cut he might suggest for automobiles.

Ball Player In Dutch With Law; Back In Jail

NEW IBERIA, La., —UP— James Noblitt, 44-year-old former New Iberia ball player, was back in jail Saturday after having "struck out" again.

The game of Noblitt vs. the law began on Feb. 19, 1953, when he pleaded guilty to simple battery of his wife.

He was sentenced by Judge James D. Simon to two years in jail and a fine of $300.

However, between Jan. 11, 1953, and the date of his sentencing, Noblitt was in jail again on as many as seven charges. The latter grew out of his alleged beating of his wife and mother-in-law.

Judge Simon suspended the sentence and placed Noblitt on probation for five years on the condition he never return to the state. If he did return, the judge told the former ballplayer he would impose a maximum sentence of four years.

But Noblitt returned and was arrested in New Orleans on March 23, 1953. He spent a year in the Iberia parish jail and was again warned to leave town permanently.

Thursday, he came back again. City police arrested him while he was greeting old acquaintances on the street. He was charged with disturbing the peace, being under the influence of liquor and using obscene and profane language.

"I guess I struck out," Noblitt said.

Parish Jury To Build Milk Plant At Franklinton

FRANKLINTON, La., April 17 (AP) —Alcus Fornea, president of the Washington Parish police jury, today signed a contract with architect-engineers for design and construction of a milk processing plant in or near Franklinton.

The plant, first to be built under the Industries Inducement Act passed by the 1952 Legislature, will be capable of converting 200,000 pounds of raw milk a day into manufactured milk products such as non-fat dry milk, whole milk powder, condensed milk, sweet cream, butter or cheese.

The Louisiana-Mississippi Milk Producers Association will operate the plant. Revenues from the sale of products and a five cent assessment on each 100 pounds of milk marketed by association members are expected to pay for the cost of the plant.

Washington Parish undertook the building of the plant because milk production in the area was exceeding demands of the New Orleans market.

The Industries Inducement Act, similar to the Balance Agriculture with Industry program in Mississippi, provides for financing industrial ventures through use of funds received from the sale of advalorem tax bonds.

The bonds are to be retired by revenues produced by the business.

Dedication Set For Monument To Boll Weevil

ENTERPRISE, Ala. (AP) — Enterprise's new monument to the boll weevil—the devastating pest which forced farmers of this section to turn from one-crop (cotton) economy will be dedicated May 1.

Luther Fuller of Birmingham, who spoke at the first unveiling 35 years ago when main speakers Dr. George Washington Carver of Tuskegee Institute and Dr. J. F. Duggar of Alabama Polytechnic Institute failed to arrive on time, will deliver the main address.

The festivities, sponsored by the Pilots Club, will include a parade and a barbecue. Enterprise Mayor Fred Taylor will be master of ceremonies. After the barbecue, political candidates will speak.

2 Damage Suits Seek $12,507 For Highway Accident

To suits, filed separately for a Monroe man and wife, are asking $12,507.50 in damages from an Oklahoma City, Okla., man for an accident which occurred south of Monroe on September 11 of last year. The damage suits were filed with the Ouachita parish clerk of court and will be tried in Fourth District court.

Plaintiffs in the suits are Robert Estes Shaver and his wife, Sally Childers Shaver, who reside on the Harmon-Johnson road. O. E. Wolfe, 3107 South Walker street, Oklahoma City, Okla., has been named defendant in both suits and is charged with "gross negligence" by the couple.

The first suit, filed by Mrs. Shaver, is asking $5,000 damages for "pain and suffering." Of this amount $3,000 is for pain and suffering to date while the remainder is for "future" suffering.

The second suit, asking $8,507.50 damages, list 16 items for which the plaintiff, Robert Estes Shaver, is asking recompense.

According to the suits, Wolfe was driving a Studebaker pick-up truck north on Highway 165 at an excessive rate of speed and collided into the rear of the Ford driven by Shaver. The Shaver automobile was knocked into the ditch, injuring Mr. and Mrs. Shaver and their three children, Sylvia, Cathleen and Martha Ray.

The suit alleges that Wolfe was negligent on the following reasons: Failing to keep a proper lookout; operating his car at an excessive rate of speed in the area adjacent to the drive in movie; failing to see the petitioner's car which was in its proper lane of traffic moving at a slow speed; and failing to apply brakes or put his car under proper control in time to avoid an accident.

The petitioner denies any guilt of negligence in the accident.

In the suit by Robert Estes Shaver the following demands for damages were presented:

Loss of three weeks work, $187.50; damage to automobile (total wreck) $1,000; medical bills for self, $68; hospital bill for self, $10.50; hospital bills for wife, $90; doctors' bills for wife, $107; hospital for child (Sylvia), $10.50; pain and suffering of child (Sylvia) $500; doctor's bills (Sylvia), $8; hospital bills for child (Cathleen) $3; suffering and pain of child (Cathleen), $500; doctor's bill (Cathleen), $8; pain and suffering of child (Martha Ray), $500; doctor's bill (Martha Ray), $65; pain and suffering (petitioner) $5,000; and loss of a crop of peas $450.

The suits also ask for legal interests and judician fees.

Big Office Building For Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, —UP— Construction will begin Monday on a $2,043,868 office and commercial building in downtown Baton Rouge.

Officials of the Third and Laurel Realty Corp., apparently named for the location of the proposed building at Third and Laurel streets, said the eight-floor building will house stores on the ground level and offices above, and will be modernistic in style.

The corporation is headed by Shepard M. Latter as president and Harry Latter, vice-president, with the New Orleans firm of Latter and Blum the rental agency.

R. P. Farnsworth and Company of New Orleans is the contractor.

Dancer Attempts Suicide; Saves Rescuer's Life

BILOXI, Miss., —UP— A 24-year-old professional dancer decided to end it all by jumping into the Gulf of Mexico, police said Saturday.

James L. Jenson, stationed at Keesler Air Force Base, jumped in after the dancer, Elaine Martinez.

However, Jenson forgot that he couldn't swim.

Miss Martinez grabbed the floundering airman and hauled him back to shore.

The dancer, who was booked for disorderly conduct, told police she wanted to end her life because she was "tired of living."

Pipeline To Be Built By Shell

NEW ORLEANS —UP— The Shell Pipe Line Corporation announced Saturday that construction will begin this month on a 65-mile-long products pipe line from Shell's Norco refinery west of here to a point near Baton Rouge.

The pipeline, which will have an initial capacity of 50,000 barrels per day of kerosene, distillate fuel oil and gasoline, is expected to be completed by mid-summer, company officials said.

The products will enter the Plantation pipeline at Baton Rouge for further shipment to southeastern states. The future addition of another pump station will increase the new line's capacity to 80,000 barrels per day, officials said.

OPPORTUNITY
MONROE
AND NEARBY TOWNS
I HAVE a good business to offer to a man or woman, if you have $1,000 to invest without cramping and can qualify for the proper management of such a business.
FOR your investment you receive all equipment necessary for the operation of the business. You control your hours of employment in this business. You employ every hour of effort profitably.
EVERYONE—Men, women and children—buys U. S. postage stamps. Merchants, hotels, etc., spend real money to serve their customers with stamps. As a consequence, they welcome stamp dispenser service.
THE BEST—The Federal dispenser is the only one designed for indoor and outdoor use. You keep them serviced with stamps from week to week. You own the equipment. It is your business. With employment of ordinary horse sense, you can service 100 machines and have one-half of every working day for play.
IF YOU ARE GENUINELY INTERESTED PLEASE REPLY AT ONCE ONLY IF YOU HAVE NECESSARY CAPITAL AND IF YOU ARE READY TO START NOW. Write at once, giving address, phone number and a few facts about yourself; also state best time to call.

OPPORTUNITY
MONROE
AND NEARBY TOWNS
I HAVE a good business to offer to a man or woman, if you have $1,000 to invest without cramping and can qualify for the proper management of such a business.
FOR your investment you receive all equipment necessary for the operation of the business. You control your hours of employment in this business. You employ every hour of effort profitably.
EVERYONE—Men, women and children—buys U. S. postage stamps. Merchants, hotels, etc., spend real money to serve their customers with stamps. As a consequence, they welcome stamp dispenser service.
THE BEST—The Federal dispenser is the only one designed for indoor and outdoor use. You keep them serviced with stamps from week to week. You own the equipment. It is your business. With employment of ordinary horse sense, you can service 100 machines and have one-half of every working day for play.
IF YOU ARE GENUINELY INTERESTED PLEASE REPLY AT ONCE ONLY IF YOU HAVE NECESSARY CAPITAL AND IF YOU ARE READY TO START NOW. Write at once, giving address, phone number and a few facts about yourself; also state best time to call.
WRITE A. R. NASH FEDERAL POSTAL SERVICE CORP. Box 398, News-Star—World.

THERE AIN'T MANY . . .

with as good a location on the northside, and with as many unusual features as reasonably priced as is 1511 North 7th! Among the 1140 sq. feet of this one are such features as: (2) nice size bedrooms (11x13 and 13x14); a roomy living room and a separate dining room; walls & ceiling are insulated; kitchen has nice storage space, as well as washer plumbing; the floors are glistening oak; wallpaper is in excellent condition throughout, and "to boot" . . . it's on a corner lot and has a garage. It's priced at only $10,750. Will show at your convenience.

PRICE REDUCED!

It was a good buy at $9000, which then was $500 less than the FHA appraised value, but at the new price of $8750 ($750 less than FHA appraisal) it's absolutely a steal. In case you're wonderin', we're talking about this matchless 5-room home at 308 RIVERBEND DRIVE on a 100' lot at that! There are 1019 sq. feet in this one fairly crammed with livable features. It has large living room and separate dining room; 2 comfortable bedrooms; 42" attic fan and a floor furnace; the inviting kitchen has vent-a-hood, wonderful cabinet space, small pantry and adjoining the kitchen is a utility porch with washer plumbing. If you're a G.I., you can make the move for only $437.50 down, or on FHA financing . . . only $900 down, including closing costs.

100% G. I.

JUST a glance at 3410 POLK ST. and that wonderful yard in full bloom will be enough to sell you . . . but if the yard alone won't do it . . . a trip through the faultless home on that lot will! This 3-year-old home has "oodles" of features among it's 900 sq. feet. Such as: the interior walls are all pine-paneled; has 42" attic fan, automatic shutters; aluminum screens; one of the gayest kitchens you've seen in ages with plenty of cabinet space, vent-a-hood, and washer plumbing; and one bedroom is 10x16 with walk-in closet. The total price is only $7800 with monthly notes as low as $46, and it's just around the corner to Lida Benton Grammar! Wanta' look today?

THIS AIN'T HAY...

it's a heck-of-a-good buy! Indeed it is, for look what only $350 down to a qualified G.I. buys at 307 GEORGIA ST! To begin with . . . there are 936 sq. feet of living area, included among are 2 nice size bedrooms; wood walls with wallpaper; copper plumbing; oak floors and the kitchen has nice cabinet space with an 8x11 dining area. Only $350 down, and monthly notes as low as $44 buys this bargain. Call today to see.

BEEN YEARNING . . .

. . . for a three bedroom home with a separate dining room? They don't build too many in this day and age, but we've "the goods" just a block off Splane Drive in W. Monroe at 105 STIX ST. with more than it's share of desirable features. There are 3 bedrooms, a 14x8x living room & separate dining room among the 1179 sq. feet of living area . . . plus: beautiful oak floors; attic fan and floor furnace; wood walls with wallpaper; the lot is 120x120 with 4 nice size shade trees and there's a double carport with a 7x16 storeroom. Only $600 down to a qualified G.I. makes the move, with monthly payments as low as $66 including everything. This ones just been put on the market and won't last long, so call today.

100% G. I.

IF you've the time, you can search all over town and still not find a better buy than 602 SPLANE DRIVE in W. Monroe! It's a swell buy for many reasons . . . it's on a spacious 89' x208' corner lot just a block from the Highland grammar school. . . there are two bedrooms (one is 12'x16' with a walk-in closet) . . . a unique kitchen with nice cabinet space . . there's an attic fan and also a disappearing stair to attic . . 30 gal. water heater and washer plumbing, as well as a carport. Pay the closing costs and enjoy monthly payments as low as $47. See it today!

JOIN ME?

Take a few moments on this Easter Sunday for a tour of a captivating home located at 1610 South 4th, just two blocks from the Plum St. Grammar school. Among the 852 sq. feet of this one are appealing features galore! Such as: 42" attic fan and (2) panel-ray wall heaters; copper plumbing; oak floors; a well-arranged kitchen with nice cabinet space; an 8x12 dining area; washer plumbing and venetian blinds. It's vacant, but only $650 down turns the key.

TALK ABOUT...

Roominess! Look what only $750 down buys at 215 RIVERBEND DRIVE! There are 1134 sq. feet of good livin' in this one with a good feature for every foot of it, too! Both bedroons are 14' x 14'; theres a relaxing side screened porch with concrete floor; 42" Hunter attic fan; has well - proportioned living room and separate dining room; roomy kitchen with washer plumbing and nice cabinet space. There's also a garage. It's selling for $500 less than the FHA appraised value. Won't cost you a penny to look!

AN INHERITANCE...

of many fine features awaits you in this fashionable home at 1411 PARK AVE.! True, it's no home for a small family . . . but glory be, whata home for a large one! There are eleven spacious rooms in this one, five bedrooms and three baths. As well as: downstairs has been completely redecorated with all new wallpaper, and wall-to-wall carpeting; the well - planned kitchen has an abundance of cabinet space and a GE dishwasher; the 14x30 living room has a real fireplace; it's situated on a 75'x240' corner lot within easy walking distance of Lexington Grammar. It will be a pleasure to show you this home.

FOR RENT

Heavens, No! If you were to rent this fine home at 1500 ALABAMA it would cost you at least $60 per month. Instead, with a down payment of only $900 you can move in and enjoy monthly notes of only $47 . . . and take a gander at what it buys: natural woodwork throughout with natural woodwork cabinets; 65,000 BTU floor furnace and attic fan; glistening hardwood floors; and the bath has a shower. Quick action gets this bargain, so you'd better phone today!

THERE AIN'T MANY . . .

with as good a location on the northside, and with as many unusual features as reasonably priced as is 1511 North 7th! Among the 1140 sq. feet of this one are such features as: (2) nice size bedrooms (11x13 and 13x14); a roomy living room and a separate dining room; walls & ceiling are insulated; kitchen has nice storage space, as well as washer plumbing; the floors are glistening oak; wallpaper is in excellent condition throughout, and "to boot" . . . it's on a corner lot and has a garage. It's priced at only $10,750. Will show at your convenience.

PRICE REDUCED!

It was a good buy at $9000, which then was $500 less than the FHA appraised value, but at the new price of $8750 ($750 less than FHA appraisal) it's absolutely a steal. In case you're wonderin', we're talking about this matchless 5-room home at 308 RIVERBEND DRIVE on a 100' lot at that! There are 1019 sq. feet in this one fairly crammed with livable features. It has large living room and separate dining room; 2 comfortable bedrooms; 42" attic fan and a floor furnace; the inviting kitchen has vent-a-hood, wonderful cabinet space, small pantry and adjoining the kitchen is a utility porch with washer plumbing. If you're a G.I., you can make the move for only $437.50 down, or on FHA financing . . . only $900 down, including closing costs.

100% G. I.

JUST a glance at 3410 POLK ST. and that wonderful yard in full bloom will be enough to sell you . . . but if the yard alone won't do it . . . a trip through the faultless home on that lot will! This 3-year-old home has "oodles" of features among it's 900 sq. feet. Such as: the interior walls are all pine-paneled; has 42" attic fan, automatic shutters; aluminum screens; one of the gayest kitchens you've seen in ages with plenty of cabinet space, vent-a-hood, and washer plumbing; and one bedroom is 10x16 with walk-in closet. The total price is only $7800 with monthly notes as low as $46, and it's just around the corner to Lida Benton Grammar! Wanta' look today?

THIS AIN'T HAY . . .

it's a heck-of-a-good buy! Indeed it is, for look what only $350 down to a qualified G.I. buys at 307 GEORGIA ST! To begin with . . . there are 936 sq. feet of living area, included among are 2 nice size bedrooms; wood walls with wallpaper; copper plumbing; oak floors and the kitchen has nice cabinet space with an 8x11 dining area. Only $350 down, and monthly notes as low as $44 buys this bargain. Call today to see.

BEEN YEARNING . . .

. . . for a three bedroom home with a separate dining room? They don't build too many in this day and age, but we've "the goods" just a block off Splane Drive in W. Monroe at 105 STIX ST. with more than it's share of desirable features. There are 3 bedrooms, a 14x20 living room & separate dining room among the 1179 sq. feet of living area . . . plus: beautiful oak floors; attic fan and floor furnace; wood walls with wallpaper; the lot is 120x120 with 4 nice size shade trees and there's a double carport with a 7x16 storeroom. Only $600 down to a qualified G.I. makes the move, with monthly payments as low as $66 including everything. This ones just been put on the market and won't last long, so call today.

100% G. I.

IF you've the time, you can search all over town and still not find a better buy than 602 SPLANE DRIVE in W. Monroe! It's a swell buy for many reasons . . . it's on a spacious 89' x208' corner lot just a block from the Highland grammar school. . . there are two bedrooms (one is 12'x16' with a walk-in closet) . . . a unique kitchen with nice cabinet space . . there's an attic fan and also a disappearing stair to attic . . . 30 gal. water heater and washer plumbing, as well as a carport. Pay the closing costs and enjoy monthly payments as low as $47. See it today!

JOIN ME?

Take a few moments on this Easter Sunday for a tour of a captivating home located at 1610 South 4th, just two blocks from the Plum St. Grammar school. Among the 852 sq. feet of this one are appealing features galore! Such as: 42" attic fan and (2) panel-ray wall heaters; copper plumbing; oak floors; a well-arranged kitchen with nice cabinet space; an 8x12 dining area; washer plumbing and venetian blinds. It's vacant, but only $650 down turns the key.

TALK ABOUT . . .

Roominess! Look what only $750 down buys at 215 RIVERBEND DRIVE! There are 1134 sq. feet of good livin' in this one with a good feature for every foot of it, too! Both bedrooms are 14' x 14'; theres a relaxing side screened porch with concrete floor; 42" Hunter attic fan; has well - proportioned living room and separate dining room; roomy kitchen with washer plumbing and nice cabinet space. There's also a garage. It's selling for $500 less than the FHA appraised value. Won't cost you a penny to look!

AN INHERITANCE . . .

of many fine features awaits you in this fashionable home at 1411 PARK AVE.! True, it's no home for a small family . . . but glory be, whata home for a large one! There are eleven spacious rooms in this one, five bedrooms and three baths. As well as: downstairs has been completely redecorated with all new wallpaper, and wall-to-wall carpeting; the well - planned kitchen has an abundance of cabinet space and a GE dishwasher; the 14x30 living room has a real fireplace; it's situated on a 75'x240' corner lot within easy walking distance of Lexington Grammar. It will be a pleasure to show you this home.

FOR RENT

Heavens, No! If you were to rent this fine home at 1500 ALABAMA it would cost you at least $60 per month. Instead, with a down payment of only $900 you can move in and enjoy monthly notes of only $47 . . . and take a gander at what it buys: natural woodwork throughout with natural woodwork cabinets; 85,000 BTU floor furnace and attic fan; glistening hardwood floors; and the bath has a shower. Quick action gets this bargain, so you'd better phone today!

Opelousas Woman Now 1954 Louisiana Mother

Mrs. Cornelia P. Staples of Opelousas has been selected as the Louisiana Mother for 1954, it was announced by the American Mothers Committee of the Golden Rule Foundation for the State of Louisiana.

Mrs. Samuel Levy of Natchitoches is chairman of the committee and Gov. Robert F. Kennon is honorary co-chairman.

Mrs. Staples, who was nominated by the Opelousas Woman's club, will vie with the 1954 Mothers chosen by all the other states including Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Alaska and the District of Columbia, for the honor of being selected as the American National Mother of the Year.

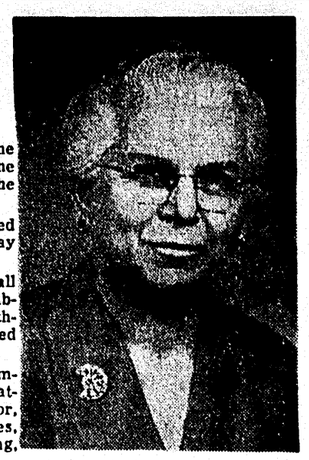

Governor Kennon has proclaimed the week of April 25 through May 2 as Louisiana Mothers Week.

In addition to Mrs. Staples, all mothers whose names were submitted as nominees for State Mother of 1954, will be specially honored during Louisiana Mothers' Week.

Members of Mrs. Levy's committee are H. Lee Prather of Natchitoches; Rev. B. C. Taylor, Shreveport; Mrs. John L. Scales, Shreveport; and Don Ewing, Shreveport.

The annual awards ceremonial luncheon honoring the American National Mother of the Year and the 1954 state mothers will be held in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York May 7.

The event focuses the attention of the public on the important role of the mother in making the American home "the indestructible foundation upon which our nation is built," Mrs. Levy said.

MRS. ORNELIA STAPLES

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Davis, formerly of New Orleans, are parents of a third son, born March 28 at Riverside General hospital here. Mrs. Davis was formerly Miss Yvonne Cargile of Monroe.

Dr. Parks Grant Piano Auditions Judge At College

Annual auditions sponsored by the Piano Guild of America will be held April 22-24 in the Fine Arts Building on the Northeast campus.

Piano students throughout this area will participate in this event.

Dr. Parks Grant of the University of Mississippi will judge this year's auditions. He also will give a lecture on his recently-published book, "A Philosophy of Music Education." The public is invited to hear Dr. Grant's discussion which is scheduled Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building.

The visiting musician's tour of judging will include, in addition to Monroe, Lake Providence and Pine Bluff, Ark. He has assisted the National Guild of Piano Teachers as judge in auditions at Natchitoches and serving on committees for this work in various communities in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Grant, who formerly was head of the Music Department at Northeast State when the institution was a junior college, is an associate professor of music education at the University of Mississippi. Teaching positions which he has held besides these include those at Tarleton State College, Stephenville, Tex., Temple University, Philadelphia, and others.

He is author if two books on music education and has written numerous compositions for various solo instruments and instrumental and vocal ensembles.

Dodson High To Graduate 14

DODSON, April 17. (Special) — Dodson High School announced this week the names of their June graduates.

Seniors to graduate are as follows: Jo Willa Womack, Carolyn Kelly, Gloria Jean Murphy, Ollean Wright, Faye Stewart, Roy Jordan, Don Roberts, Alvin Thames, Billy Moony, Guy Gaar, Glen Fairless, Lamar Hutto, Gayle Tyler and Kenneth Hightower.

Central High Reports Term Un-Interrupted

JONESVILLE, April 17 (Special) —For only the second time in many years, the Central High School of Larto, located in a remote area south of here, will finish a school term without interruption by flood waters which usually prevail in this area each spring.

Students at Central will conclude their studies Friday, April 23, believed to be the earliest date a school is ending its session in the state.

A. L. Brooks, parish school superintendent, said that the school session was started earlier last fall than at other Catahoula schools in an attempt to finish the term before flood waters hit the Larto area.

Bacculaureate services are planned Sunday for the four graduating seniors who will receive their diplomas in graduation ceremonies at the school Thursday, April 22.

Rev. J .O. McNair, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, will deliver the bacculaureate sermon. C. B. Coney, Sicily Island principal for many years who is presently with the State Board of Education, will be graduation speaker.

Joe Maxwell of Jonesville will present the American Legion award, Principal Billy Guice said, and Superintendent Brooks will present the diplomas.

Oak Grove V.F.W. Installs Officers

OAK GROVE, April 17. (Special) —Sgt. S. L. Harrison, Army and Air Force recruiter, was installed recently as commander of the Thomas - Tyson Post, V. F. W.

Other new officers installed by the post were: Charles Cox, Sr., vice - commander; Fred Herelevic, Jr., vice-commander; Fred Primm, quartermaster; Don Moseley, chaplain; James D. McIntosh, post advocate; Willard Burr, post surgeon, Grady Bagwell, adjutant.

Students at Central will conclude their studies Friday, April 23, believed to be the earliest date a school is ending its session in the state.

A. L. Brooks, parish school superintendent, said that the school session was started earlier last fall than at other Catahoula schools in an attempt to finish the term before flood waters hit the Larto area.

Bacculaureate services are planned Sunday for the four graduating seniors who will receive their diplomas in graduation ceremonies at the school Thursday, April 22.

Rev. J .O. McNair, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, will deliver the bacculaureate sermon. C. B. Coney, Sicily Island principal for many years who is presently with the State Board of Education, will be graduation speaker.

Joe Maxwell of Jonesville will present the American Legion award, Principal Billy Guice said, and Superintendent Brooks will present the diplomas.

Twin City Symphony Orchestra Gives Final Concert Of Season April 29

The Twin City Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Dr. Harry Lemert, will present the final subscription concert of the season on Thursday evening, April 29 in Brown Auditorium on the campus of Northeast State College. Orchestra Association members will be admitted by membership card and nonmembers may purchase single admissions at the box office.

The 1953-54 orchestral season, the first of its kind in Monroe, has been made possible as the result of the efforts of a large number of music loving citizens banded together as the Symphony Association of Monroe and West Monroe. This organization with L. Slade Brown as president has successfully sponsored the orchestra in terms of leadership and financial support. The success of this first seasonal venture virtually assures the continuation of the symphony orchestra in the years to come. Thus Monroe and West Monroe may well take their places in the years ahead among the rapidly increasing number of southern cities such as New Orleans, Shreveport, Dallas and Houston which maintain civic symphony orchestras.

The development of the local symphony orchestra is significant in ways other than those musical. The degree of cultural development which a particular community attains may be measured by observing the amount and kind of activity in the arts which the people of that community pursue. This is generally accepted as being true because activities in the arts such as music, painting and drama reflect the people's attempts to refine and improve their physical and social surroundings. This physical and social refining process is nearly always clearly evident in the products of their artistic efforts. Thus the Twin City Symphony Orchestra is more than just another civic orchestra; it is a product of more profound developments which are going on in Monroe and northeast Louisiana.

St. Francis Auxiliary Completes Plans For Tour Of Homes And Tea On Tuesday

Outstanding among social events in the Twin Cities this season is the well-planned tour of four of Monroe's most historical and picturesque homes and gardens to be conducted between 2 and 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by the St. Francis Auxiliary.

A major project for the auxiliary, just recently reorganized after several years of inactivity, the tour adds up to an ambitious undertaking for any group, even for one whose membership includes some of the leading civic - minded residents in this area.

But members of the auxiliary, undismayed by the undertaking, have enthusiastically tackled preparations for the tour of the homes and completed plans for several hundred visitors.

HOMES ON TOUR

Featured in the tour and first on the excursion is the Layton Castle, home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Layton, on South Grand street. From here the tour will proceed to Gray Gables, Mrs. Sigmund Masur's home also on South Grand.

Monroe's oldest residence, the O'Kelly - Mitchell house at the corner of North Sixth and Washington will be third on the route. Later the tour will conclude at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Guerriero on Speed Drive with tea served in the patio.

These homes were selected by the auxiliary for their varied architecture.

NEW PENCIL TRICKS

Tired of pasting labels on home-canned pickles and preserves? There's a new pencil that writes directly on the glass.

Another moisture - resistant pencil can be used to label tags in the garden. No matter how much it rains, the writing won't wash off.

St. Francis Auxiliary Completes Plans For Tour Of Homes And Tea On Tuesday

Outstanding among social events in the Twin Cities this season is the well-planned tour of four of Monroe's most historical and picturesque homes and gardens to be conducted between 2 and 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by the St. Francis Auxiliary.

A major project for the auxiliary, just recently reorganized after several years of inactivity, the tour adds up to an ambitious undertaking for any group, even for one whose membership includes some of the leading civic - minded residents in this area.

But members of the auxiliary, undismayed by the undertaking, have enthusiastically tackled preparations for the tour of the homes and completed plans for several hundred visitors.

HOMES ON TOUR

Featured in the tour and first on the excursion is the Layton Castle, home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Layton, on South Grand street. From here the tour will proceed to Gray Gables, Mrs. Sigmund Masur's home also on South Grand.

Monroe's oldest residence, the O'Kelly - Mitchell house at the corner of North Sixth and Washington will be third on the route. Later the tour will conclude at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Guerriero on Speed Drive with tea served in the patio.

These homes were selected by the auxiliary for their varied architecture.

'Lovely Louisiana' Is Theme Of Welcome Garden Club's Spring Flower Show

In appreciation of the state of Louisiana, the Welcome Garden Club of the Twin Cities has chosen as its flower show theme "Lovely Louisiana."

All the federated garden clubs of the fifth district are invited to compete in the arrangement divisions.

The flower show will be open to the public between 2 and 8 p. m. Saturday, April 24, at the Lexington School.

The arrangement division will be as follows: corsages, both formal and informal, and each club may place in both classes.

Little things are important to Louisiana, will be arrangements within three inches and open to anyone.

Protect our Louisiana birds is an interpretation through colors and design. No birds of any kind are to be used in this section which includes land and water birds.

Trees of the 150 species in Louisiana, section will include accessories in the arrangements if desired.

Agriculture, table settings and accessories will be permitted.

Industries, accessories permitted.

The flora section will follow. Completing the arrangement division is the Thanks for Louisiana section which will include an inspiring arrangement suitable to use in a church and an inspiring arrangement using a figurine.

Miss Helen Wilds models some of the bonnets of which sonnets are written. (top left) She chooses a saucy imported straw pillbox with a pert satin and feather trim. Wearing this striking "coolie" hat of white and silver straw with flattering veil of black, heads will turn her way on Easter morning. She is very smart and just in time for the Easter parade in this white toyo straw beret with black velvet trim. A romantic miniature of spring, (lower left) is of flattering natural Tuscan straw trimmed with small shrimp rosebuds, chosen by Miss Wilds for the Easter parade. Another choice for Easter morning is this watteau of natural straw covered with multicolored flowers, as spring like as a flower garden. For Easter or after, this suit hat of white straw with high crown is her exciting choice. The color of the band is rose and a white veil covers her face.

Fort Miro Chapter, DAR Meets With Mrs. E. S. Hill

The April meeting of Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was held in the E. Shelby Hill home, Marie Place. Masses of roses in pink, red and yellow were used throughout the receiving suite.

The spacious living room and den were arranged for the showing of two historical films. "A President Visits Williamsburg" gave an interesting account of President and Mrs. Eisenhower's visit to the colonial town restored by Mr. Rockefeller.

The other film, "Old Virginia Churches" was in color and showed many of the churches of that state, some erected as early as 1635.

The meeting was called to order by Miss Frances Flanders, Regent. Mrs. Shelby Meek led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and the American's Creed, after which Mrs. Fagan Cox gave the invocation.

Chief business of the afternoon was the nomination of a committee to select officers for next year. The committee consists of Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. Manning S. McGuire, Mrs. W. B. Inabnet, Mrs. Herbert Steed and Mrs. Elmer Slagle.

Assisting Mrs. Hill in extending courtesies were: Mrs. J. C. Steele, Jr., Mrs. A. P. Curty, Jr., Mrs. J. N. Harvey, Mrs. Lee Hodges, Mrs. J. L. Jones, Jr., Mrs. J. B. Kugler, Mrs. Roy R. McCue and Mrs. A. S. Tidwell.

A delicious ice course and assortment of cookies were served to: Mrs. Floyd Martin, Mrs. C. R. Russell, Miss Frances Flanders, Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Jr., Mrs. R. L. Carson, Mrs. S. W. McLean, Mrs. Fagan Cox, Mrs. Ralph Armstrong, Mrs. O. M. Grisham, Mrs. Manning S. McGuire, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. R. M. Troy, Mrs. J. B. Kugler, Mrs. A. P. Curty, Jr., Mrs. Sallie Tidwell, Mrs. Roy McCue, Mrs. J. C. Steele, Jr., Mrs. Geo. W. Lester, Mrs. W. B. Inabnet, Miss Myrtle Rodgers, Mrs. John Coon, Mrs. J. W. Standley, Sr., Mrs. W. B. Matthews and Mrs. Roland Brown.

Girl Scout News

There's a lot of interest being shown in the trip to Camp Wawbansee being planned for next Saturday. Wawbansee, as most of you know by now, is the Shreveport Girl Scout Camp which our girls will use for two weeks in August. The trip is to give every body a chance to see the camp, as well as to have a day out of doors in a beautiful setting of lake and hills and pine trees.

Information sheets containing parents permission blanks for the trip are available from troop leaders and from the Girl Scout office. A nominal fee is being charged for bus fare. The signed permission blank and bus fare must be in the office or in the hands of a troop leader by next Friday afternoon. Leaders say no matter what, no money or permission blanks will be accepted at the bus Saturday morning. So don't be disappointed; get those blanks in on time.

Buses will leave from Mrs. Easterling's, corner Seventh and Hudson Lane, at 9:30. If we know our Scouts, everybody will be on time that morning. According to the information sheet, girls are to dress according to the weather, bring sweater or jacket, their own lunch, and a drinking cup. Buses will return to the starting point about 5:00 Saturday afternoon. Sounds like a whale of a lot of fun.

According to all reports, Troop 43 had a wonderful overnight at Pine Wood last week end. It was the first for these fifth graders, and no more enthusiastic campers are to be found, we bet you. The group missed Jan West and Bonnie Dupuy, who had to be out of town, but everybody else was on hand, including Mrs. E. C. Slaughter, Mrs. M. L. Quillen, and Mrs. T. F. Wilson, Kay Branch, Sandra Cararas, Lenora Carso, Charlene Cascio, Brenda Cobb, Jackie Durham, Alma Faulk, Sue Hill, Mary Grey James, Dianne King, Carol Ann McDonald, Susie Quillen, Jean Slaughter, Lynn Smith, Lea Thompson, Nancy Wilson, Linda Bird, Dale Guilky, and Pat Ford.

Scouts of Troop 31, St. Paschal's School, have planned an Easter egg hunt for this afternoon for the younger children of the school, according to their leaders, Mrs. Harry Martin and Mrs. Leo Ragland. The girls of the troop will have just as much fun hiding the eggs, we bet, as the younger ones will in hunting them. The troop also made Easter favors for the younger girls at the school. Looks as if Troop 31 is living up to the Girl Scout idea of service.

At least two other troops that we've heard of have made Easter favors of candy suckers with bunny faces. Troop 11 making them as tray favors for children at charity hospital, and Troop 35, Brownies, for a group still younger.

Happy Easter!

Keep all your dusty and oily cleaning rags in a tightly covered tin can to prevent them from igniting spontaneously.

If your living room has sturdy personality, choose a nubby novelty cotton fabric or course linen for curtains. Such material harmonizes well with rough plastered walls, coarse shag rugs and rough-hewn fireplaces.

MISS GLADNEY SHELL

Miss Shell's Engagement Is Announced

Mrs. Celeste Gladney Shell of New Orleans and Mr. Willis Andrew Shell, Jr., of Richmond, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gladney Shell, to Thomas David Peyton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Herndon Peyton of DeQuincy.

Miss Shell is a graduate of Louise B. McGehee School and in June will graduate from Newcombe College where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. Her mother is the former Miss Celeste Gladney of New Orleans. The bride-elect is the niece of Judge E. L. Gladney of Bastrop. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gladney of New Orleans.

Mr. Peyton attended Rice Institute and graduated from Louisiana State University where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is now attending Louisiana State University Medical School where he will receive his Medical Degree in June of 1955. He is a member of Phi Chi medical fraternity and the Undergraduate Medical Society. His mother is the former Miss Bartrella Perkins of DeQuincy.

The wedding will take place Saturday, June 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chapel of Christ Church Cathedral, followed by a small reception for the members of the bridal party and the immediate family at the home of the bride-elect's mother.

Dish-washing time will be lightened if you make a habit of rinsing and stacking mixing bowls and other preparation utensils as soon as you are finished with them.

MISS SYBLE ELLEN McKAY

Miss McKay Fiancee Of W. A. Shepard

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Syble Ellen McKay, to William Arthur Shepard is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McKay. Mr. Shepard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Shepard of West Monroe.

The vows will be said at the Central Baptist Church on May 9 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with the Reverend C. Roger Johnson officiating.

Miss Carol Jeanne McKay will be the only attendant to the bride and Milton Hall will serve as best man. The candlelighters will be Miss Charlotte and Miss Dorothy Griffin of Natchez, Miss., and the ushers, Randolph Cage and Skippy Bell.

No invitations are being mailed. All friends are invited.

Southern Homes Are Toured By Members Of Garden Club

The Home Gardener Club met for their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Milton Ford on South Grand Street.

After a brief business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Frank Williams, president, a tour of southern homes and gardens around Monroe was conducted.

First home on the tour was that of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Stout on the Columbia Highway. Members were greeted by Mrs. Stout who graciously opened her garden and home to the club.

From the Stout home, members drove to the W. A. Calloway's plantation south of Monroe. After a tour of Mrs. Calloway's colorful and spacious lawn, members were invited inside for cokes. Mrs. Calloway explained how the house has been remodeled for modern living. She pointed out that Mrs. Jewell McQuiller has assisted her with the plans.

On visiting Synope, the plantation home of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Reynolds, the group was met by Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. W. N. Reynolds who showed members through the picturesque grounds of the estate.

Mrs. Reynolds, dressed in a quaint full-skirted floral print, extended courtesies inside and explained interesting historical features of the home which was built over 150 years ago. She told of how many of the original features have been preserved.

Mrs. James Martin, Sr., greeted guests inside and invited them to sign the register. Spring flowers in antique containers were placed at vantage points throughout the house.

Later refreshments were served on the terrace.

Those making the tour were: Mrs. E. M. Henderson, Mrs. K. P. Young, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. Milton Ford, Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, Mrs. C. R. Clay, Mrs. C. D. Smith, Mrs. Aline Banister, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. Frank Reitzell.

Also, Mrs. Roy Colquette, Mrs. L. D. Rogers, Mrs. Ruby Pettit, Mrs. Frank Williams and Barbara May, Mrs. M. J. Hortman, Mrs. H. E. Munholland, Mrs. J. H. Calk, Mrs. A. A. Tarpley, Mrs. W. E. Young, Mrs. J. A. Funston, Mrs. S. Stevenson, Mrs. F. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Floyd Mathews, Mrs. J. C. Leath, Mrs. C. M. Colon, Mrs. R. O. Ware.

MISS GLADNEY SHELL

Mrs. Celeste Gladney Shell of New Orleans and Mr. Willis Andrew Shell, Jr., of Richmond, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gladney Shell, to Thomas David Peyton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Herndon Peyton of DeQuincy.

Miss Shell is a graduate of Louise B. McGehee School and in June will graduate from Newcombe College where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. Her mother is the former Miss Celeste Gladney of New Orleans. The bride-elect is the niece of Judge E. L. Gladney of Bastrop. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gladney of New Orleans.

Mr. Peyton attended Rice Institute and graduated from Louisiana State University where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is now attending Louisiana State University Medical School where he will receive his Medical Degree in June of 1955. He is a member of Phi Chi medical fraternity and the Undergraduate Medical Society. His mother is the former Miss Bartrella Perkins of DeQuincy.

The wedding will take place Saturday, June 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chapel of Christ Church Cathedral, followed by a small reception for the members of the bridal party and the immediate family at the home of the bride-elect's mother.

Dish-washing time will be lightened if you make a habit of rinsing and stacking mixing bowls and other preparation utensils as soon as you are finished with them.

Miss McKay Fiancee Of W. A. Shepard

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Syble Ellen McKay, to William Arthur Shepard is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McKay. Mr. Shepard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Shepard of West Monroe.

The vows will be said at the Central Baptist Church on May 9 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with the Reverend C. Roger Johnson officiating.

Miss Carol Jeanne McKay will be the only attendant to the bride and Milton Hall will serve as best man. The candlelighters will be Miss Charlotte and Miss Dorothy Griffin of Natchez, Miss., and the ushers, Randolph Cage and Skippy Bell.

No invitations are being mailed. All friends are invited.

MISS SYBLE ELLEN McKAY

Southern Homes Are Toured By Members Of Garden Club

The Home Gardener Club met for their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Milton Ford on South Grand Street.

After a brief business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Frank Williams, president, a tour of southern homes and gardens around Monroe was conducted.

First home on the tour was that of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Stout on the Columbia Highway. Members were greeted by Mrs. Stout who graciously opened her garden and home to the club.

From the Stout home, members drove to the W. A. Calloway's plantation south of Monroe. After a tour of Mrs. Calloway's colorful and spacious lawn, members were invited inside for cokes. Mrs. Calloway explained how the house has been remodeled for modern living. She pointed out that Mrs. Jewell McQuiller has assisted her with the plans.

On visiting Synope, the plantation home of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Reynolds, the group was met by Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. W. N. Reynolds who showed members through the picturesque grounds of the estate.

Mrs. Reynolds, dressed in a quaint full-skirted floral print, extended courtesies inside and explained interesting historical features of the home which was built over 150 years ago. She told of how many of the original features have been preserved.

Mrs. James Martin, Sr., greeted guests inside and invited them to sign the register. Spring flowers in antique containers were placed at vantage points throughout the house.

Later refreshments were served on the terrace.

Those making the tour were: Mrs. E. M. Henderson, Mrs. K. P. Young, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. Milton Ford, Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, Mrs. C. R. Clay, Mrs. C. D. Smith, Mrs. Aline Banister, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. Frank Reitzell.

Also, Mrs. Roy Colquette, Mrs. L. D. Rogers, Mrs. Ruby Pettit, Mrs. Frank Williams and Barbara May, Mrs. M. J. Hortman, Mrs. H. E. Munholland, Mrs. J. H. Calk, Mrs. A. A. Tarpley, Mrs. W. E. Young, Mrs. J. A. Funston, Mrs. S. Stevenson, Mrs. F. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Floyd Mathews, Mrs. J. C. Leath, Mrs. C. M. Colon, Mrs. R. O. Ware.

Mrs. J. P. Causey Is President Of Pierian Club

Mrs. J. P. Causey was elected president of the Pierian Club for the year 1954-55 to fill the vacancy made when Mrs. Joseph Barham, president-elect moved to Mississippi.

Mrs. Causey named on the year book committee: Mrs. John Barr, Mrs. Elmer McLendon, Mrs. T. L. Smith, and Mrs. R. E. Barham to assist Mrs. W. S. White, vice-president, and chairman of the program committee. The club topics for the year will be developed around the gardening theme. This selection falls in line with the Pierian Rose Garden and many community beautification projects which have come to the front since passage of the local stock law.

Club members brought with them to the meeting in Community Hall Tuesday arrangements of flowers from the petite to the splendid. Placed on tables around the spacious club room, they provided a background of exceptional interest and beauty for the gathering.

Reports from the Fifth District and Louisiana State Federation of Women's Clubs Conventions were given by Mrs. J. P. Causey, Mrs. R. E. Barham, Mrs. Edwin Conger, and Mrs. W. M. Nolan. One of the club members, Mrs. Edwin Conger, was elected recording secretary for the district. The winner of the bond in the high school "What America Means to Me" essay contest was Edwards Barham whose essay had been sent in through the Pierian Club. The club year book received a blue ribbon in the state as well as the district competition. The doll dressed by Mrs. Queenie McDuffie also received a blue ribbon in the State Fine Arts Exhibit.

Attention was given to the printed program from the Shreveport gathering and the many favors contributed by business firms, since the 1955 state meeting will be in Monroe.

The talk by Dr. Edward Grant, Louisiana Director of the Department of Institutions was challenging to the club women from all over the state. Of paramount interest was the report on the Brazilian Coffee situation by Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, a member of the committee of investigation. The production crippled by killing frost will not reach normal again for possibly five years.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. E. M. Barham with Mrs. Norman McDuffie, secretary reading the communications.

Speaker for the afternoon was E. M. Barham. Mr. Barham has been actively engaged in the establishment of the Coolee Game Refuge and has recently been named by Governor Kennon of the Louisiana Commission of State Parks. Mr. Barham, who was introduced by Mrs. Charles Rolfe, conservation chairman, spoke on Conservation. He traced conservation from the beginnings.

Hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Edwin Conger and Mrs. Joe Carter, served tempting sanwiches and cookies with drinks to the following members: Mrs. Roy Norman, Mrs. J. P. Causey, Mrs. W. S. White, Mrs. R. E. Barham, Mrs. W. M. Nolan, Mrs. E. M. Barham, Mrs. Norman McDuffie, Mrs. C. E. Shepard, Mrs. Elmer McLendon, Mrs. C. N. McDuffie, Mrs. A. B. Conger, Mrs. Charles Rolfe, Mrs. J. S. Barr. Guests were E. M. Barham, Mrs. Eugene Barham and Mrs. Ora Corkran.

DBS Pledges Entertain At Pallet Party

The members of Delta Beta Sigma were entertained by a pallet party given by the sorority pledges in the home of Miss Bobbie Jean Moore. An assortment of sandwiches and soft drinks were served. Later the group danced to records of popular hits.

Members and pledges were: Misses Janice Strong; Gaye Olcott, Ashley Hamilton, Sally Kennedy, Carol Eady, Nancy Ledbetter, Kaye Lynne Turner. Sandra Tooke, Gerry Lynn Lester, Nell Coulter, "Snuggy" Burnette, Eleanor Camack, Neva Lyons, Betty Montroze, Alice Gyton, Shirley Young, Ann Kincaid, Martha Harper, Anita Dell Allen, Sharon Haynes, Betty Hislop, and the hostess Bobbie Jean Moore.

MRS. HOMER W. SUMRALL

Miss Allison Becomes Bride Of H. Sumrall

Miss Simonne Allison of Dallas, Tex., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Monroe Allison of Jackson, Tenn., became the bride of Homer W. Sumrall, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archie E. Sumrall of Lake Providence, at eight o'clock, Friday, April 16, in the chapel of the Skillman Avenue Church of Christ in Dallas. The Rev. Hulen L. Jackson officiated.

The altar was decorated with arrangements of Hawaiian foliage in white urns on white columns. White wrought-iron candelabra entwined in Hawaiian foliage completed the setting.

Music was presented by the Skillman Avenue Church of Christ chorus.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a demitasse wedding gown of white Viennese lace and nylon tulle. Crushed tulle formed tiny cap sleeves and extended to a deep V in front of her lace bodice. Her full skirt of layers of tulle over taffeta had an apron of lace which swept back into a full bustle. Two tiers of imported illusion fell to her shoulders from a matching lace Juliet cap edged in seed pearls. Lace mitts came to petal points over her hands.

Mrs. H. L. Buckner of Pine Bluff, Ark., a sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

The bridegroom's nephew, Troyce B. Dukes of Lake Providence, was best man.

Jack T. Sims of Waxahachie, Tex., and Howard L. Buckner of Pine Bluff, Ark., were ushers.

Following the ceremony, the couple departed on a wedding trip to Lake Murray, Okla. They will make their home at 5006 Goodwin avenue, Dallas, Tex.

The bride is a graduate of Judkins Commercial College in Pine Bluff, Ark. Mr. Sumrall attended Southwestern Louisiana Institute in Lafayette and Tulane University. He is a brother of George H. Sumrall of Monroe.

Gray Ladies Activities

We are happy to welcome eleven new Gray Ladies into our group and also report that we have started our service at the Charity Hospital.

The new Gray Ladies are assigned to the following places:

Charity Hospital: Mrs. Kathleen Eason, Mrs. Bill Burnett, Mrs. William Bendel, Jr., Mrs. A. W. Gerson and Mrs. Dorothy Singley.

Cooley Sanitorium: Mrs. Julius Nelson, Mrs. Vester Evans, Miss Robbie Lee Smith.

DeSiard Street Home: Mrs. R.P. McKay.

Jackson Street Home: Mrs. H.W. Menge.

Pine Street Home: Mrs. A. D. Hanks and Mrs. J. A. Russum.

Adams Street Home: During the month of March the Baptist Church of West Monroe, The First Baptist Church of Monroe, Faith Baptist Church and the First Presbyterian Church of Monroe visited this home for men on different dates; had devotions, served ice cream, cake, cookies and chewing gum. The Baptist Church of West Monroe donated a St. John's Gospel to the home.

Magazines were carried to all this month and refreshments were served each week.

Cooley Sanitorium: There are thirty-three patients—fifteen white and eighteen colored—here this month.

They are all quite an appreciative group and seem to look forward to our weekly visits.

The necessary shopping was taken care of and the white patients hair was curled.

DeSiard Street Home: Five of the guests were carried to Martha's Beauty Shop and she gave three free shampoos and sets and two permanents.

On St. Patrick's Day, cup cakes were served iced in green, lime sherbet and candy.

One week the Gray Ladies served chicken and turkey sandwiches, coffee, orange juice and candy. Of course we had five guests that had birthdays and we had a party for them.

Jackson Street Home: The guests in this home are given a party each week with refreshments being served. Two of the guests are in the hospital and the Gray Ladies carried flowers and made several visits to see them.

Pine Street Home: Letters were written and the usual shopping done.

Ice Cream was served on the warm days and fruit on the others.

St. Joseph Home: The flowers were so pretty in March that several guests were taken on tours to see them.

On the second Monday each month a birthday party is given to all that have birthdays during the month, so in March there were nine celebrating birthdays. The Flower Shoppe furnished each lady with a corsage, and the City Bakery donated the decorated cake. The sick guests were remembered also. Cold drinks of their choice were served.

Letters were written, guests carried to the doctor and some to the beauty shops.

The St. Joseph Gray Ladies visited Mary Goss Home for colored in March and served the guests sandwiches, cookies and candy; also carried magazines.

Several Gray Ladies helped with the Red Cross drive in March.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. George F. Mosby, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ella Jean to Mr. Andrew Hill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hill of Niagara Falls, New York. The wedding will be solemnized the twenty-fifth of June at Saint Paul's Methodist Church at 7 o'clock in the evening, with the Rev. Wayne Gray, officiating.

ROAMIN' IN THE RURAL

—With Euna Spielman

Laundering Of Dark Cottons Made Easy

Each year at Easter we are reminded that the risen Christ is the strength of our lives. The hope of our modern world lies in Christian people who honor and love the risen Christ. With joy in our hearts let's continue to serve Him.

Laundering of Cottons

With the coming of warm days, we are checking and laundering the left over dresses, especially the dark colored ones. We are told that dark colors will adorn the spring fashion parade this year. A few precautions from the clothing specialist at L. S. U., Miss Margaret Brumby, will help us make the laundering of these dark colors simple. "Wash dark clothes alone," says Miss Brumby, "to prevent lint from light colored garments clinging to the dark ones." If you don't have soft water for washing, rely on a detergent to prevent soap curds from sticking to clothing. When you starch dark garments be sure the starch mixture is absolutely free from lumps. You may need to add a bit of matching dye to the starch. When you iron dark cottons, use a smooth surfaced fabric as an ironing board cover that won't shed fuzz. Then iron dark cottons on the wrong side. This will help avoid shiny streaks and a glazed finish.

Azalea Gall

Gall on azaleas come on in cool portion of year. While at the Farm and Home Week last summer, we learned spraying with Bordeaux will help to control this condition until warm weather.

Time to Fertilize

The best time to apply fertilizer is in the early spring. Plants that receive as much organic matter as azaleas and camellias are not likely to need any other elements of plant food other than those provided in a complete fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. If a 4-12-4 fertilizer is used it should be applied at the rate of not more than ¼ pound per square yard of surface. It should be broadcast under and around the plants. If plants are watered immediately following the application of fertilizer, it is made more quickly available. No other fertilizer is necessary except in very light soils and on these another application may be made about the last of June—not later, (of same fertilizer). If an inorganic source of nitrogen alone is used on camellias and azaleas, sulphate of ammonia is best to use as it increases the acid content of the soil. Not more than 1-10 of a pound of ammonium sulphate per square yard should be applied at one time.

The mulch material will need to be renewed during the spring or early summer. A number of materials can be used for mulching, but those having an acid reaction will give the best results as oak leaves, half rotted sawdust, or pine straw.

In my roaming in the rural this week the agent visited the home of the C. C. Frantoms just off highway 80 about three miles west of West Monroe. Although only a block off this busy highway, you were impressed with the quiet, the privacy and the feeling of plenty of space in this quiet woody area.

The agent saw a beautiful planting of minor in bloom. The foliage is a rich glossy green. The flowers are rich deep blue and were a mass of blossoms standing about six to eight inches in height. This rich blue color was beautiful near the red brick house.

House furnishings leaders keep in mind our training meeting which is April 20th at 9:30 a.m., Agricultural Building. Be sure to wear an old dress as we will clean furniture to be refinished. Bring a small piece of furniture you want to refinish, a piece of burlap, and some clean rags. April 22 the 10 and 25 club members will meet at the Agricultural Building at 10:00 a.m. and go on a garden tour. Each member will bring a covered dish. Lunch will be enjoyed in the outdoor living room at the home of Mrs. A. T. Stout. If you are not a paid-up member—come and get yourself in good standing with the groups.

Our second Hobby Day is April 27th. Mark this date on your calendar. I'll give the program next Sunday.

See you next Sunday.

Laundering Of Dark Cottons Made Easy

Each year at Easter we are reminded that the risen Christ is the strength of our lives. The hope of our modern world lies in Christian people who honor and love the risen Christ. With joy in our hearts let's continue to serve Him.

Laundering of Cottons

With the coming of warm days, we are checking and laundering the left over dresses, especially the dark colored ones. We are told that dark colors will adorn the spring fashion parade this year. A few precautions from the clothing specialist at L. S. U., Miss Margaret Brumby, will help us make the laundering of these dark colors simple. "Wash dark clothes alone," says Miss Brumby, "to prevent lint from light colored garments clinging to the dark ones." If you don't have soft water for washing, rely on a detergent to prevent soap curds from sticking to clothing. When you starch dark garments be sure the starch mixture is absolutely free from lumps. You may need to add a bit of matching dye to the starch. When you iron dark cottons, use a smooth surfaced fabric as an ironing board cover that won't shed fuzz. Then iron dark cottons on the wrong side. This will help avoid shiny streaks and a glazed finish.

Azalea Gall

Gall on azaleas come on in cool portion of year. While at the Farm and Home Week last summer, we learned spraying with Bordeaux will help to conirol this condition u.til warm weather.

Time to Fertilize

The best time to apply fertilizer is in the early spring. Plants that receive as much organic matter as azaleas and camellias are not likely to need any other elements of plant food other than those provided in a complete fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. If a 4-12-4 fertilizer is used it should be applied at the rate of not more than ¼ pound per square yard of surface. It should be broadcast under and around the plants. If plants are watered immediately following the application of fertilizer, it is made more quickly available. No other fertilizer is necessary except in very light soils and on these another application may be made about the last of June—not later. (of same fertilizer). If an inorganic source of nitrogen alone is used on camellias and azaleas, sulphate of ammonia is best to use as it increases the acid content of the soil. Not more than 1-10 of a pound of ammonium sulphate per square yard should be applied at one time.

The mulch material will need to be renewed during the spring or early summer. A number of materials can be used for mulching, but those having an acid reaction will give the best results as oak leaves, half rotted sawdust, or pine straw.

Story Of Concordia Is Steeped In History, Romance And Progress

By HAROLD M. CASE

The story of Concordia parish is one of history, romance, progress and remarkable development of its industries, farming, fishing, gas and oil field discoveries, and of many other facts and figures.

Like its nearby neighbor, Natchez - on - the - Mississippi, across the "big river" from Vidalia, parish seat, Concordia Parish is in the heart of the deep south and like Natchez and Adams County, this parish is both historic as well as progressive. From a geographic standpoint, Concordia Parish is truly a key distributing parish of the lower Mississippi Valley. Commercially it is one of the richest and best parishes of all.

Much has been written in the past regarding the history of this old parish and much has been also written at present about its development. One of the most authentic books ever written about the parish was "The History of Concordia Parish" by the late Robert Dabney Calhoun, a prominent attorney of Vidalia, whose family still resides in the parish, and we intend to quote from this splendid book as we attempt to tell you of the history of the parish, covering as much as possible in limited space all of the important factors, such as how the parish received its name, founding fathers, natural resources, leading industries, historic landmarks, and a general emphasis on the things that are important.

Parish Seat

Vidalia is a true example of the statement that "the age of miracles has not passed and we refer to the marvelous change which has taken place in this quaint old, but now progressive parish seat, one of the oldest of all towns on the Mississippi River. But Vidalia was not always progressive.

Vidalia, like neighboring Natchez, has emerged, rather suddenly as a thriving part of the new industrial south, and like Natchez, Vidalia and most of Concordia Parish, was satisfied to bask in the reflected glories of the past. Natchez was founded by the French in 1716 and, a century and a half ago, according to an article appearing in a recent issue of U. S. News and World Report by M. L. Ramsey, associate editor of the magazine, it flourished as a gateway to the newly opened southwest. Before the Civil War, the city became a commercial and cultural center for the great cotton plantations on the lower Mississippi river many of which were located in this parish—and many of the plantation owners still reside in Natchez.

Like Concordia Parish, Natchez depended on cotton, but when the cotton prosperity died, railroads cut into the river traffic and Natchez and Vidalia and parts of Concordia Parish and this southland section literally "went to sleep."

Now this has changed. About 15 years ago, Vidalia started to develop industrially. The community persuaded factories to move in and they located rather close to the 50 - graceful - century old mansions that had been this section's chief trademark. Today, this section, is one of the most rapidly growing of southern communities. New industries across the Mississippi River in Natchez, brought new families to live in Vidalia and caused a sharp rise in payrolls.

Oil Boom

On top of this has come an oil boom. More than 1,000 wells are spouting oil in Concordia, Tensas and neighboring parishes and across the river in Mississippi counties, of which Natchez is the county seat of Adams.

So the industrial growth of Natchez and Mississippi has helped this area especially Vidalia and Ferriday and resulted in many new homes over the parish and new cottages and summer residences being built on Lake St. John, fishing, swimming and boating playgrounds for parish and sectional residents.

The growth of this locality has also made residence in Vidalia more attractive and many new subdivisions are springing up on all sides. Where youths of this section of northeast Louisiana once went off to college never to return, now a large portion are coming back here to make careers.

Miracle Of Vidalia

But to get back to the "miracle of Vidalia." This modern miracle at Vidalia was one of engineering a number of years ago - and resulted in the removal of the old town in its entirety a mile inland from the original town site - once the Post of Concordia in the early Spanish days.

Here now in "New Vidalia," where the approach of the four million dollar free (and paid for) Natchez - Vidalia Mississippi River bridge takes off from the crown of the massive new set - back levee which protects the parish seat and most of the parish, is a tribute to modern engineering and to the foresight of the U. S. engineers who did the gigantic job.

Protecting "New Vidalia" from any future floods of the Mississippi river and its tributaries, at any stage, is this massive new setback levee. Approach piers of the giant river span now tower above the old townsite and the original courthouse, jail, lawyers offices and other landmarks, which have all disappeared, some being moved bodily, in the wake of modern machinery and the streamlined new buildings and new residences in "New Vidalia."

This writer remembers the old ferry boats across the river, but now one sees the old levee near the river's edge has disappeared—and the sandbars—where once the "hot heads" of historic Natchez fought their duels—too, has changed. Giant river dredges have torn away the old familiar riverfront and pumped the sand on the old townsite to make an impregnable rampart for the new setback levee guarding the "New Vidalia" and the U. S. Engineers declare that the town will be forever guarded against frontal attacks of Old Man River. But the glamour and the romance of the river is gone—and we miss it, but who are we to stand in the way of progress, and progress is truly here. Completion of the Natchez - Vidalia bridge and the subsequent freeing of the span came as a climax to the most revolutionary change ever known in the history of Vidalia and of Concordia parish.

Around about the time that Natchez launched the project to span the Mississippi river between Natchez and Vidalia, the town fathers of Vidalia, the Concordia Parish Police Jury, and the Fifth Louisiana District Levee Board of Commissioners, were given official notification by the U. S. Engineers that "because of radical innovations in the system of flood control it would be necessary to build a new setback levee a mile inland."

New Town Site

The government said through its engineers that it would be impossible to give continuing protection to Vidalia at its old location. There being no alternative town, parish and levee board members accepted the situation in the same spirit of cooperation with which they had met and overcome, in the past, numerous threats from the Mississippi river. They set about to make the best of what they then thought was a very, very bad situation.

Prolonged negotiations with government representatives were necessary to establish a basis of agreement for the purchase of the town site property. Conferences with property owners, securing of abstracts of title and many other preliminaries were essential.

A new town site had to be selected; plans made for the financing and rebuilding of the parish's public buildings and countless other details including sidewalks; the relocation of public utilities and the development of various PWA projects made necessary by the removal of the town.

While the ancient courthouse and jail were demolished completely and a number of business houses torn down, most of the residences and some of the frame business houses were placed on rollers and hauled to new sites.

During the period of removal, many were the interesting sights. A home might be seen en-route for several days and with streets torn up by gangs of workers and heavy machinery, period of heavy rains made ordinary occupation a real adventure.

However, old residents of Vidalia, and the newcomers, too, took the inconvenience of removal of their homes to the new locations cheerfully. Shrubs, flowers and shade trees were transplanted.

"Moving Parties" were in vogue and the friendly, neighborly spirit of the old town was in evidence on all sides. At no time was there any interruption in telephone, gas, electric, or water service. Townsmen for a brief period had the innovation of a "traveling postoffice" for during the time that the federal building was being moved to its new site, patrons would swing on and off without any interruption of moving.

Finally, at long last, the work of moving was completed. Then followed the celebration of the completion of the present new, beautiful and modern $100,000 Concordia parish courthouse and jail, a real climax to the removal of the entire town of "Old Vidalia" to its new site of "New Vidalia."

Mississippi Bridge

Next came the completion of the Natchez - Vidalia bridge, which too had been under construction while Vidalia was being moved. A bridge opening celebration was held and Vidalia citizens joined hands with Natchez neighbors in another big celebration, marking another triumph over the big river.

The completion of the river bridge and removal of the town site of Vidalia marked epichal events-real-red-letter days in the history of both Natchez and Vidalia, for through the years a union had existed between the two towns which both had its existence in the beginning of the early days of Spanish regimes.

Spanish Rule

Vidalia is one of the oldest towns on the Mississippi—and one of the oldest in the nation. Dating back to 1768, the original site was a post founded opposite Natchez, then the seat of Spanish government.

Ancient records disclose that in 1802, a ferry was first established between Vidalia and Natchez by Thomas Thompson, a brother-in-law of Don Jose Vidal, namesake and founder of the town of Vidalia, or the Post of Concordia (from which the parish gets its name), as it was then known. Naturally, Thompson was given the exclusive right to operate the ferry.

At this same ferry landing was the beginning of El Cameo Reale "The King's Highway," the route used by the Spanish in traveling between Natchez and Mexico City.

Historians say that "El Cameo Reale" was a continuation of the Natchez Trace and some commentators declare that the sunworshipping Natchez Indians were descendants of the ancient Aztecs who wandered northward from Mexico through Louisiana over this route to establish their temple mounds on the bluffs at Natchez, and that "The King's Highway" followed the ancient Indians Trace which may, they say, have even antedated "The Appian Way" or the Pyramids of Egypt."

Natchez Trace

Between Natchez and Nashville, Tenn., the Natchez Trace Parkway is still being built as a great tourist route honoring the sturdy pioneers who won the great southwest and made it a part of the United States. The present terminus of the Natchez Trace Parkway is in Natchez at the Vidalia-Natchez bridge, but progressive Louisiana representatives in Congress have introduced bills calling for surveys to project the Natchez Trace through Louisiana and the state of Texas.

The Natchez Trace in its entirety is visualized as a great transcontinental super-highway which will eventually give the most direct route to Mexico City, the Panama Canal, and Central America, along the route of "El Camoo Reale".

Although the crossing of the Natchez-Vidalia bridge by the Natchez Trace is still in the future, that of two major U. S. trunk line highways from Vidalia to Natchez is an accomplished fact. Highways 65 and 84 converge at Vidalia, traffic flowing over Highway 84 from California and points west meet, originating from Canada, Minnesota, the Missouri Ozarks, and Hot Springs over U. S. Highway 65. From Natchez Highway 84 continues as a route to the east and Florida while Highway 65 joins 61 to become a dual route to New Orleans. There is a new highway past the bridge leading to the by-passes outside of the city limits of Natchez, all of which speeds up traffic through this section considerably.

On Friday, February 12 of this year markers which were erected between Pendleton Crossing on Sabine River and Natchez on the Mississippi were dedicated in Catahoula and Concordia parishes by the Louisiana State Society, Daughers of the American Revolution. The first program was at Jonesville at the junction of U. S. Highway 84 and La. 18; the second in Harrisonburg at the junction of La. 18 and 19, and the third, in Vidalia, on the courthouse grounds, U. S. Highway 84 and 65, Percy L. Rountree, Jr., Concordia Sentinel newspaper editor spoke here.

Natchitoches Road

These three markers were placed to commemorate the old Natchitoches Road and its variations from Natchitoches to Natchez. Of the many names applied to that system that of "Natchitoches-Natchez Road" seemed best, as it distinguishes it from early trails and roads that led to Natchitoches from other sections. "The Old San Antonio Trace" proper ended at Natchitoches, but the road was joined there by one almost as famous, the Old Natchitoches-Natchez Road, across Louisiana to Natchez, where it joined the Natchez Trace.

From old maps and records, it appears that the original overland route began at Vidalia and extended westward by Ferriday and Jonesville; but variations of the route were quickly put into use after the Louisiana Purchase increased the significance of overland ways of travel. An important alternate route started at Vidalia "passed across the Tensas River", to Sicily Island, following the highest ground, crossing the Ouachita river at Harrisonburg, where it took the name of Harrisonburg road and thence across the high hills directly westward from Vidalia via Jonesville or Harrisonburg. But as the tide of immigration rose, the Harrisonburg route became more popular, and many persons who traveled from Natchez to the Jonesville area, crossed the ferry at Trinity and turned north to follow the Harrisonburg road.

Extensive research tended to show that by system of markers for the Old Natchitoches-Natchez Road would be complete, and represent the route in its historic whole, that did not include the important points of Vidalia, Jonesville and Harrisonburg. The name Harrisonburg road has been added to those markers that indicate the route, which has been described in detail by several writers.

Ferriday

As at Natchez the Mississippi river bridge, like the ancient ferry crossing is an integral part of the municipality. The highway leading to the bridge passes directly through the business and part of the residential area of Vidalia. The highway is paved to Ferriday, largest town of the parish.

Ferriday, Concordia Parish's other principal town, while not ancient in history, as is Vidalia, boasts a splendid record of continued growth since it was first incorporated in 1904.

Few towns, perhaps no other town in the state, boasts such phenomenal growth as can Ferriday, which now has a population, well over 5,000, and many large industrial payrolls, new schools, homes and modern places of business.

What is now Ferriday was once the Helena Plantation, comprising some 4,400 acres, belonging to J. C. Ferriday, for whom the town was named. Mr. Ferriday later sold his holdings to the Middlesex Bank and Trust Company, of Memphis, Tenn., who in turn, sold the property to the Realty Investment Company, who laid out the town of Ferriday in 1904, selling or rather, donating the first lot to Roman Miller, grandfather of the well known Concordia parish novelist, Roman Miller McDougald who lives at Clayton, and who has written a number of best selling mystery books.

McDougald's grandfather was at the time in the mercantile business at Vidalia, where the popular writer was born in 1907. It was Mr. Miller who suggested first the possibility of founding a town in Ferriday.

Helena Plantation

Like a giant in Seven League Boots, Ferriday grew from a flag-station on Helena plantation to its present size. The first mayor was T. H. Johnson, with Dr. J. T. Reeves, James C. Cochran, and J. Walters as the first members of the Board of Aldermen. At that time Ferriday was only a flag-station on the Missouri-Pacific with a box car being used as a depot. Now it has a modern depot and facilities.

The first places of business were built by J. C. Cochran, father of Commander James Charles Cochran of the U. S. Navy and husband of the late Mrs. Lelia Henry Mulvihill, who with her second husband, Patrick Mulvihill, and Harold M. Case, formerly operated the Ferriday Enterprise newspaper at Ferriday in the late twenties.

L. E. "Ned" Levee, formerly assistant cashier of the Ferriday branch of the Vidalia Bank & Trust Company, now working at the bank in Tallulah, was the first white child born in Ferriday. He was back recently on a visit. He has several children now and he is proud of the fact that he was the first baby born here.

Other mayors of Ferriday who succeeded the late T. H. Johnson, father of Mrs. Donald Theriot, of Ferriday, have been the late Capt. Henry Clay Sevier, the late State Senator Daniel Boone Fleming, Sr., Perry H. Corbett, Eugene W. Vogt, the late A. B. Crothers and the present mayor is a young World War II veteran Woodrow Davis, better known as "Woody" to his many friends. During his regime, new streets have been added, streets paved and other civic improvements made, new buildings including the new Post Office, Community Civic Club, new library and numerous others including the REA building, new motels and many new places of business, new schools, and other industries, all to numerous, to mention in this space.

But more of the "ancient history", of this remarkable parish town. In 1870 the old New Orleans & Northwestern operating through Ferriday, which was then Concordia Station, between Vidalia and Bastrop, was purchased by the Missouri-Pacific System, which later inaugurated the Ferriday-McGehee branch, both of which now serve this section.

Industrial Growth

In 1906 one of the first real industries for Ferriday came in the form of the railroad shops, which were built and operated jointly by the Missouri-Pacific and the Texas and Pacific Railroad Companies. This brought a larger number of skilled mechanics to Ferriday and this new payroll helped Ferriday's growth.

Coming in rapid succession because of its strategic location for industrial plants, were the Ferriday Cooperage Plant and the Ferriday Hoop Mill. On account of the nearness of raw materials and the excellent shipping facilities, Ferriday continued, like the rest of Concordia parish, to grow with rapidity when the Fisher Lumber corporation, a subsidiary of General Motors, established their large modern saw mill in Ferriday. This meant the addition of several hundred men to the payrolls of Ferriday. Shortly following came the Interstate Natural Gas Corporation's $7,000,000 gas booster plant and pumping station, and the large cotton compress and warehouses of the Union Compress and Warehouse Company, and others came in after Fisher Lumber Corporation sold out to P. H. Corbett who now operates as the Angelina Sawmill Company at the same site.

Located in the geographical center of Concordia parish, hardsurfaced or paved highways in all directions, Ferriday enjoys a continuing and substantial growth, which some day, residents predict, will find it pressing to the front with the larger cities of the state.

There is a new high school and the Ferriday High School Bulldogs last year, for the first time in 26 years of gridiron participation, won the class B championship of Louisiana. Basketball tournaments attract hundreds here each year and the other schools of the parish as well as the other communities in other sections of Concordia parish such as Monterey, New Era, Acme, Clayton, Wildsville, and many others are growing rapidly and lowlands have rich farmlands as well as one of the best cattle raising sections of the country in this parish.

Fish And Game

Fish and game abound in the parish and the lakes and streams are well known for fishing, boating and swimming. Largest of these is Lake St. John, but fish also are caught daily at Horseshoe Lake, Concordia Lake, and others in the parish. Hundreds of new homes have been built on the lakes and when the California Company struck oil in the area around Lake St. John, more progress came. Also oil has been found below Vidalia and in other parts of the parish.

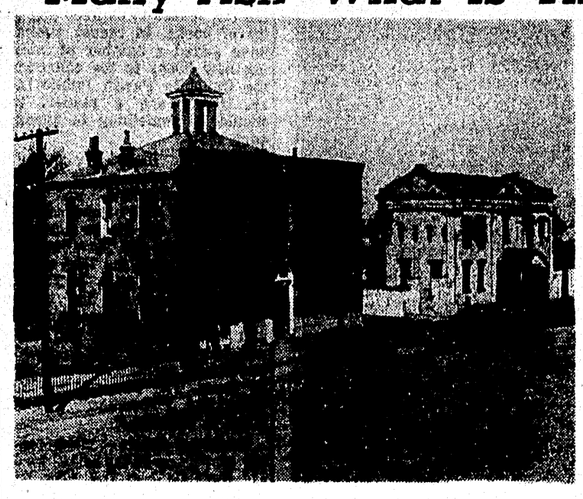

The California Company has a large cycling plant on Lake St. John, above Ferriday, there are large pecan groves all over the parish; livestock is seen on all sides and some of the richest farmland in the nation is located here.

Thus from a flag-station on Helena Plantation in less than 50 years Ferriday has become one of the best towns in Northeast Louisiana. And like "New Vidalia," Clayton, Frogmore, Wildsville, New Era, Acme, Monterey, and all of the other smaller communities all over the parish, Ferriday and the rest continue to grow and with the present oil and gas activities in this area, even greater growth and prosperity is anticipated.

The merchants of Ferriday, Vidalia and the other towns are all progressive, have splendid stocks of merchandise, and large, spacious store buildings. There are ample theatres and numerous houses of worship of all denominations and the Negro people of the parish also have modern school buildings and stores and dwellings.

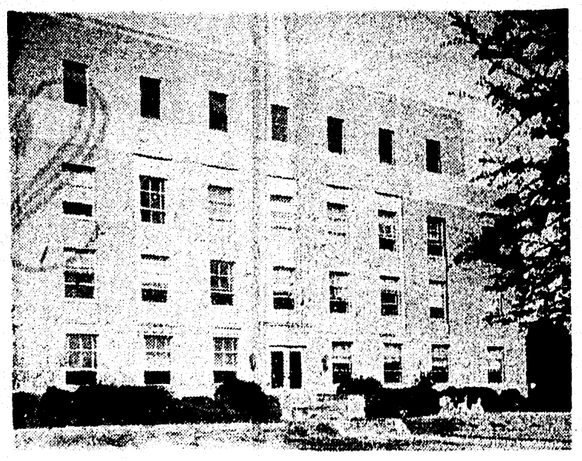

Truly, Concordia parish is a "homeseekers" paradise and a parish where one finds anything he or she may be seeking. Just like "The Miracle of Vidalia," there also seems to be continued miracles taking place all over the parish and from all indications, the "miracles" will be continued, but most of these are the result of long, hard work and planning.

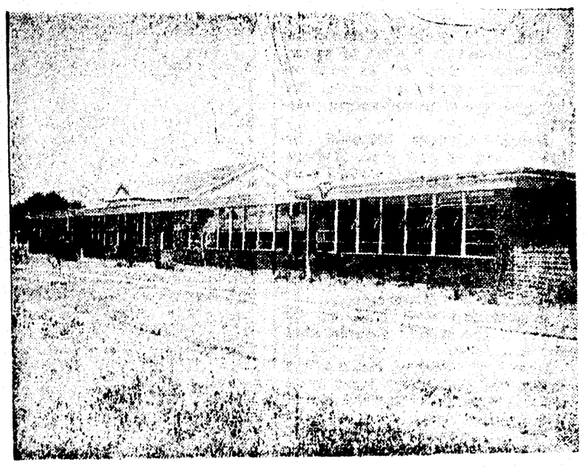

Many Ask 'What Is The Miracle Of Vidalia?'

VIEWS OF THE NEW VIDALIA—Standing proud and erect on its new plot of ground is the Concordia parish courthouse reflecting the modern structure of today, but not losing the semblance of the past held by the famous old delta parish on the Mississippi river. To the right is a new school in Vidalia showing that her citizens are providing adequate and modern facilities.

OLD MODE OF TRANSPORTATION—The ferry boat, shown above, was the mode of transportation used in past days to bind traffic between Louisiana and Mississippi across the river. On the ferry above can be seen automobiles as they crossed the river to be placed on highways on the other side.

NEW MODE OF TRANSPORTATION—Fast and comfortable across the vast multi-million dollar bridge which spans the river between Natchez, Miss. and Vidalia, La., parish seat of Concordia parish, is the mode of transportation today for motorists and commercial vans.

Story Of Concordia Is Steeped In History, Romance And Progress

By HAROLD M. CASE

The story of Concordia parish is one of history, romance, progress and remarkable development of its industries, farming, fishing, gas and oil field discoveries, and of many other facts and figures.

Like its nearby neighbor, Natchez - on - the - Mississippi, across the "big river" from Vidalia, parish seat, Concordia Parish is in the heart of the deep south and like Natchez and Adams County, this parish is both historic as well as progressive. From a geographic standpoint, Concordia Parish is truly a key distributing parish of the lower Mississippi Valley. Commercially it is one of the richest and best parishes of all.

Much has been written in the past regarding the history of this old parish and much has been also written at present about its development. One of the most authentic books ever written about the parish was "The History of Concordia Parish" by the late Robert Dabney Calhoun, a prominent attorney of Vidalia, whose family still resides in the parish, and we intend to quote from this splendid book as we attempt to tell you of the history of the parish, covering as much as possible in limited space all of the important factors, such as how the parish received its name, founding fathers, natural resources, leading industries, historic landmarks, and a general emphasis on the things that are important.

Parish Seat

Vidalia is a true example of the statement that "the age of miracles has not passed and we refer to the marvelous change which has taken place in this quaint old, but now progressive parish seat, one of the oldest of all towns on the Mississippi River. But Vidalia was not always progressive.

Vidalia, like neighboring Natchez, has emerged, rather suddenly as a thriving part of the new industrial south, and like Natchez, Vidalia and most of Concordia Parish, was satisfied to bask in the reflected glories of the past. Natchez was founded by the French in 1716 and, a century and a half ago, according to an article appearing in a recent issue of U. S. News and World Report by M. L. Ramsey, associate editor of the magazine, it flourished as a gateway to the newly opened southwest. Before the Civil War, the city became a commercial and cultural center for the great cotton plantations on the lower Mississippi river many of which were located in this parish—and many of the plantation owners still reside in Natchez.

Like Concordia Parish, Natchez depended on cotton, but when the cotton prosperity died, railroads cut into the river traffic and Natchez and Vidalia and parts of Concordia Parish and this southland section literally "went to sleep."

Now this has changed. About 15 years ago, Vidalia started to develop industrially. The community persuaded factories to move in and they located rather close to the 50 - graceful - century old mansions that had been this section's chief trademark. Today, this section, is one of the most rapidly growing of southern communities. New industries across the Mississippi River in Natchez, brought new families to live in Vidalia and caused a sharp rise in payrolls.

Oil Boom

On top of this has come an oil boom. More than 1,000 wells are spouting oil in Concordia, Tensas and neighboring parishes and across the river in Mississippi counties, of which Natchez is the county seat of Adams.

So the industrial growth of Natchez and Mississippi has helped this area especially Vidalia and Ferriday and resulted in many new homes over the parish and new cottages and summer residences being built on Lake St. John, fishing, swimming and boating playgrounds for parish and sectional residents.

The growth of this locality has also made residence in Vidalia more attractive and many new subdivisions are springing up on all sides. Where youths of this section of northeast Louisiana once went off to college never to return, now a large portion are coming back here to make careers.

Miracle Of Vidalia

But to get back to the "miracle of Vidalia." This modern miracle at Vidalia was one of engineering a number of years ago - and resulted in the removal of the old town in its entirety a mile inland from the original town site - once the Post of Concordia in the early Spanish days.

Here now in "New Vidalia," where the approach of the four million dollar free (and paid for) Natchez - Vidalia Mississippi River bridge takes off from the crown of the massive new set - back levee which protects the parish seat and most of the parish, is a tribute to modern engineering and to the foresight of the U. S. engineers who did the gigantic job.

Protecting "New Vidalia" from any future floods of the Mississippi river and its tributaries, at any stage, is this massive new setback levee. Approach piers of the giant river span now tower above the old townsite and the original courthouse, jail, lawyers offices and other landmarks, which have all disappeared, some being moved bodily, in the wake of modern machinery and the streamlined new buildings and new residences in "New Vidalia."

This writer remembers the old ferry boats across the river, but now one sees the old levee near the river's edge has disappeared—and the sandbars—where once the "hot heads" of historic Natchez fought their duels—too, has changed. Giant river dredges have torn away the old familiar riverfront and pumped the sand on the old townsite to make an impregnable rampart for the new setback levee guarding the "New Vidalia" and the U. S. Engineers declare that the town will be forever guarded against frontal attacks of Old Man River. But the glamour and the romance of the river is gone—and we miss it, but who are we to stand in the way of progress, and progress is truly here. Completion of the Natchez - Vidalia bridge and the subsequent freeing of the span came as a climax to the most revolutionary change ever known in the history of Vidalia and of Concordia parish.

Around about the time that Natchez launched the project to span the Mississippi river between Natchez and Vidalia, the town fathers of Vidalia, the Concordia Parish Police Jury, and the Fifth Louisiana District Levee Board of Commissioners, were given official notification by the U. S. Engineers that "because of radical innovations in the system of flood control it would be necessary to build a new setback levee a mile inland."

New Town Site

The government said through its engineers that it would be impossible to give continuing protection to Vidalia at its old location. There being no alternative town, parish and levee board members accepted the situation in the same spirit of cooperation with which they had met and overcome, in the past, numerous threats from the Mississippi river. They set about to make the best of what they then thought was a very, very bad situation.

Prolonged negotiations with government representatives were necessary to establish a basis of agreement for the purchase of the town site property. Conferences with property owners, securing of abstracts of title and many other preliminaries were essential.

A new town site had to be selected; plans made for the financing and rebuilding of the parish's public buildings and countless other details including sidewalks; the relocation of public utilities and the development of various PWA projects made necessary by the removal of the town.

While the ancient courthouse and jail were demolished completely and a number of business houses torn down, most of the residences and some of the frame business houses were placed on rollers and hauled to new sites.

During the period of removal, many were the interesting sights. A home might be seen en-route for several days and with streets torn up by gangs of workers and heavy machinery, period of heavy rains made ordinary occupation a real adventure.

However, old residents of Vidalia, and the newcomers, too, took the inconvenience of removal of their homes to the new locations cheerfully. Shrubs, flowers and shade trees were transplanted.

"Moving Parties" were in vogue and the friendly, neighborly spirit of the old town was in evidence on all sides. At no time was there any interruption in telephone, gas, electric, or water service. Townsmen for a brief period had the innovation of a "traveling postoffice" for during the time that the federal building was being moved to its new site, patrons would swing on and off without any interruption of moving.

Finally, at long last, the work of moving was completed. Then followed the celebration of the completion of the present new, beautiful and modern $100,000 Concordia parish courthouse and jail, a real climax to the removal of the entire town of "Old Vidalia" to its new site of "New Vidalia."

Mississippi Bridge

Next came the completion of the Natchez - Vidalia bridge, which too had been under construction while Vidalia was being moved. A bridge opening celebration was held and Vidalia citizens joined hands with Natchez neighbors in another big celebration, marking another triumph over the big river.

The completion of the river bridge and removal of the town site of Vidalia marked epichal events-real-red-letter days in the history of both Natchez and Vidalia, for through the years a union had existed between the two towns which both had its existence in the beginning of the early days of Spanish regimes.

Spanish Rule

Vidalia is one of the oldest towns on the Mississippi—and one of the oldest in the nation. Dating back to 1768, the original site was a post founded opposite Natchez, then the seat of Spanish government.

Ancient records disclose that in 1802, a ferry was first established between Vidalia and Natchez by Thomas Thompson, a brother-in-law of Don Jose Vidal, namesake and founder of the town of Vidalia, or the Post of Concordia (from which the parish gets its name), as it was then known. Naturally, Thompson was given the exclusive right to operate the ferry.

At this same ferry landing was the beginning of El Cameo Reale "The King's Highway," the route used by the Spanish in traveling between Natchez and Mexico City.

Historians say that "El Cameo Reale" was a continuation of the Natchez Trace and some commentators declare that the sun-worshipping Natchez Indians were descendants of the ancient Aztecs who wandered northward from Mexico through Louisiana over this route to establish their temple mounds on the bluffs at Natchez, and that "The King's Highway" followed the ancient Indians Trace which may, they say, have even antedated "The Appian Way" or the Pyramids of Egypt."

Natchez Trace

Between Natchez and Nashville, Tenn., the Natchez Trace Parkway is still being built as a great tourist route honoring the sturdy pioneers who won the great southwest and made it a part of the United States. The present terminus of the Natchez Trace Parkway is in Natchez at the Vidalia-Natchez bridge, but progressive Louisiana representatives in Congress have introduced bills calling for surveys to project the Natchez Trace through Louisiana and the state of Texas.

The Natchez Trace in its entirety is visualized as a great transcontinental super-highway which will eventually give the most direct route to Mexico City, the Panama Canal, and Central America, along the route of "El Camoo Reale".

Although the crossing of the Natchez-Vidalia bridge by the Natchez Trace is still in the future, that of two major U. S. trunk line highways from Vidalia to Natchez is an accomplished fact. Highways 65 and 84 converge at Vidalia, traffic flowing over Highway 84 from California and points west meet, originating from Canada, Minnesota, the Missouri Ozarks, and Hot Springs over U. S. Highway 65. From Natchez Highway 84 continues as a route to the east and Florida while Highway 65 joins 61 to become a dual route to New Orleans. There is a new highway past the bridge leading to the by-passes outside of the city limits of Natchez, all of which speeds up traffic through this section considerably.

On Friday, February 12 of this year markers which were erected between Pendleton Crossing on Sabine River and Natchez on the Mississippi were dedicated in Catahoula and Concordia parishes by the Louisiana State Society, Daughters of the American Revolution. The first program was at Jonesville at the junction of U. S. Highway 84 and La. 18; the second in Harrisonburg at the junction of La. 18 and 19, and the third, in Vidalia, on the courthouse grounds, U. S. Highway 84 and 65. Percy L. Rountree, Jr., Concordia Sentinel newspaper editor spoke here.

Natchitoches Road

These three markers were placed to commemorate the old Natchitoches Road and its variations from Natchitoches to Natchez. Of the many names applied to that system that of "Natchitoches-Natchez Road" seemed best, as it distinguishes it from early trails and roads that led to Natchitoches from other sections. "The Old San Antonio Trace" proper ended at Natchitoches, but the road was joined there by one almost as famous, the Old Natchitoches-Natchez Road, across Louisiana to Natchez, where it joined the Natchez Trace.

From old maps and records, it appears that the original overland route began at Vidalia and extended westward by Ferriday and Jonesville; but variations of the route were quickly put into use after the Louisiana Purchase increased the significance of overland ways of travel. An important alternate route started at Vidalia "passed across the Tensas River", to Sicily Island, following the highest ground, crossing the Ouachita river at Harrisonburg, where it took the name of Harrisonburg road and thence across the high hills directly westward from Vidalia via Jonesville or Harrisonburg. But as the tide of immigration rose, the Harrisonburg route became more popular, and many persons who traveled from Natchez to the Jonesville area, crossed the ferry at Trinity and turned north to follow the Harrisonburg road.

Extensive research tended to show that by system of markers for the Old Natchitoches-Natchez Road would be complete, and represent the route in its historic whole, that did not include the important points of Vidalia, Jonesville and Harrisonburg. The name Harrisonburg road has been added to those markers that indicate the route, which has been described in detail by several writers.

Ferriday

As at Natchez the Mississippi river bridge, like the ancient ferry crossing is an integral part of the municipality. The highway leading to the bridge passes directly through the business and part of the residential area of Vidalia. The highway is paved to Ferriday, largest town of the parish.

Ferriday, Concordia Parish's other principal town, while not ancient in history, as is Vidalia, boasts a splendid record of continued growth since it was first incorporated in 1904.

Few towns, perhaps no other town in the state, boasts such phenomenal growth as can Ferriday, which now has a population, well over 5,000, and many large industrial payrolls, new schools, homes and modern places of business.

What is now Ferriday was once the Helena Plantation, comprising some 4,400 acres, belonging to J. C. Ferriday, for whom the town was named. Mr. Ferriday later sold his holdings to the Middlesex Bank and Trust Company, of Memphis, Tenn., who in turn, sold the property to the Realty Investment Company, who laid out the town of Ferriday in 1904, selling or rather, donating the first lot to Roman Miller, grandfather of the well known Concordia parish novelist, Roman Miller McDougald who lives at Clayton, and who has written a number of best selling mystery books.

McDougald's grandfather was at the time in the mercantile business at Vidalia, where the popular writer was born in 1907. It was Mr. Miller who suggested first the possibility of founding a town in Ferriday.

Helena Plantation

Like a giant in Seven League Boots, Ferriday grew from a flag-station on Helena plantation to its present size. The first mayor was T. H. Johnson, with Dr. J. T. Reeves, James C. Cochran, and J. Walters as the first members of the Board of Aldermen. At that time Ferriday was only a flag-station on the Missouri-Pacific with a box car being used as a depot. Now it has a modern depot and facilities.

The first places of business were built by J. C. Cochran, father of Commander James Charles Cochran of the U. S. Navy and husband of the late Mrs. Lelia Henry Mulvihill, who with her second husband, Patrick Mulvihill, and Harold M. Case, formerly operated the Ferriday Enterprise newspaper at Ferriday in the late twenties.

L. E. "Ned" Levee, formerly assistant cashier of the Ferriday branch of the Vidalia Bank & Trust Company, now working at the bank in Tallulah, was the first white child born in Ferriday. He was back recently on a visit. He has several children now and he is proud of the fact that he was the first baby born here.

Other mayors of Ferriday who succeeded the late T. H. Johnson, father of Mrs. Donald Theriot, of Ferriday, have been the late Capt. Henry Clay Sevier, the late State Senator Daniel Boone Fleming, Sr., Perry H. Corbett, Eugene W. Vogt, the late A. B. Crothers and the present mayor is a young World War II veteran Woodrow Davis, better known as "Woody" to his many friends. During his regime, new streets have been added, streets paved and other civic improvements made, new buildings including the new Post Office, Community Civic Club, new library and numerous others including the REA building, new motels and many new places of business, new schools, and other industries, all to numerous, to mention in this space.

But more of the "ancient history", of this remarkable parish town. In 1870 the old New Orleans & Northwestern operating through Ferriday, which was then Concordia Station, between Vidalia and Bastrop, was purchased by the Missouri-Pacific System, which later inaugurated the Ferriday-McGehee branch, both of which now serve this section.

Industrial Growth

In 1906 one of the first real industries for Ferriday came in the form of the railroad shops, which were built and operated jointly by the Missouri-Pacific and the Texas and Pacific Railroad Companies. This brought a larger number of skilled mechanics to Ferriday and this new payroll helped Ferriday's growth.

Coming in rapid succession because of its strategic location for industrial plants, were the Ferriday Cooperage Plant and the Ferriday Hoop Mill. On account of the nearness of raw materials and the excellent shipping facilities, Ferriday continued, like the rest of Concordia parish, to grow with rapidity when the Fisher Lumber corporation, a subsidiary of General Motors, established their large modern saw mill in Ferriday. This meant the addition of several hundred men to the payrolls of Ferriday. Shortly following came the Interstate Natural Gas Corporation's $7,000,000 gas booster plant and pumping station, and the large cotton compress and warehouses of the Union Compress and Warehouse Company, and others came in after Fisher Lumber Corporation sold out to P. H. Corbett who now operates as the Angelina Sawmill Company at the same site.

Located in the geographical center of Concordia parish, hardsurfaced or paved highways in all directions, Ferriday enjoys a continuing and substantial growth, which some day, residents predict, will find it pressing to the front with the larger cities of the state.

There is a new high school and the Ferriday High School Bulldogs last year, for the first time in 26 years of gridiron participation, won the class B championship of Louisiana. Basketball tournaments attract hundreds here each year and the other schools of the parish as well as the other communities in other sections of Concordia parish such as Monterey, New Era, Acme, Clayton, Wildsville, and many others are growing rapidly and lowlands have rich farmlands as well as one of the best cattle raising sections of the country in this parish.

Fish And Game

Fish and game abound in the parish and the lakes and streams are well known for fishing, boating and swimming. Largest of these is Lake St. John, but fish also are caught daily at Horseshoe Lake, Concordia Lake, and others in the parish. Hundreds of new homes have been built on the lakes and when the California Company struck oil in the area around Lake St. John, more progress came. Also oil has been found below Vidalia and in other parts of the parish.

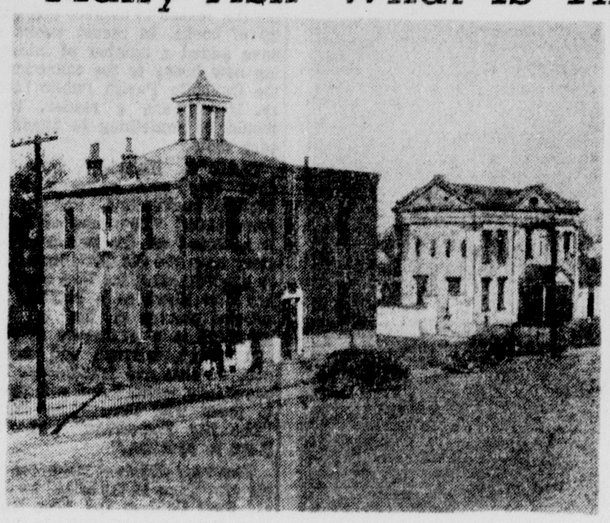

The California Company has a large cycling plant on Lake St. John, above Ferriday, there are large pecan groves all over the parish; livestock is seen on all sides and some of the richest farmland in the nation is located here.

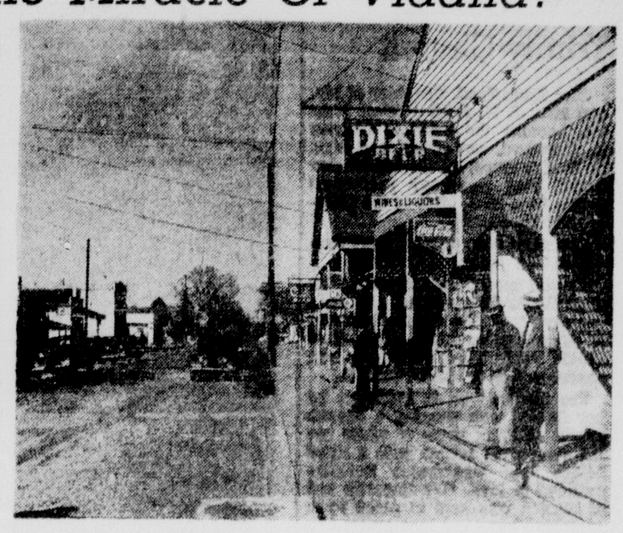

Thus from a flag-station on Helena Plantation in less than 50 years Ferriday has become one of the best towns in Northeast Louisiana. And like "New Vidalia," Clayton, Frogmore, Wildsville, New Era, Acme, Monterey, and all of the other smaller communities all over the parish, Ferriday and the rest continue to grow and with the present oil and gas activities in this area, even greater growth and prosperity is anticipated.

The merchants of Ferriday, Vidalia and the other towns are all progressive, have splendid stocks of merchandise, and large, spacious store buildings. There are ample theatres and numerous houses of worship of all denominations and the Negro people of the parish also have modern school buildings and stores and dwellings.

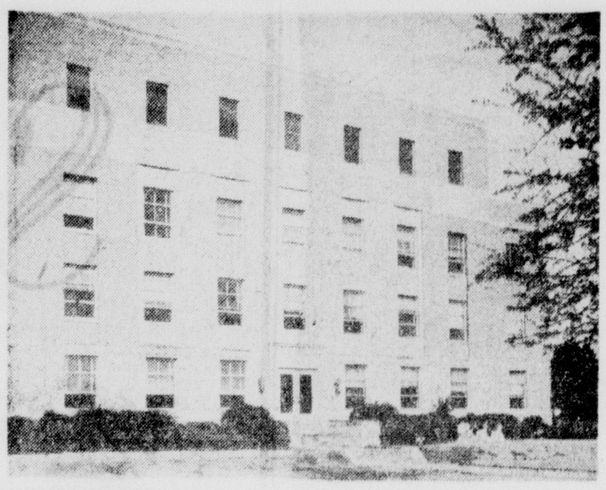

Truly, Concordia parish is a "homeseekers" paradise and a parish where one finds anything he or she may be seeking. Just like "The Miracle of Vidalia," there also seems to be continued miracles taking place all over the parish and from all indications the "miracles" will be continued, but most of these are the result of long, hard work and planning.

Crawford-Spell Vows Said In Trinity Church

Miss Edna Spell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spell of West Monroe, became the bride of Charles H. Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Crawford, in an impressive double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. H. J. Mott at the Trinity Baptist Church.

Greenery and spring flowers decorated the altar.

Nuptial music was presented by Miss Gloria Charles who also sang "Always," to the accompaniment of Miss Karline May. Mr. Truett Hinkie sang "Because" and was accompanied by Miss Charles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a chapel-length wedding gown of white nylon over white taffeta with a fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline outlined in lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a matching low - cut lace crown embossed in seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped by a nosegay bouquet of white carnations and tuberoses tied with matching streamers.

Mrs. W. E. Sumrall, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of light green nylon over taffeta. Her bouquet was of mixed spring flowers.

Donald Clowers attended the bridegroom as best man. Richard Crawford and Jerry Crawford were ushers.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a navy blue dress with white carnations. Mrs. Crawford, the bridegroom's mother, was becomingly attired in a light blue suit with white flowers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony.

Mrs. J. E. Strahan, sister of the bride, presided at the punch service and Mrs. W. E. Sumrall served the wedding cake.

The couple's wedding trip was to San Marcos and Houston, Tex. For traveling, the bride changed to a beige model with white accessories. They will make their home at 604 Spell Street, West Monroe.

If you like an oiled dust mop, dampen the mop with a mixture of three parts kerosene and one part paraffin oil. Let the mop stand at least 24 hours before using so the oil will penetrate and won't affect floor finishes.

News From The Public Library

The spring publishing season isates the Hawaii of the 1820's, where becoming almost as important as the fall season in number and quality of books. In recent weeks we have added a number of interesting new books to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. If you are a reader, there should be something to appeal to each taste.

Frank G. Slaughter, who has done very well before with the Biblical background, has a new story called "The Song of Ruth." It is based on the immortal love story from the Old Testament. Never subordinating the love story, he has also given us a brilliant and colorful picture of life in Bible times. It is a panorama of kings and slaves, triumph and tribulation, passion and tranquility. It is beautifully written and will appeal to those who liked "The Robe," "The Big Fisherman" and "The Road to Bythinia."

Two very different historical novels are "Lord of the Isles" by Donald Barr Chidsey and "The King's Vixen" by Pamela Hill. In "Lord of the Isles," Mr. Chidsey recreates the Hawaii of the 1820's, where pagan gods had just fallen and east was about to meet west. The hero of the story is Johnny Lamb, native of Connecticut, who landed in Hawaii after a whaling voyage. It is also the story of the two women who loved him, Queen Kaahumanu and Ann Mathewson, a beautiful young missionary. This is an exciting and explosive story, with a setting that is not the usual one. "The King's Vixen" is a story with the setting in medieval Scotland, with all its mingling of luxury and savagery. It is a story of a self-willed woman, whose life affected the course of history.

Mystery books have long been popular reading, but there has recently emerged a new type of mystery, that is a story of suspense. More and more these stories are taking the mystery field. "Nightmare in Copenhagen" by Martha Albrand is a taut, thrill - packed story of international intrigue. It is the story of Whitney Parker, a young American scientist, who was summoned hastily to Copenhagen, only to find his friend dead. How he solved the mystery of the secret explosive, makes interesting reading. "The Bad Seed" by William March is the story of a mother, who suddenly discovers that her young daughter is a murderess. Horrified, she checks back into her own ancestry and finds that her own mother was also a criminal. This is a horrible dilemma and the solution of the book seems to be the inevitable one.

Two real mysteries are "The Long Chase" by John M. Eshleman and "High Rendezvous" by Kathleen Moore Knight. "The Long Chase" is the story of a police lieutenant and the scene is San Francisco. "High Rendezvous" is the story of a woman who felt that she had to kill in order to protect her child, but never knew any peace thereafter.

"Invitation from Minerva" by March Cost is a fascinating story of nine dinner guests thrust from elegance into peril. March Cost has a wonderful ability to paint a picture of Europeans of the first part of the twentieth century. Everyone who read his book "The Hour Awaits" will want to read this new title.

"The Dollmaker" by Harriette Arnow, is the story of a woman from the hills of Kentucky, transported to the confusion of wartime Detroit. It is a magnificent portrayal of an uneducated but sensitive and imaginative woman who in spite of her sordid surroundings, retained her faith that her good is the right good and who triumphed even in defeat. A book which you will not want to miss is "River in the Wind" by Edith Pope. This story is laid in Florida at the time of the Seminole wars. Miss Pope presents a large number of interesting characters portrayed against the sweep of history.

"Peacocks on the Lawn" by Winston Clewes is a modern love story set in Ireland. It is the story of beautiful Katie, who ran the hotel, of her drunken father who owned it, but who never came out of the kitchen, of Lady Thomson, whose home it had been and of Geoffrey Harmer, who came to stay at the hotel and fell in love with Katie. Intrigued by the mystery of these people Geoffrey sets himself to solve it and in doing also finds his lifes happiness with Katie.

Devotees of P. G. Wodehouse, and there are many, will welcome his latest novel, "The Return of Jeeves." It is a hilarious story and just the one for you if you are looking for a very humorous story.

Frances Winwar is a novel based rances Winwar is a novel based on facts. It is the true story of the love of Camille and the composer Franz Liszt. It is beautifully written with Miss Winwar's usual charm.

These and many other new books are waiting for you at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. We hope you are taking advantage of its resources.

The spring publishing season is becoming almost as important as the fall season in number and quality of books. In recent weeks we have added a number of interesting new books to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. If you are a reader, there should be something to appeal to each taste.

Frank G. Slaughter, who has done very well before with the Biblical background, has a new story called "The Song of Ruth." It is based on the immortal love story from the Old Testament. Never subordinating the love story, he has also given us a brilliant and colorful picture of life in Bible times. It is a panorama of kings and slaves, triumph and tribulation, passion and tranquility. It is beautifully written and will appeal to those who liked "The Robe," "The Big Fisherman" and "The Road to Bythinia."

Two very different historical novels are "Lord of the Isles" by Donald Barr Chidsey and "The King's Vixen" by Pamela Hill. In "Lord of the Isles," Mr. Chidsey recreates the Hawaii of the 1820's, where pagan gods had just fallen and east was about to meet west. The hero of the story is Johnny Lamb, native of Connecticut, who landed in Hawaii after a whaling voyage. It is also the story of the two women who loved him, Queen Kaahumanu and Ann Mathewson, a beautiful young missionary. This is an exciting and explosive story, with a setting that is not the usual one. "The King's Vixen" is a story with the setting in medieval Scotland, with all its mingling of luxury and savagery. It is a story of a self-willed woman, whose life affected the course of history.

Mystery books have long been popular reading, but there has recently emerged a new type of mystery, that is a story of suspense. More and more these stories are taking the mystery field. "Nightmare in Copenhagen" by Martha Albrand is a taut, thrill - packed story of international intrigue. It is the story of Whitney Parker, a young American scientist, who was summoned hastily to Copenhagen, only to find his friend dead. How he solved the mystery of the secret explosive, makes interesting reading. "The Bad Seed" by William March is the story of a mother, who suddenly discovers that her young daughter is a murderess. Horrified, she checks back into her own ancestry and finds that her own mother was also a criminal. This is a horrible dilemma and the solution of the book seems to be the inevitable one.

Two real mysteries are "The Long Chase" by John M. Eshleman and "High Rendezvous" by Kathleen Moore Knight. "The Long Chase" is the story of a police lieutenant and the scene is San Francisco. "High Rendezvous" is the story of a woman who felt that she had to kill in order to protect her child, but never knew any peace thereafter.

"Invitation from Minerva" by March Cost is a fascinating story of nine dinner guests thrust from elegance into peril. March Cost has a wonderful ability to paint a picture of Europeans of the first part of the twentieth century. Everyone who read his book "The Hour Awaits" will want to read this new title.

"The Dollmaker" by Harriette Arnow, is the story of a woman from the hills of Kentucky, transported to the confusion of wartime Detroit. It is a magnificent portrayal of an uneducated but sensitive and imaginative woman who in spite of her sordid surroundings, retained her faith that her good is the right good and who triumphed even in defeat. A book which you will not want to miss is "River in the Wind" by Edith Pope. This story is laid in Florida at the time of the Seminole wars. Miss Pope presents a large number of interesting characters portrayed against the sweep of history.

"Peacocks on the Lawn" by Winston Clewes is a modern love story set in Ireland. It is the story of beautiful Katie, who ran the hotel, of her drunken father who owned it, but who never came out of the kitchen, of Lady Thomson, whose home it had been and of Geoffrey Harmer, who came to stay at the hotel and fell in love with Katie. Intrigued by the mystery of these people Geoffrey sets himself to solve it and in doing also finds his lifes happiness with Katie.

Devotees of P. G. Wodehouse, and there are many, will welcome his latest novel, "The Return of Jeeves." It is a hilarious story and just the one for you if you are looking for a very humorous story. Frances Winwar is a novel based rances Winwar is a novel based on facts. It is the true story of the love of Camille and the composer Franz Liszt. It is beautifully written with Miss Winwar's usual charm.

These and many other new books are waiting for you at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. We hope you are taking advantage of its resources.

Local Cemeteries To Attract Public Today

Impelled by the enthusiasm that surrounds the most sacred day of the entire year to all followers of Christ, young people and many no longer young, will proceed to cemeteries in the Twin Cities at sunrise hour today.

In Memorial Park Cemetery, highway 80, for the seventh annual time there will be an appropriate observance.

There will be scripture reading telling of the great resurrection scene, the Baptist Tabernacle youth choir, and West Monroe High School choir will sing, and the message of the morning will be delivered by Vernon Sanders, graduate of Centenary College and now enrolled in Duke University, where he is preparing for the life of a medical missionary.

Hasley Cemetery, West Monroe, will have as leaders in the sunrise Easter service, the newly formed and enthusiastic members of the Trenton Baptist Association, numbering 18 churches. A specially elaborate program of music, scripture and prayer is arranged. The message of the day will be brought by Rev. Herman Driskell.

These services are scheduled for 5:30 a. m. today. Out near Sterlington, residents of that town comprising several church congregations, will have a service in the Kim Drive-in Theatre, at the highway junction. This service will be held at 6:30 a. m. and the speaker will be a minister from Winnsboro.

Sterlington, Perryville and Bastrop residents are cordially invited to attend this service.

Many of the churches in Monroe and West Monroe will have special cantatas and exercises suited to Easter. Some held these on Palm Sunday but there are still others that are scheduled for tonight.

Orphans Home Asking For Its Easter Offering

In all Methodist Churches in Louisiana special collections will be received for the support of the Louisiana Methodist orphanage at Ruston.

Twice yearly, at Easter and in harvest time in the fall, the churches of the state make Sunday donations.

It is the receipts at this time that are responsible for the financing of this, the only Methodist orphans home in the state.

It is always urged that the donations be large for the demands are ever increasing due to modern conditions and expanding numbers at the home.

Soloist Poole Is Feature Of Easter Program

A musical program featuring Frank Poole, baritone soloist of Lafayette, was presented at the Oak Ridge Methodist Church on Friday evening. Mr. Poole is a junior at Louisiana State University and a voice pupil of Dallas Draper. He is also serving as minister of music at the Zachary Methodist Church.

Included on the program were: The Holy City by Stephen Adams; The Palms by Jean Baptiste Faure; Hosanna by Jules Granier; At the Cry of the First Bird by David Guinn; There is a Green Hill Far Away by Charles Gounod; and The Lord's Prayer by Albert Hay Malotte.

The choir of the church sang two numbers during the evening. No Other Way by Henry Fluegge and Hallelujah for the Cross by James McGranahan.

Unique Revival Has Drawn Many To Church Here

Easter Sunday closes the two-week Bassett revival which has been conducted at the Central Baptist Church with large crowds attending all of these services and many decisions have been made for Christ and the church. Carl Bassett, nationally known evangelist, has conducted one of the most effective and heart searching revivals to be held at Central Baptist Church. Many Christians have been restored to the faith and souls have been saved.

All the services have been conducted in a unique way. All the songs are projected on a screen and he leads the singing with his trombone. Miss Dolores Gonzales accompanied him on the organ while Mrs. C. Roger Johnson accompanied on the piano. Each night he would draw a beautiful chalk painting to be given to the one who brings the greatest number of new people to the services. These pictures are very effective when using the rotary colored lights. In his sermons, Carl Bassett centers all his messages on the various phases of the cross. He speaks in the dark with the projected pictures behind him. His messages have been heart-searching and convincing.

Today will be the climatic day to the revival and it is anticipated that there will be overflow crowds with many people responding to the invitation during these closing services.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: A friend of mine denies the fact of Christ's existence. He challenges me to prove that He has ever been on the earth. In my own mind I believe, but how can I get it across to him? W. A. R.

ANSWER: Anyone who denies the fact of the existence of Christ upon the earth is surely living in a fool's paradise. The great truth concerning Christianity is that whatever else it may be, a creed, a system, a philosophy, a theology —it is first of all the record of a historical fact, that Jesus Christ came to this world and died and that He arose again from the dead. Men of all ages have tried to prove the authenticity of this record, but today it stands established beyond the possibility of candid question, that Jesus Christ lived and died as recorded in the four Gospels. These men who wrote the Gospels, lived and labored with Jesus and their record has stood the test of the ages.

The resurrection is the invincible proof, the invincible assertion of the truth of Christianity. A Moslem interrupted a preacher one day in India He asked, "What proof have you got in your religion? When we go to Arabia we can find the tomb of the prophet, so that we have the proof that he lived, but when we go to Jerusalem, you cannot be sure of the burial place of Jesus Christ." "True, we have no tomb in our religion," replied the preacher, "but, because we have no corpse." Thank God, our gospel ends not in a corpse, but in a Conqueror — not in a tomb, but in a triumph.

Local Cemeteries To Attract Public Today

Impelled by the enthusiasm that surrounds the most sacred day of the entire year to all followers of Christ, young people and many no longer young, will proceed to cemeteries in the Twin Cities at sunrise hour today.

In Memorial Park Cemetery, highway 80, for the seventh annual time there will be an appropriate observance.

There will be scripture reading telling of the great resurrection scene, the Baptist Tabernacle youth choir, and West Monroe High School choir will sing, and the message of the morning will be delivered by Vernon Sanders, graduate of Centenary College and now enrolled in Duke University, where he is preparing for the life of a medical missionary.

Hasley Cemetery, West Monroe, will have as leaders in the sunrise Easter service, the newly formed and enthusiastic members of the Trenton Baptist Association, numbering 18 churches. A specially elaborate program of music, scripture and prayer is arranged. The message of the day will be brought by Rev. Herman Driskell.

These services are scheduled for 5:30 a. m. today. Out near Sterlington, residents of that town comprising several church congregations, will have a service in the Kim Drive-in Theatre, at the highway junction. This service will be held at 6:30 a. m. and the speaker will be a minister from Winnsboro.

Sterlington, Perryville and Bastrop residents are cordially invited to attend this service.

Many of the churches in Monroe and West Monroe will have special cantatas and exercises suited to Easter. Some held these on Palm Sunday but there are still others that are scheduled for tonight.

Orphans Home Asking For Its Easter Offering

In all Methodist Churches in Louisiana today special collections will be received for the support of the Louisiana Methodist orphanage at Ruston.

Twice yearly, at Easter and in harvest time in the fall, the churches of the state make Sunday donations.

It is the receipts at this time that are responsible for the financing of this, the only Methodist orphans home in the state.

It is always urged that the donations be large for the demands are ever increasing due to modern conditions and expanding numbers at the home.

This is an institution near to the hearts of all Methodists.

Soloist Poole Is Feaiure Of Easter Program

A musical program featuring Frank Poole, baritone soloist of Lafayette, was presented at the Oak Ridge Methodist Church on Friday evening. Mr. Poole is a junior at Louisiana State University and a voice pupil of Dallas Draper. He is also serving as minister of music at the Zachary Methodist Church.

Included on the program were: The Holy City by Stephen Adams; The Palms by Jean Baptiste Faure; Hosanna by Jules Granier; At the Cry of the First Bird by David Guinn; There is a Green Hill Far Away by Charles Gounod; and The Lord's Prayer by Albert Hay Malotte.

The choir of the church sang two numbers during the evening. No Other Way by Henry Fluegge and Hallelujah for the Cross by James McGranahan.

Unique Revival Has Drawn Many To Church Here

Easter Sunday closes the two-week Bassett revival which has been conducted at the Central Baptist Church with large crowds attending all of these services and many decisions have been made for Christ and the church. Carl Bassett, nationally known evangelist, has conducted one of the most effective and heart searching revivals to be held at Central Baptist Church. Many Christians have been restored to the faith and souls have been saved.

All the services have been conducted in a unique way. All the songs are projected on a screen and he leads the singing with his trombone. Miss Dolores Gonzales accompanied him on the organ while Mrs. C. Roger Johnson accompanied on the piano. Each night he would draw a beautiful chalk painting to be given to the one who brings the greatest number of new people to the services. These pictures are very effective when using the rotary colored lights. In his sermons, Carl Bassett centers all his messages on the various phases of the cross. He speaks in the dark with the projected pictures behind him. His messages have been heart-searching and convincing.

Today will be the climatic day to the revival and it is anticipated that there will be overflow crowds with many people responding to the invitation during these closing services.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: A friend of mine denies the fact of Christ's existence. He challenges me to prove that He has ever been on the earth. In my own mind I believe, but how can I get it across to him? W. A. R.

ANSWER: Anyone who denies the fact of the existence of Christ upon the earth is surely living in a fool's paradise. The great truth concerning Christianity is that whatever else it may be, a creed, a system, a philosophy, a theology —it is first of all the record of a historical fact, that Jesus Christ came to this world and died and that He arose again from the dead. Men of all ages have tried to prove the authenticity of this record, but today it stands established beyond the possibility of candid question, that Jesus Christ lived and died as recorded in the four Gospels. These men who wrote the Gospels, lived and labored with Jesus and their record has stood the test of the ages.

The resurrection is the invincible proof, the invincible assertion of the truth of Christianity. A Moslem interrupted a preacher one day in India He asked, "What proof have you got in your religion? When we go to Arabia we can find the tomb of the prophet, so that we have the proof that he lived, but when we go to Jerusalem, you cannot be sure of the burial place of Jesus Christ." "True, we have no tomb in our religion," replied the preacher, "but, because we have no corpse." Thank God, our gospel ends not in a corpse, but in a Conqueror — not in a tomb, but in a triumph.

Bernice Baptists To Conduct Revival

BERNICE (Special) — A revival meeting will be held at the First Baptist Church April 18-25, according to R. B. Middleton, pastor.

Services during this week will be conducted by Dr. Eugene Skelton of the First Baptist Church of Tyler who will deliver his first message Monday morning.

Morning and evening programs will be held at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Music will be under the leadership of Curtis Bryan, music and educational director of the Bernice church.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

9-Day Diet Prepares You For Bathing Suits

Here it is again, that wonderful time of year when nature is putting away her winter garments and preparing her spring and summer wardrobes, just as we women are.

No wonder spring is considered the season for romance, since the world about us is bursting into new beauty. With nature yawning and stretching toward the sky in buds and flowers, it is not surprising that we feel an urge to happiness, a new awakening within ourselves, a lazy but strong surge of inner awareness and appreciation for just being alive!

Along with these thoughts come ideas of self-improvement, in the way we look and the way we feel. We long to match the mood of spring a little bit, anyway, by becoming more attractive and by wearing some colorful new clothes. Following as naturally as the tail of a kite follows the kite, comes figure consciousness.

How Will You Look?

How are you going to look in a bathing suit a few weeks hence? What about shorts? Are you going to be uncomfortable because of a few pads of fat or rolls which you can quickly banish? Even if you do not swim or wear shorts, you will discard heavier, more concealing winter clothes for lighter undergarments and sheers and cottons.

Most of you readers know about my Nine-Day Reducing Diet and thousands of you write for it every year. However, for those of you who may not know, I can accurately say that you will lose from five to ten pounds in just nine short days if you follow the menus.

This is not an idle fancy of mine. This Nine-Day Diet has become a regular yearly feature of this column. Everyone loses weight on it and according to hundreds of letters in my files, women find it most satisfactory. It has been approved by a widely-known physician.

Healthful Way

A woman should not lose a great deal of weight so rapidly but for a short loss this is the way to do it IF you use menus which give you the essentials for health.

Thousands of women hover about the "ten pounds too much" weight and stay there for years. This is unfortunate because ten pounds can make such a great difference in the figure and are so easy to lose if you make up your mind to eat as directed for just NINE days.

Whether you lose five or six or eight or ten pounds depends on your individual physical makeup (metabolism, etc.) and your physical activity.

Tomorrow I will print the menus for the following day.

The daily menus will be printed in your newspaper each day, but if you would like to have all of the menus for nine days in a convenient booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Nine-Day Reducing Diet Booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of Morning World.

Tomorrow: "Want to Lose 10 Pounds? Follow Diet Only 9 Days."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM D Sc

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. Harley J. Earl, auto executive has said that if it weren't for women, we would still be driving Model Ts. Women have changed practically every feature that has either eye or comfort appeal. One company employs five expert women to criticize styling of new cars.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes. The Illinois Medical Society states that laughter relaxes the heart, throws more adrenalin into the blood for energy, tones up blood vessels, ventilates the lungs, clears the mind, and decidedly prolongs life. Laugh, and fool the undertaker!

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. Psychologists Lehman and Witty found by experiment that boys prefer occupations where they can issue orders — Navy and Army officers, ranchmen, doctors, contractors. A girl prefers to be a secretary, nurse, bookkeeper, beauty operator — where she can take orders. Alas! This doesn't necessarily apply to marriage.

HOW TO RELAX

Are you nervous, edgy? Can't sleep nights? Falling down on your job? Get a new lease on life by learning how to relax. A worthwhile investment for every one who wants to be rid of worries. For a copy of the booklet, HOW TO RELAX, send 15 cents (coin only) plus self - addressed, stamped envelope (give name of city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper. . . . . .

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: It seems that the bachelors and old maids are having their annual sound-off in your column. Here's where I jump in J. L. A. thinks others are jealous of her and her "career women." It is just the other way around. As for married people complaining of being tied down financially, that's a lot of bunk. You get out of life what you put into it, no matter what your status. I've been married six years and wouldn't change places with her for anything! — G. A. K.

Dear Ann Landers: our grapes to J. L. A. "Old Maid" is the correct adjective to describe her and others like her.

As for "men aren't worth it" . . . They are, if you have the right man, and that's where she probably misses with her attitude. The right ones don't want her. She and others like her are missing out on the purpose for which they were put on earth — to marry and have children. In her old age, she will regret it and realize that she ruined a life that could have been full of happiness. As for marriage being "drudgery" and filled with "insecurity," she's daffy! She doesn't know what she's missing! — One who knows.

Dear Mrs. Landers: Ho, ho, ho . . . just whom is J. L. A. kidding? She is not only an old maid, but a bitter one at that. The marriage noose she spoke of is not one of drudgery and insecurity but of happiness and security. She says she can travel . . . Who wants to travel alone? Don't kid yourself, sister, that walk down the aisle is the beginning of life itself. — Marital Bliss.

Dear Ann: People like J. L. A. and "Another Happy Bachelor," disgust me. They think they have so much, but when they are old and sick who will they have to love and care for them? No one but the old people's home. They are missing the greatest things in life — to love and to be loved. — Frances.

Dear Mrs. Landers: We housewives do not envy L. L. A. We pity her. I, too, was a career girl and intended devoting my life to my high - paying job in television. Even when I married I had full intentions of continuing my career. When I knew a baby was calling a halt to it, I was horrified, but "for my husband's sake" carried on! My baby is now over a year old and I haven't given my career a passing thought and probably never will. Watching an infant develope is too precious a task to spoil with synthetic pleasures. I wouldn't trade my life of "drudgery" (her word) for one moment of my old, selfish life. It's wonderful to belong to someone, J. L. A., someone, that is, besides yourself. — Really contented.

Dear Mrs. Landers: Thank you so much for the answers you give to working married women. My wife is one of those money-hungry kind and it's getting under my skin to read your column. Boy! Do I get a kick out of it. I help with everything, too, and when I suggest taking a vacation she vetoes the idea because we have to "save for a rainy day." About the bachelors. . . . They have the right idea. If I had it to do over I'd be one of them. You can't please the women of today. Keep up the good work. All the women in our club are mad at you but we men discuss your answers at our sessions and we love you! — Good luck!

Revenue Chief For Louisiana To Speak Here

When the Men's club of the First Methodist Church assembles in the social room of the educational building Friday at 7 p.m. for the April meeting, Rufus W. Fontenot, collector of revenue for the state of Louisiana will be the speaker.

Mr. Fontenot is widely known, having a long time record with the state. He was born in Crowley, where he prepared for Louisiana State University and also he attended later the Tyler (Tex.) Commercial college.

For four years, from 1914, he served as secretary to U. S. Senator Joe E. Ransdell, and in 1918 he became collector of internal revenue for Louisiana under President Woodrow Wilson. He was reappointed by President Roosevelt and served from 1933-40 and also served similarly from 1940-43.

In 1943 Fontenot served as a major in the U. S. Army and set up plans for the administration of taxation, budget controls and state monopolies for Germany.

Managing the city of New Orleans campaign for Robert F. Kennon in 1951, he was named collector of internal revenue.

He is a lifelong Methodist, being active in church work in half a dozen cities in which he has lived. In the Rayne Methodist Church in New Orleans he has taught a Bible class for four years and has been a member of the board of stewards.

The president of the First Methodist Men's club is John Carroll. C. W. Wallace, Jr., is chairman of attendance. Reservations can be made for the luncheon by phoning Mr. Wallace or the church office.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you save time at every delivery stop. And you can forget about clutching and shifting for good! It's optional at extra cost on ½-, ¾- and 1-ton Chevrolet trucks.

You save extra trips. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pick-up bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower for easier loading.

You save with lower upkeep, too. Extra chassis strength saves you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models . . . bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models . . . stronger frames in all models.

You save on operating costs. New power saves you money every mile! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235" and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost) deliver increased operating economy.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay and continue over the miles. Chevrolet is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. It's also the truck that has a traditionally higher trade-in value.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

9-Day Diet Prepares You For Bathing Suits

Here it is again, that wonderful time of year when nature is putting away her winter garments and preparing her spring and summer wardrobes, just as we women are.

No wonder spring is considered the season for romance, since the world about us is bursting into new beauty. With nature yawning and stretching toward the sky in buds and flowers, it is not surprising that we feel an urge to happiness, a new awakening within ourselves, a lazy but strong surge of inner awareness and appreciation for just being alive!

Along with these thoughts come ideas of self-improvement, in the way we look and the way we feel. We long to match the mood of spring a little bit, anyway, by becoming more attractive and by wearing some colorful new clothes. Following as naturally as the tail of a kite follows the kite, comes figure consciousness.

How Will You Look?

How are you going to look in a bathing suit a few weeks hence? What about shorts? Are you going to be uncomfortable because of a few pads of fat or rolls which you can quickly banish? Even if you do not swim or wear shorts, you will discard heavier, more concealing winter clothes for lighter undergarments and sheers and cottons.

Most of you readers know about my Nine-Day Reducing Diet and thousands of you write for it every year. However, for those of you who may not know, I can accurately say that you will lose from five to ten pounds in just nine short days if you follow the menus.

This is not an idle fancy of mine. This Nine-Day Diet has become a regular yearly feature of this column. Everyone loses weight on it and according to hundreds of letters in my files, women find it most satisfactory. It has been approved by a widely-known physician.

Healthful Way

A woman should not lose a great deal of weight so rapidly but for a short loss this is the way to do it IF you use menus which give you the essentials for health.

Thousands of women hover about the "ten pounds too much" weight and stay there for years. This is unfortunate because ten pounds can make such a great difference in the figure and are so easy to lose if you make up your mind to eat as directed for just NINE days.

Whether you lose five or six or eight or ten pounds depends on your individual physical makeup (metabolism, etc.) and your physical activity.

Tomorrow I will print the menus for the following day.

The daily menus will be printed in your newspaper each day, but if you would like to have all of the menus for nine days in a convenient booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Nine-Day Reducing Diet Booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of Morning World.

Tomorrow: "Want to Lose 10 Pounds? Follow Diet Only 9 Days."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM D Sc

Reg U S Pat Off

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. Harley J. Earl, auto executive has said that if it weren't for women, we would still be driving Model Ts. Women have changed practically every feature that has either eye or comfort appeal. One company employs five expert women to criticize styling of new cars.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes. The Illinois Medical Society states that laughter relaxes the heart, throws more adrenalin into the blood for energy, tones up blood vessels, ventilates the lungs, clears the mind, and decidedly prolongs life. Laugh, and fool the undertaker!

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. Psychologists Lehman and Witty found by experiment that boys prefer occupations where they can issue orders — Navy and Army officers, ranchmen, doctors, contractors. A girl prefers to be a secretary, nurse, bookkeeper, beauty operator — where she can take orders. Alas! This doesn't necessarily apply to marriage.

HOW TO RELAX

Are you nervous, edgy? Can't sleep nights? Falling down on your job? Get a new lease on life by learning how to relax. A worthwhile investment for every one who wants to be rid of worries. For a copy of the booklet, HOW TO RELAX, send 15 cents (coin only) plus self - addressed, stamped envelope (give name of city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: It seems that the bachelors and old maids are having their annual sound-off in your column. Here's where I jump in J. L. A. thinks others are jealous of her and her "career women." It is just the other way around. As for married people complaining of being tied down financially, that's a lot of bunk. You get out of life what you put into it, no matter what your status. I've been married six years and wouldn't change places with her for anything! — G. A. K.

Dear Ann Landers: our grapes to J. L. A. "Old Maid" is the correct adjective to describe her and others like her.

As for "men aren't worth it" . . . They are, if you have the right man, and that's where she probably misses with her attitude. The right ones don't want her. She and others like her are missing out on the purpose for which they were put on earth — to marry and have children. In her old age, she will regret it and realize that she ruined a life that could have been full of happiness. As for marriage being "drudgery" and filled with "insecurity," she's daffy! She doesn't know what she's missing! — One who knows.

Dear Mrs. Landers: Ho, ho, ho . . . just whom is J. L. A. kidding? She is not only an old maid, but a bitter one at that. The marriage noose she spoke of is not one of drudgery and insecurity but of happiness and security. She says she can travel . . . Who wants to travel alone? Don't kid yourself, sister, that walk down the aisle is the beginning of life itself. — Marital Bliss.

Dear Ann: People like J. L. A. and "Another Happy Bachelor," disgust me. They think they have so much, but when they are old and sick who will they have to love and care for them? No one but the old people's home. They are missing the greatest things in life — to love and to be loved. — Frances.

Dear Mrs. Landers: We housewives do not envy L. L. A. We pity her. I, too, was a career girl and intended devoting my life to my high - paying job in television. Even when I married I had full intentions of continuing my career. When I knew a baby was calling a halt to it, I was horrified, but "for my husband's sake" carried on! My baby is now over a year old and I haven't given my career a passing thought and probably never will. Watching an infant develope is too precious a task to spoil with synthetic pleasures. I wouldn't trade my life of "drudgery" (her word) for one moment of my old, selfish life. It's wonderful to belong to someone, J. L. A., someone, that is, besides yourself. — Really contented.

Dear Mrs. Landers: Thank you so much for the answers you give to working married women. My wife is one of those money-hungry kind and it's getting under my skin to read your column. Boy! Do I get a kick out of it. I help with everything, too, and when I suggest taking a vacation she vetoes the idea because we have to "save for a rainy day." About the bachelors. . . . They have the right idea. If I had it to do over I'd be one of them. You can't please the women of today. Keep up the good work. All the women in our club are mad at you but we men discuss your answers at our sessions and we love you! — Good luck!

YANKEE PASHA—Forbidden lovers in the forbidden land of Morocco, Jeff Chandler and Rhonda Fleming are co-starred in Universal-International's Technicolor production of "Yankee Pasha," based on Edison Marshall's best-seller. Lee J. Cobb, Mamie Van Doren, Bart Roberts and the eight winning Miss Universe beauties are featured.

Judy Holliday Back On 'Fun' Film At Paramount

Judy Holliday, the wonder girl of "Born Yesterday," is said to be more wonderful than ever in Columbia Pictures' smart new comedy hit, "It Should Happen To You," which will be the next attraction at the Paramount Theatre. Peter Lawford is co-starred with Miss Holliday in "It Should Happen to You" which introduces Jack Lemmon, bright young star of the Broadway stage and television.

The story and screen play by Garson Kanin, who also authored "Born Yesterday," in which Judy gave an Academy Award - winning comedy performance, is said to be crammed with hilarious situations and dialogue. Director George Cukor, who also had no small hand in the merry "Born Yesterday" proceedings, is reported to have extracted the most out of Kanin's script and Miss Holliday's comedic talents.

In "It Should Happen to You," Judy, as an erstwhile model who has just lost her job, decides to become famous by gambling her meager and hard - won savings; she rents the space on a huge and vacant advertising billboard on Columbus Circle to the dismay of the young executive of a giant soap company, played by Lawford, who considers it a life-and-death matter to obtain the billboard Judy has pre-empted.

In a trade with Lawford, Miss Holliday gets six other billboards throughout the city. These help her become a television personality to reckon with, as well as the focal point for Lawford's advertising campaign for soap. She also finds herself with not one, but two, "fellers" on her hands: Lawford and newcomer Jack Lemmon, a movie camera addict who loves Judy but is appalled by her freak and fake buildup as a celebrity.

"It Should Happen to You" was filmed amid such New York locales as Bronx Zoo, Macy's, Madison Ave., Central Park, Herald Square, Columbus Circle and several television studios. Miss Holliday, who dazzled her audiences with her splendid ensembles in "Born Yesterday," has an equally elaborate wardrobe in "It Should Happen to You," no fewer than 22 of Jean Louis' most spectacular designs.

Recreating Historic Invasion Of Saipan

By ALDO RAY
(Guest Columnist)

(HOLLYWOOD, April 17. — This column was written on location in Vieques, Puerto Rico, some weeks ago. I will retain the style I used there, and remember as you read, that we are in Puerto Rico, and not in Hollywood.)

VIEQUES, Puerto Rico — From June 15 to July 9, 1944, U. S. Marines heroically fought to capture Saipan from the Japanese. Ten years later on this little Caribbean island, approximately the same in size and appearance, director Raoul Walsh, fifteen actors headed by Van Heflin, James Whitmore, Tab Hunter and I - and thousands of Marines are recreating the historic invasion of Saipan for Warners' "Battle Cry."

Marines and actors are pouring out of landing craft and amtracs, smoke, fire and devastation can be seen everywhere as studio made bombs explode and heavy artillery and machine guns fire their rounds of ammunition. Only the fact that the prone bodies on the beach are able to rise after a scene is filmed enables one to distinguish this screen battle from a real one.

Raoul Walsh is beaming happily as he directs this spectacular action. The son of the late Thomas Walsh, a distinguished New York artist, he likes to do his own cinema painting on a broad canvas. This he is able to do here, and with the full cooperation of the Marines, who under Brigadier General Herny R. Paige are now holding their battle and landing exercises on Vieques.

The Saipan invasion is only one of the sequences from the film adaptation of Leon Uris' best selling novel. The landings at Tarawa and Guadalcanal are also being staged on Vieques.

Many months were spent casting the picture before production was launched. Walsh selected the actors not only with an eye to their acting ability, but also with regard to their service records. He wanted men who could convincingly protray the rugged, fighting Marines.

Upon arriving at Vieques, Walsh's instructions to the actors were that they were to behave and conduct themselves so that nobody on the base could tell the difference between the real Marines and the movie ones.

That offered no problem to James Whitmore, who during World War II was a real fighting Marine lieutenant on Saipan. I could also do my part from memory, I was a member of a Navy underwater demolition team in the Saipan invasion.

The other actors have military records. Van Heflin was an Air Force lieutenant in the European theatre of war. Three of the other featured players came directly from the service to their roles here. Glenn Denning, a lieutenant in the Marine Reserve, started on the picture two weeks after returning from Korea, as did Felix Noreigo, an Army private. Tommy Cook, a Marine corporal for the past two years is completing the last few weeks of his enlistment while making the picture.

Walsh has taken added insurance that no actor will give a grease paint interpretation of a Marine. His players are living like Marines away from, as well as in front of, the cameras. Though the movie troupe's mailing address is the Caribe Hilton Hotel in San Juan, there is no whisking away of the stars to the comfort of the swank hotel upon completion of the day's shooting.

When day's work is done, the actors are loaded into a Marine truck and returned to their tents. For entertainment in the evening they can sit on the side of a hill and watch a motion picture, possibly one of their own. If they prefer a dry tent to dodging intermittent tropical showers at an open air movie, they can write letters home, play cards or polish off a few cans of beer.

Reveille is at 530 a.m. with the thespians making their own bunks before they stand in the long chow line for breakfast. A couple of touch Marine sergeants are available to drill them in marching and gunnery when they are not actually before the cameras.

In the evenings Walsh maps out his film battle plans for the next day. The director is a skilled hand at this sort of thing. As a youngster his first film experience was riding with Pancho Villa and his revolutionists while photographing their battles and pillage for "The Life of Villa." One of the great war pictures of all time, "What Price Glory?", was directed by Walsh and more recently "Fighter Squadron," "Captain Horatio Hornblower," and "Distant Drums."

Walsh conducts himself like a real Marine general as he works out every detail of the next day's filming with Colonel Henry Crow, technical advisor and one of the Marine Corps' most decorated heroes; assistant director Russ Saunders, a former All - American football player; and powder experts Fred Ponedel and Ralph Webb. The film invasion is as precisely timed and as carefully thought out in every respect as an actual landing.

Judy Holliday Back On 'Fun' Film At Paramount

Judy Holliday, the wonder girl of "Born Yesterday," is said to be more wonderful than ever in Columbia Pictures' smart new comedy hit, "It Should Happen To You," which will be the next attraction at the Paramount Theatre. Peter Lawford is co-starred with Miss Holliday in "It Should Happen to You" which introduces Jack Lemmon, bright young star of the Broadway stage and television.

The story and screen play by Garson Kanin, who also authored "Born Yesterday," in which Judy gave an Academy Award - winning comedy performance, is said to be crammed with hilarious situations and dialogue. Director George Cukor, who also had no small hand in the merry "Born Yesterday" proceedings, is reported to have extracted the most out of Kanin's script and Miss Holliday's comedic talents.

In "It Should Happen to You," Judy, as an erstwhile model who has just lost her job, decides to become famous by gambling her meager and hard - won savings; she rents the space on a huge and vacant advertising billboard on Columbus Circle to the dismay of the young executive of a giant soap company, played by Lawford, who considers it a life-and-death matter to obtain the billboard Judy has pre-empted.

In a trade with Lawford, Miss Holliday gets six other billboards throughout the city. These help her become a television personality to reckon with, as well as the focal point for Lawford's advertising campaign for soap. She also finds herself with not one, but two, "fellers" on her hands: Lawford and newcomer Jack Lemmon, a movie camera addict who loves Judy but is appalled by her freak and fake buildup as a celebrity.

"It Should Happen to You" was filmed amid such New York locales as Bronx Zoo, Macy's, Madison Ave., Central Park, Herald Square, Columbus Circle and several television studios. Miss Holliday, who dazzled her audiences with her splendid ensembles in "Born Yesterday," has an equally elaborate wardrobe in "It Should Happen to You," no fewer than 22 of Jean Louis' most spectacular designs.

When day's work is done, the actors are loaded into a Marine truck and returned to their tents. For entertainment in the evening they can sit on the side of a hill and watch a motion picture, possibly one of their own. If they prefer a dry tent to dodging intermittent tropical showers at an open air movie, they can write letters home, play cards or polish off a few cans of beer.

Reveille is at 530 a.m. with the thespians making their own bunks before they stand in the long chow line for breakfast. A couple of touch Marine sergeants are available to drill them in marching and gunnery when they are not actually before the cameras.

In the evenings Walsh maps out his film battle plans for the next day. The director is a skilled hand at this sort of thing. As a youngster his first film experience was riding with Pancho Villa and his revolutionists while photographing their battles and pillage for "The Life of Villa." One of the great war pictures of all time, "What Price Glory?", was directed by Walsh and more recently "Fighter Squadron," "Captain Horatio Hornblower," and "Distant Drums."

Walsh conducts himself like a real Marine general as he works out every detail of the next day's filming with Colonel Henry Crow, technical advisor and one of the Marine Corps' most decorated heroes; assistant director Russ Saunders, a a former All - American football player; and powder experts Fred Ponedel and Ralph Webb. The film invasion is as precisely timed and as carefully thought out in every respect as an actual landing.

THE HOME SHIFT—

Soil Over Leaves Will Hide Mulch

Looking through an interesting old book last week, I read that it was an old pagan custom to regard the rabbit as the emblem of fertility, new life, and that the Easter rabbit leaves colored eggs for good children after they have gone to sleep. The use of colored eggs for Easter comes from the ancient Persians who regarded eggs as symbolic of rebirth, the eggs colored red to denote the force of life, and presented to each other at spring festivals. Eggs were first colored with dye about 74 years ago by a New Jersey druggist. On this Easter morning we feel the spirit of "Love thy Neighbor." A happy day to each of you!!

SILVER TEA AND TOUR

The St. Frances Auxiliary will sponsor a silver tea and tour on Tuesday, April 20 from two until five o'clock. The purpose of this is to buy an incubator for babies for the hospital. Mother Gertrude will tell you all about this on KNOE - TV tomorrow at 3:00 o'clock. Our friends from surrounding towns will be interested in joining us on this tour. You'll see some of Monroe's beautiful old and new homes and gardens that you've read about for years. You'll first visit the Layton Castle, 1133 South Grand, an early American home. The original Audubon paintings and antiques will hold you spellbound. From here you'll go on down to 1400 South Grand to the dignified English manor type home of the Sig Masurs, with the personal touches of its charming owner. Now, cross to the north side of town to the O'Kelley home, 123 North Sixth. This is the pure colonial type home and garden with all the traditional antiques and superstitions. The Spanish home of the Henry Guerriero's, 504 Speed Drive is lovely and the beautifully landscaped garden is something you'll remember for a long time.

You're invited to visit Mrs. Kent Womack's iris garden, 1111 South First Street. She tells me there are over a hundred named varieties here. Also, the G. B. Folds garden of iris, 2607 Swiss Street, West Monroe. This is in McGuire Addition. Mr. Folds says he has over 150 varieties with over 2000 blooms at present.

We've already had some spring drouths. If you haven't mulched your plants, do this at once. Leaves or straw a foot deep over the soil as far as two or three feet out from the trunks of your plants will save you many headaches. Especially around newly planted trees and shrubs. Mr. Hunt reminds us that the leaves do not have to be decayed to hold moisture in the soil, keep the sun from baking the ground and the water from evaporating. Maybe you say you don't like the looks of this mulch—well—just put a little soil over the leaves. Remember when we had the soil in our beds worked every week or after every rain? Well—that went out of style along with the very long skirts. Freshly worked soil like that is left for the rains to wash away and the sun to burn.

BUGS!!

The pesky things are really out in droves to try to destroy everything we have. If you have aphids (plant lice) spray with a nicotine mixture. Mix according to instructions on the bottle and spray when the temperature is 70 degrees or more.

If you find leaves or blossoms that have been chewed, use 5 per cent DDT, either in solution, or as a dust. For red spider, scale and white fly, use oil emulsion. These three usually attack our broadleaf evergreens. Wash the plant well with hose about two days after spraying with this. The white fly leaves a sooty looking mass on the leaves. To find the red spider, rub your finger over the back of a leaf. If you see a red streak, you have that pest.

For ants, use chlordane, and for the diseases such as mildew and leaf spot, use sulphur. Don't be fooled. You can't destroy any of these by just spraying the top of the leaves. Get all up and down the stems and under the leaves. The thieves do most of their dirty work under cover.

Plant your hibiscus and caladiums, now. The danger of cold should be over, but of course I'm no weather prophet.

BIRDS

No garden is complete without the birds. We have so many here in Ouachita Parish. Let's teach our children to know and love them. These feathered friends are lots of company and no little boy kills something he loves. Mrs. Evans says, "Teach your children to hunt for sport and within the law, but not to kill for the love of killing."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

I'll be be on vacation (left over from last year) all this next week-but the TV show on Tuesday over KNOE - TV will go on. Mr. Joyce and an able assistant will show you how to graft. Don't forget to tune in at 2:30.

See you next Sunday.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Duties Of Officers Outlined

The Federated Garden Clubs of the Fifth District were represented by thirty-seven officers and program chairmen at a meeting held in the Garden Center this week. For the occasion Mrs. James H. Hall made a lovely mass arrangement of purple bi-color iris in a low red-violet bowl. Miss Juanita Porter arranged Editor McFarland roses in a crystal container.

The speaker's table was graced by a beautiful horizontal arrangement of pink radiance roses in a low crystal bowl arranged by Mrs. John Lewis. Garden books and pottery were also on display. Mrs. E. B. Knotts, district director presided at the meeting. Mrs. Knotts gave an inspiring talk on the duties of officers and garden club members and the program objectives of the National Council of Garden Clubs. A stimulating discussion followed with all officers commenting on the problems and pleasures of garden club work. Mrs. Rupert Scott, Wisner Garden Club gave a most interesting resume of a lecture heard at the Garden Symposium in Williamsburg, Va. The subject was "What America Expects of Its Garden Clubs" by Mr. George S. Avery, director of the Brooklyn Botanical Garden.

After the business meeting the group adjourned to the Bayou DeSiard Country Club for luncheon. Those attending are as follows: Bastrop, Mrs. W. A. Kunze, Mrs. B. Givens, Delhi, Mrs. S. E. Windham, Mrs. L. P. Craighead, Mrs. A. L. Barnes, Mrs. C. E. Sinclair, Mrs. B. Skidmore, Mrs. C. E. Rundell. Jonesville, Miss Emily Coney, Mrs. R. A. Taliaferro, Mrs. R. B. Fritz, Mrs. Lee Arnaud. Lake Providence, Mrs. C. R. Brown, Mrs. H. T. VanFossen, Newellton, Mrs. E. S. Blanche, Jr. Mrs. E. A. Poe. Ruston, Mrs. Stewart Hunt. Tallulah, Mrs. John Devine, Mrs. J. W. Huckabay. Winnsboro, Mrs. C. R. Adams, Jr., Mrs. W. O. Gwin, Mrs. C. R. Adams, Sr., Mrs. B. T. Lanier, Mrs. Billy Duplissey, Mrs. B. I. Berry, Mrs. Rudolph McIntyre. Wisner, Mrs. E. B. Knotts, Mrs. A. J. Ensminger, Mrs. R. R. Scott. Monroe Garden Club, Mrs. V. H. Rivers, Mrs. C. E. McKenzie. Welcome Garden Club, Mrs. W. E. Young, Mrs. D. B. Gee. College Heights Garden Club, Mrs. J. M. Gilstrap, Mrs. E. L. Harrison.

This week our florists (the flower arranger's best friend) complimented the garden center by sending beautiful Easter time arrangements. These have been greatly admired by all the local and out-of-town gardeners who visited this week, and also by the two very fine lecturers we were so fortunate to have in our midst, Mrs. David G. MacMillan of Shreveport and Mrs. W. E. Talbert of Fort Worth, Tex.

Never have the iris been so beautiful as this year. Be sure to visit the gardens of the fine iris growers we have in our locality and make your selections for next year. Don't forget the "Holiday in Dixie," Shreveport, April 28th through May 2nd. Happy Easter and Happy Gardening to all.

Treat Soil Early To Destroy Grubs

With next summer's lawn troubles in mind, early spring treatments are advised to control any grubs now hibernating in the soil. Some experts suggest getting the grubs when they wake up and start feeding on the grass roots.

Japanese beetle grubs of the common May or June beetle may cause severe injury to lawns, he said. Grubs feed about an inch below the surface of the soil, cutting off roots, and, in severe infestations, actually rolling back the turf. In addition, moles prize grubs as food, and the activity of moles can ruin a fine lawn.

Dieldrin or chlordane usually kills grubs within three to four weeks if rains wash it into the soil, according to experts. Chlordane should be applied at the rate of one pound of 40 to 50 per cent strength to each 1000 square feet of area.

Six ounces of dieldrin is the correct quantity for a similar area. Either of these will control grubs for at least three years because of residual action. They may be applied as powder or mixed with fertilizer.

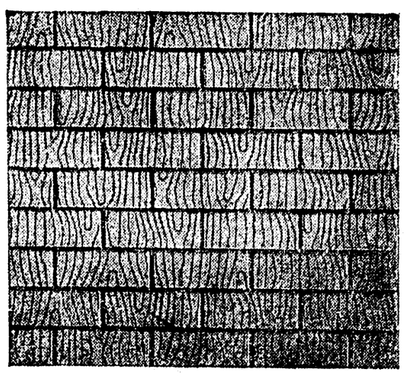

The chemical has a better chance to seep down into the soil if the lawn is cut and raked before treatment.

A GIRL MATADOR! AN AMERICAN... OF ALL THINGS! WHAT ARE WE COMING TO?

DOMINGO PLAZA DE TOROS SENORITA LUCILLE SWEENEY

THE DAY COMES WHEN LUCILLE IS TO MAKE HER DEBUT AS A BULLFIGHTER.

THE NEWS TRAVELS FAR AND WIDE.

IT JUST OCCURRED TO ME, JOE. ISN'T THIS BULLFIGHTING GAL, LUCILLE SWEENEY, THE SAME BABE WHO USED TO PLAY FOOTBALL FOR SOME JERKWATER COLLEGE?

BY GEORGE, YES! HEY... THAT'S A STORY!

FROM MEXICO CITY AND THE U.S. COME PLANES LOADED WITH NEWS CAMERAMEN AND REPORTERS.

A GIRL TORERO... FAH!

AH, WELL! LET US HOPE SHE IS ONE TENTH AS GOOD AS THEY SAY SHE IS.

JUST LIKE A FOOTBALL GAME.

SENORITA CHIQUITA!

EE-YAH!

LUCILLE IS AMAZED AT THE EXCITEMENT.

OUT RUSHES THE BULL, WILD, FEROCIOUS.

AT THE FIRST GLIMPSE OF LUCILLE, HE SNORTS, CHARGES.

SHE DOESN'T MOVE FROM HER TRACKS, BUT LEADS THE HORNS PAST HER BODY WITH THE CAPE.

¡OLE! ¡MUY COMPUESTO!

SHE WORKS CLOSE TO THE HORNS, THAT GIRL.

ANOTHER CHARGE, AND AGAIN THE HORNS MISS HER BODY BY INCHES.

¡OLE! LOOK! LOOK!

SHE HAS COURAGE, THAT GIRL.

AND THE SKILL OF A VETERAN.

IS IT TRUE SHE IS BUT A NOVICE?

THE CROWD GOES WILD.

SURE! I NOT SAY SHE WOULD BE SENSATIONAL?

LET US WAIT AND SEE, AMIGO. THE FIGHT IS NOT YET OVER.

Reader's Digest Reports:

"What About Anti-Enzyme Toothpastes?"
December, 1953

1. Reader's Digest says—The most effective anti-enzyme toothpaste ingredient tested was developed in the Colgate laboratories.
(It's Colgate's miracle ingredient Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate)—found in no other leading toothpaste!)

2. Reader's Digest says—One of the foremost dental authorities in the world proved that this ingredient binds itself effectively to the teeth—holds acid formation below the decay level in 95 per cent of cases tested.
(Unlike ordinary toothpaste ingredients, effective only for minutes, this protection won't rinse off—won't wear off—all day or all night!)

3. Reader's Digest says—Even 12 hours after brushing, this new Colgate anti-enzyme discovery continues to guard against the enzymes that cause tooth decay.
(Thus, regular morning and night use guards against decay-causing enzymes every minute of the day and night!)

4. Reader's Digest says—In full-year clinical tests, supervised by leading dental authorities—4 out of 5 of the people who used New Colgate's with Gardol developed no new cavities at all!
(Distinguished dentists examined this evidence and agreed—New Colgate's with Gardol gives the surest protection against decay ever offered by any toothpaste!)

5. Reader's Digest says—New Colgate Dental Cream is the only toothpaste with clinical proof of its effectiveness in actually reducing the formation of new cavities.

ONLY NEW COLGATE DENTAL CREAM with Miracle Anti-Enzyme Ingredient GARDOL*
HAS THE CLINICAL PROOF!
(Proof that Brings New Hope to Millions for LIFETIME PROTECTION AGAINST TOOTH DECAY)

5 QUICK FACTS FROM THE READER'S DIGEST ARTICLE

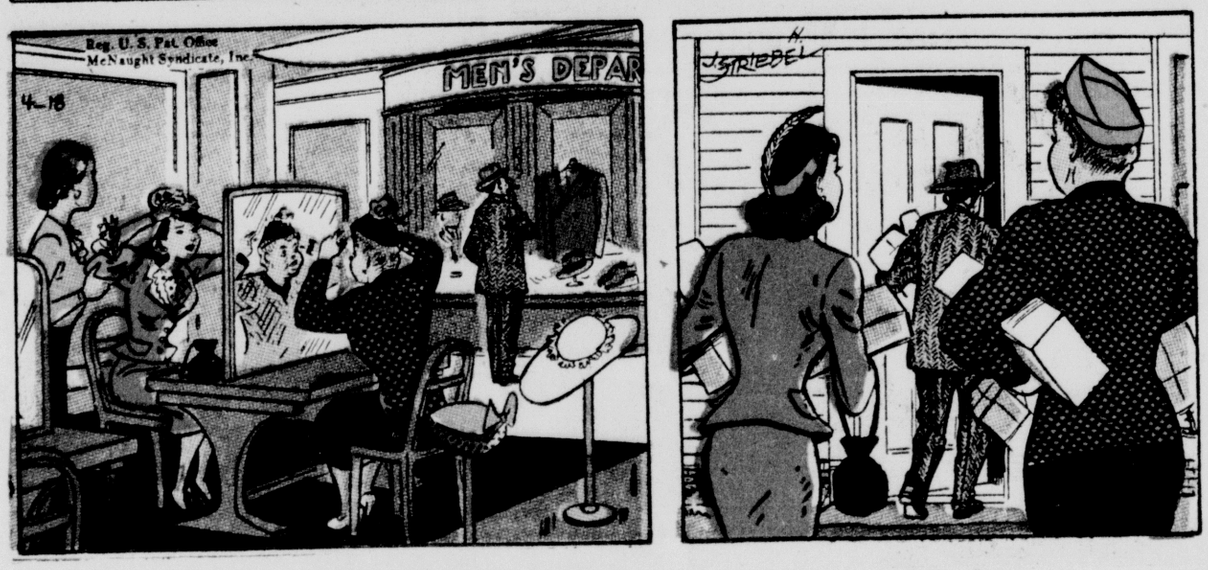

NOW! NEW COLGATE DENTAL CREAM CONTAINS GARDOL (*SODIUM N-LAUROYL SARCOSINATE)

Tales From the Great Book

THE SAGA OF SAMSON

by John Lehti

ROGUISH SAMSON GAVE HIS PHILISTINE WEDDING GUESTS A RIDDLE....IF SOLVED IN SEVEN DAYS, EACH WOULD GET A RICH GARMENT. ANXIOUS TO BELITTLE SAMSON, THEY THREATEN HIS WIFE WITH DEATH UNLESS SHE REVEALS THE ANSWER. WHEN ALL FINALLY GIVE THE CORRECT SOLUTION, SAMSON REALIZES HIS WIFE HAS BETRAYED HIM....

WITH BURNING VENGEANCE IN HIS HEART, SAMSON STALKS FROM THE WEDDING FEAST TO....

....COLLECT GARMENTS FROM ENEMY PHILISTINES WITH WHICH TO PAY THE WAGER TO MEMBERS OF THE VERY SAME TRIBE!

BEFORE THE FIRST VICTIM CAN UTTER A PROTEST THE DEED IS DONE, FOR SAMSON HAS NO TIME TO WASTE IF....

....HE IS TO COLLECT THIRTY GARMENTS IN A FEW SHORT HOURS WITHOUT STIRRING UP THE ENTIRE TOWN!

EACH PHILISTINE ENCOUNTERED SEEMS PARALYZED BY THE AWESOME SIGHT OF THIS RED-HAIRED, RAGING DEMON!

IF HIS "COLLECTION" OF THE ROBES WAS ROUGH—NO LESS SO, IS HIS DELIVERY OF THE SAME!

Publishers Syndicate

THERE IS A HUGE SIGH OF RELIEF WHEN THIS FIERY BEHEMOTH STORMS OUT OF THE BUILDING—BUT THE SIGH IS TOO SOON, FOR SAMSON THE PRACTICAL JOKER HAS....

...CONJURED ANOTHER LAUGH AT THEIR EXPENSE....THEY EMERGE IN THEIR NEWLY-WON GARMENTS ONLY TO RUN INTO AN IRATE MOB SEARCHING FOR THE STOLEN GARB!

SAMSON IS NOT PRESENT TO ENJOY THIS SCENE. BACK IN THE HILLS, HE BROODS OVER THE BETRAYAL BY HIS WIFE...HOWEVER, THE FIRST STEP IS MADE IN HIS DIVINELY ORDAINED DESTINY.....TO BEGIN THE UTTER DESTRUCTION OF THE PHILISTINES!

NOW, IN THIS QUIET PLACE, HIDDEN FROM HIS ENEMIES, HE HAS A CHANCE ... ONE IN A MILLION, BUT STILL A CHANCE!

BUT HERE, IN A ROADSIDE CABIN? THOUSANDS O' FOLKS ALL AROUND ... ALL NOSY ... WON'T THEY FIND HIM HERE, SURE?

ONE HIDES BEST IN A PUBLIC PLACE, MY CHILD ...

Tales from the Great Book

THE SAGA OF SAMSON

by John Lehti

ROGUISH SAMSON GAVE HIS PHILISTINE WEDDING GUESTS A RIDDLE....IF SOLVED IN SEVEN DAYS, EACH WOULD GET A RICH GARMENT. ANXIOUS TO BELITTLE SAMSON, THEY THREATEN HIS WIFE WITH DEATH UNLESS SHE REVEALS THE ANSWER. WHEN ALL FINALLY GIVE THE CORRECT SOLUTION, SAMSON REALIZES HIS WIFE HAS BETRAYED HIM....

WITH BURNING VENGEANCE IN HIS HEART, SAMSON STALKS FROM THE WEDDING FEAST TO....

....COLLECT GARMENTS FROM ENEMY PHILISTINES WITH WHICH TO PAY THE WAGER TO MEMBERS OF THE VERY SAME TRIBE!

BEFORE THE FIRST VICTIM CAN UTTER A PROTEST THE DEED IS DONE, FOR SAMSON HAS NO TIME TO WASTE IF....

....HE IS TO COLLECT THIRTY GARMENTS IN A FEW SHORT HOURS WITHOUT STIRRING UP THE ENTIRE TOWN!

EACH PHILISTINE ENCOUNTERED SEEMS PARALYZED BY THE AWESOME SIGHT OF THIS RED-HAIRED, RAGING DEMON!

THERE IS A HUGE SIGH OF RELIEF WHEN THIS FIERY BEHEMOTH STORMS OUT OF THE BUILDING—BUT THE SIGH IS TOO SOON, FOR SAMSON THE PRACTICAL JOKER HAS....

...CONJURED ANOTHER LAUGH AT THEIR EXPENSE....THEY EMERGE IN THEIR NEWLY-WON GARMENTS ONLY TO RUN INTO AN IRATE MOB SEARCHING FOR THE STOLEN GARB!

SAMSON IS NOT PRESENT TO ENJOY THIS SCENE, BACK IN THE HILLS, HE BROODS OVER THE BETRAYAL BY HIS WIFE...HOWEVER, THE FIRST STEP IS MADE IN HIS DIVINELY ORDAINED DESTINY.....TO BEGIN THE UTTER DESTRUCTION OF THE PHILISTINES!

HALP! HALP! SAVE ME!

WELL, DON'T STAND THERE LIKE A LOT OF NINNIES, MEN. SAVE TH' CHILD!

PUT UP THE NET, BOYS!

THANKS.

GEE! THAT'S SWELL!

THANKS.

TH' GUY UP IN TH' WINDOW SAYS THERE AIN'T ANY FIRE.

LET'S GO, BOYS. THAT KID'S JEST SHOWING HIMSELF A GOOD TIME.

GO ON. IT WON'T HURT YA, MOON. IT'S A LOTTA FUN.

HEY! CUT THAT OUT!

OW! THAT HURT.

THAT'S FUNNY. IT DIDN'T HURT ME. TELL 'EM TO COME BACK AND TRY IT AGAIN.

SMILIN' JACK

VIBORA, I DON'T GET THIS CRAZY DEAL!

YOU SAY THE WABI-WABIES HAVE CITY CONTACT MEN WHO STEAL BLONDES FOR THEM?

THEN TH' WABIES SELL THEM TO HEAD-HUNTERS WHO WORSHIP BLONDE HEADS AS GOLD GODDESSES?

SI, SEÑOR, AND THAT WILL BE ZE FATE OF YOUR BLONDE WIFE IF WE DO NOT HURRY!

ZE JUNGLE GRAPEVINE TOLD US ZAT ZE WABIES HAVE NOT YET REACHED ZE LOST CITY!

WE CAN FLY THERE IN MY AMPHIBIAN BEFORE ZEY ARRIVE!

SINCE I AM FRIENDLY WITH ZE WABIES, I CAN BUY YOUR WIFE BEFORE HEAD-HUNTERS BUY HER!

WABIES DEAL ONLY IN GOLD··· BUT I HAVE ENOUGH GOLD HERE!

BUT YOU ASKED ME $50,000 TO SWING THIS DEAL···AND I HAVEN'T GOT IT!

SEÑOR, PLEASE! EVERYONE KNOWS OF JACK MARTIN'S VAST WEALTH. YOUR SIGNATURE IS GOOD AS GOLD!

IT'S NEW! IT'S BLUE! IT's cheer!

The only suds with BLUE-MAGIC WHITENER!

washes clothes so clean, so white YOU DON'T NEED BLUING or BLEACH

First and only washday detergent of its kind!

Exclusive! New blue CHEER—and CHEER alone—has this exciting new Blue-Magic whitener . . . a scientific discovery that whitens and brightens in the newest, most modern way!

And it's safe for even the most delicate washable colors in your family wash!

No need to blue! New CHEER—all by itself—washes whites so white, so bright, you'll never need bluing again!

No need to bleach! Yes, except when you have problem stains, you don't even need to bleach!

See for yourself! CHEER's magic blue granules make instant white suds—peppy suds that "unfasten" even greasy grime and give you sparkling clean, white washes . . . with no need for bluing or bleach.

WORKS LIKE BLUE MAGIC FOR DISHES, TOO!

Watch dishes "do themselves" in CHEER's instant, pure-white suds —watch 'em dry "twinkle-clean" . . . without wiping. And CHEER is lovingly gentle on your hands!

Great for both automatic and conventional washers
